

3-3-04. Dear Michael: Thank you for your informative letter of FEB 27th! I hope you receive this monster mailing without problems. Oh, in my last letter I failed to mention Strickland. I do not know him. I have very few acquaintances in this part of North America, where I moved in 1993 from Louisville, KY, my first location upon my return to the U.S.A. in 1992. I had previously worked out of Toronto, Canada, where I performed my usual work of research writing for various victims of Zion who were accused of thought-crimes and war crimes. Our side won a few and lost a few. Approximately one third of my clients were deported without being tried on the Zionist accusations in Soviet Canuckistan. One of them, Helmut Rauca, was deported to Zionist Occupied Germany where he was murdered in prison, before going to trial.

I'm glad you got the portions of "The Journey of Man", with its incomplete data on the Irish & NW Europeans. Colin Renfrew's research revealed that the first signs of civilization in terms of major construction of tombs, religious/astronomical observatories of the Stonehenge type, metal-working, textiles, weapons and other useful artifacts occurred in NW Europe and greatly predated such items in the Middle East and Egypt. In other words, The Cradle of Civilization was in the area of my ancestors and not the Tigris-Euphrates region. Whites moved into the east from the Atlantic, and SE into The Middle East, according to this chronology, and the Kelts moved all the way into China, as the thousands of Tokharian mummies prove in NW China. These mummies do not appear to be mixed White/Yellow Eurasians, at least not the ones I have seen in pictures, unlike Kennewick Man who has definite Eurasian (mestizo) features, such as slightly slanted eyes, like the Ainu of Japan. In other words, Whites did not come from the Middle East. They went there from NW Europe, just as the ancient White Greeks came from the north and built their temples of marble to resemble those they had previously constructed of wood, complete with decorative carved pegs. It would be astonishing if the NW Europeans had originally spoken Semitic languages such as Hebrew and Aramaic, and then suddenly adopted Indo-European languages en masse, just as it would be for them to abandon 'their' Semitic language and religion to the inhabitants of The Middle East. If we can take "The Journey of Man" as factual, the migration of the distinctive Y chromosome carriers from Africa into the Middle East occurred 50,000 years ago, but there was no Y chromosome connection between that population and the Whites of NW Europe, including Ireland. Would that mean that the "original" White inhabitants of The Middle East fled the Semitic advance 50,000 years ago, taking their genetic heritage intact and distinct from the Semite invaders, as they moved northwest? That seems less likely than to assume that the Whites had been in NW Europe at least 50,000 years ago. The glaring omission in "The Journey of Man" is in the omission of the Whites' place of origin, if not from Africa. As we know, most history of our origins may never be written. The Chinese are most reluctant to allow researchers into NW China for further studies of the Tokharian mummies and their great civilization. I read an archeological report in the Saudi Aramco Magazine which revealed that the Tokharians were making "Damascus" steel in a major trading city in present-day Turkmenistan for making fine swords and knives. Their steelworks date back to several thousand B.C., as I recall. Unfortunately, I gave the article away by mistake. Tokharian is a dead Indo-European language, not a Semitic language, so it is indeed a stretch to deem these Whites to be "Israelites", if the creation of Israel is as recent as biblical mythology, which resided in the hands of the mongrel jews long before Whites had it "translated" into their Indo-European languages. As you may know, the King James version was translated by Bacon, an alchemist*

History, which is mainly unknown, may well have been cyclical. Michael Hansen of the NSWRP cites sources which claim that "atomic glass" has been found in some parts of North Africa and the Middle East, which could only result from nuclear explosions. That would mean that nuclear weapons had been used long before our present recorded history, which is breath-taking if true.

*and King James was a notorious pervert, according to historians I've read. These were the dubious characters who "authorized" their version, possibly assisted by "honest" rabbis who also "helped" in the "translation" of the Gutenberg Bible. Apparently, Christians changed the order of biblical passages from the original Judaic version on behalf of "prophecy". As I read years ago, the "oldest" biblical texts were written around 300 A.D., although The Dead Sea Scrolls may be older, which is why the jews keep them locked up, to avoid embarrassment.

I don't have my library of clay tablets (HA!) of Solon, whose palace was discovered near the city of Tyre, in Lebanon, but your mention of Hebrew lettering resembling runes brought to mind the cuneiform script I have seen on those ancient clay tablets, which was not Hebrew, but did resemble runic script. The examples of Hebrew script in my Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary do not resemble runes at all, for the Hebrew script has all sorts of varying widths and forms uncommon to runes, which are simple and linear. Naturally, there is a common resemblance between the Hebrew & Arab alphabets. Oriental calligraphy is traditionally done with a brush, which results in curving forms of varying widths. Quill pens also provide similar versatility in writing, but not so with knives or styluses used to mark clay tablets. It would take great skill to carve Hebrew, Arabic or Chinese characters in stone with hammer & chisel, I would think. According to "The Journey of Man", the ancient Phoenicians would have been African Y chromosome-carriers, so that means the Phoenicians could not be the ancestors of NW Whites, either. As we know, trade over vast distances has existed from prehistoric times. An ancient Egyptian mummy was discovered to have traces of tobacco and cocaine, which were only available from the Western Hemisphere! This finding was not "P.C.", so it was consigned to The Memory Hole. There are also ancient copper workings in north central U.S.A., and the copper was formed into "hides" which were items of commerce in the ancient Mediterranean. There are also accounts of traders resembling ancient Phoenicians amongst the Mayans. As for the appearance of the Ten Commandments on the boulder near Albuquerque, NM, that could have been a confirmation that lots of marranos (crypto jews) did accompany the early explorers and colonizers of Spain and Portugal into the New World. The Bush family reportedly did much to assist such Mexicans "return to their jewish roots", as the Bushes are also said to be jews themselves. As in Britain, the embrace of the "Israelites" as you call Whites and the kikes is very tight indeed, and I find it extremely hard to tell the difference between the two, if any, since both use the same scriptures and both claim to worship the same god. Many marranos practice jewish customs without knowing their religious meaning, such as placing a stone on the grave of a relative when they visit the cemetery, or not mixing meat & milk products. Many aspects of Cabalism, which has an oral tradition, and a partially written tradition in The Babylonian Talmud resemble Voodoo to a great extent, for the Semitic religions have many roots in Africa, south of Egypt and Ethiopia, where I am told The Ark of the Covenant resides. I know Black preachers who claim that they are "the true Israelites", and that King Solomon (who may be fictional) had negro hair, as described in the King James version. DNA reveals a common genetic heritage between modern jews and the Black Lemba tribe who originated in Yemen, and who now dwell in South Africa, so the tale of the Queen of Sheba may be the tip of a Black biblical iceberg, especially if the Semites originated in sub-Saharan (Black) Africa 50,000 years ago, as "The Journey of Man" alleges. As for Israelites being "mongrelized" in Babylon, by whom would these ex-Africans be mongrelized? The Babylonians would have been the same stock as the Israelites, albeit of a different Semitic religion. None of them have the characteristic Y chromosome marker common to NW Europeans, but not to the Afro-Semites of The Middle East, Central Asia, India, America and Australia. This indicates that White Isrealites would be most unlikely.

Re the scanner: My late friend, Robert Frens, is the only person I know who had a scanner, but I shall make enquiries. As you may know, my network of correspondents is worldwide, so it would be quite difficult to send a 40-page document to New Zealand or South Africa. I would be able to photocopy it here and send copies to the two groups you mention, using your return address, via snailmail and registered, as we used to do back in the "stone age, B.C." (Before Computers). Anyway, I shall make enquiries.

Indeed, the Freemasons are "the mafia of the mediocre", and they behave just like the human race-traitors depicted in "They Live". I could foresee an anti-Zionist Alliance organized along the lines of those L.A. church-goers in that movie, utilizing members of all races and mixtures thereof. These times may arrive sooner than we expect, as Zionist abuses become much worse.

The Freemasons' organization is similar to that of the Hashishim or Assassins, but it is apt to visualize a cone, rather than a pyramidal hierarchy. The lower, most numerous circle, is told little about the higher ups, and most of that is disinformation. At each rise up the hierarchy, the same symbols take on new meanings, and so on, to the very top. The 33° is 'honorary', in that it can be conferred, but not earned as a matter of right. Satanist Alastair Crowley and FDR were both 33° Freemasons. Those who believe in "a supreme being" can be Freemasons, but since Buddhists do not believe in such, nor do atheists, they should be excluded.

Freemasonry is an unwholesome, criminal hypocrisy, in addition to being a Zionist political conspiracy, so what more can be said? The fact that the U.S.A. (Under Satan's Administration) was founded by Freemasons reveals "He Approves Our Work" (Annuit Coeptis) toward the jew world ordure (Novus Ordo Seclorum). As the cabalists say, "All things must be made manifest." My relative, Charles Thomson, drew up The Great Seal of The United States. He attended the signing of The Declaration of Independence (sic) as Secretary on July 4th, 1776, and he was a Freemason.

If jews, i.e. kikes, are of the House of David, as they proclaim themselves to be, then Benjamin Disraeli, Gladstone (Gluckstein), "Karl Marx" and Queen Elizabeth II are also from the same House of David (Rockefeller and/or Rothschild). I boggle at all the euphemisms, such as "Judahite". These people did come from Germany, but they were of jewish ancestry, and not true Germans. They even changed their German names from Hannover to Windsor and from Battenberg to Mountbatten to better wage war on Germany. Kikes remain kikes, regardless of the labels they adopt to gull the Goyim.

Your count of Jesus' returns agrees with mine. As you rightly say, how many times must he "return" to solve our self-created problems for us? I agree with your brilliant analysis that we are being lulled by the kikes to await some miraculous deliverance from a returning Jesus instead of doing our duty which is why we were put here on earth in the first place. The "Christian Zionists" go out of their way to serve the jews, who will supposedly be 'converted' when Jesus returns, even though they acknowledge that Jesus is always here in spirit. Talk about cognitive dissonance! I also call it hypocrisy. I agree with your goals of statecraft, for that's the basic essentials of life and racial survival, which Whites practice in reverse, because of their perpetual jew-daze. Again, the message of "They Live" is valid, and The Protocols' recipe for cooking our collective goose is being followed in theme and variation. Meanwhile, the jewsmedia tell us to "obey, consume, sleep." As I type these lines in my bat-cave, I realize that I do so, not because victory is guaranteed, but because I deem it right, regardless of consequences. Few rich men can enjoy such luxury as I do.

I thoroughly agree that reason must rule over emotion, for survival's sake, if nothing else. Reason is the male domain, and it involves making hard decisions. Been there. Done that. Nor have I ever regretted my decisions, as long as I deemed them reasonable and honorable.

Alas! When I had copies of "The Lightning & the Sun" by Savitri Devi, no one wanted them. Now I have none, otherwise I could send you an unbound photocopy. I shall again make enquiries. I shall also see if I can find a fan of Julius Evola. Robert Frens had various works by Rodin's secretary, Ludovici, such as "Man's Descent From the Gods", but I lack a computer for downloading from the FAEm website.

I agree that the "Aztlán" download may be a very good bit of "black propaganda" which purports to come from one source, but really comes from another. Dr. Oliver, who was a classic scholar, and who could read & write Sanskrit, Greek, Latin and various modern languages, noted that St.(sic) Paul's epistle to the Galatians (milksoys) was an outstanding example of black propaganda purporting to come from "Christians", but more likely coming from an educated Greek who satirized Christian beliefs in much better Greek than that used by the Christians themselves. The Christians were somehow duped into including this brilliant satire in their New Testament, which is a sad reflection on their lack of intelligence then and now.

I agree that "Identity" bugs the hebes into rabid heebie-jeebies, for who are "Goyim" to muscle in on their racket? If you remember Bush #1, who kow-towed to the Lubavitcher kikes in his praise of The Noahide Laws, much of the ZOG's ire and fire is directed at such groups as Jews for Jesus and the cults who deem themselves to be the "true jews", like the Branch Davidians of Koresh (Hebrew for Cyrus, a Gentile Christ (king) whom the jews of Babylon elected in gratitude for services rendered. The Boers also deemed themselves "True Israelites", but that did not save them from the old jew-screw. As I say, send me the 40-page suit & I'll make copies to send those you designated. All the best. DOWZ! & ORION!

P.S.: I'll send you more material under separate cover to make sure you receive this letter.
