

12 FEB 05. Hail Jason! Thanks for your letter of FEB 8th. Sorry to read about your lock-down. Thanks for offering to send me your copy of Mein Kampf. I appreciate it, since I don't have my own copy. I've read it through twice, so I remember quite a bit of it.

The word, Asatru, sounds as if it meant "true to the Asa", which in German would be "Asen", the 3 goddesses which can be seen in pre-Christian farmsteads. These 3 goddesses' statues were believed to insure good crops, when they were honored during the Spring Solstice festivals. A German corrected me when I said "Hasen", which would be "bunnies". He said it was "Asen", & he explained who they are. Where did I find out about the jew rune-seller? At a local bookstore in Yakima. The proprietor showed me the set, which included the jew's description of runes & rune-casting in a little book which accompanied a bag of runes for casting. I said I wouldn't want to touch them. I don't know the price of the jew rune kit. That was several years ago. Jews also sell Nazi regalia, made in Israel. I agree that one's gods are emanations of a racial soul, & if they exist independently of their people, then their people can 'tune in' on them. Thus, Blacks would attract their gods, jews theirs & Whites theirs.

I did not find any landmines. If I had, I would not be able to write to you, for Land-rovers do not survive landmines when they go off underneath, nor does the driver fare very well, either. Nevertheless, this was our most efficient way of checking that the dirt airstrips were free of mines. The Black terrorists were laying them in Rhodesia (now Zimbabwe), & the mestizo bandidos were laying them in Colombia. Had I taken the first bus instead of the second one morning, I would not be around, either, for the first bus ran over a mine & was blown off the mountain road, & plunged into an Andean gorge, leaving no survivors. In Rhodesia, foreigners were periodically called up for military service 3 months out of every year. My first call up was in 1976. Wherever I was stationed, there were dirt airstrips which had to be checked for mines every morning, so I was just lucky. I was never charged by a rhino, but those were our instructions for dealing with a charging rhino. I was charged by an elephant, however, & we were lucky our driver did not stall the car engine during our getaway. The elephant was solitary, walking along the side of the road, so we stopped & took a picture. That made him mad, & he started coming toward us with his trunk lowered & his ears flapping. If he'd caught us, the little car would not have survived, either. The reason I was living in Africa was that I had been deported from the U.S.A., after the theft of my doctoral dissertation on Peru by ZOG-thugs at L.A. International Airport in 1969. The USA*USSR told me to leave Latin America, so I wound up trying to find work in Europe, with no success, but I was offered a job in Rhodesia, which was fighting Communist guerrillas & was under a United Nations blockade. The only countries which recognized us were South Africa & the Portuguese Empire, which collapsed around 1972. Our major (illegal) trading partners were Red China & the USSR. China bought our tobacco & the Soviet Union bought our chromium, to sell to the U.S.A. at very high prices. We also traded with Israel & Taiwan, as well as with South Africa. Our prime minister, Ian Smith, sold us out on Henry Kissinger's instructions, & handed the country over to Black Marxist Misrule, under the present dictator, Robert Mugabe. I left before the actual handover. By then, certain people in The District of Corruption had died &/or been discredited, so I could have returned to the U.S.A., but I had jobs outside the country which kept me busy until 1992, when I returned to work as a gardener at minimum wage. In other words, I've enjoyed a fairly quiet life.

In regard to your question about jew control of banking & the media of information, entertainment & education, I recommend you find a copy of "The Powers that Be", by a 'mainstream' journalist, whose name I can't recall at the moment. I enclose a jewish writer's review of the banking system which I hope your authorities will allow you to receive. After all, if they were to deprive you of reading what a jew says about his fellow tribesmen, that would be "anti-Semitic". Ha!

Keep up your efforts to increase your knowledge & improve your skills, for you will need them & more on the outside. All the best. ORION!
