

16 FEB 05. Dear Mike: It was great to get your letter & enclosures of FEB 10th. Thanks for the list of corrections. That should pacify the readers. Ha! Compared to "Reich of the Black Sun" your work was typo-free. I do not understand why Farrell did not use a spell-checker, on behalf of his readers. Next, he'll want the readers to bind the books themselves. It was said of one young reporter that "he was the only journalist who used his typewriter to correct his proofread text." In other words, his 'corrections' were as bad as his draft.

Thanks for the spelling of Roosevelt, Rosenvelt. Germanic languages do have variations in spelling, even when the word means the same. "Van" is Dutch for "von" (of) in German I know Frau Rost van Tonningen personally. Sometimes her name is spelt with "von" instead of "van". "Rosenvelt" looks like a bastard combination of Dutch & German. It could be a dialect, also. "Tannenbaum" in German is "Tenboom" in Dutch, for example. In any case, the Roosevelts, like the Rockefellers, are hebes. In a biographical note, the writer describes John D.'s father as a "rabbi". That's about as kosher as it gets.

The jew, Boas, contributed to the current, premeditated, obfuscation of "nation" & "country". The U.S.A. is a country, not a nation, for its population consists of various nations, just as did the Soviet Union & other territorial empires. The original, correct meaning of "nation" was A PEOPLE, not a place. Rudolf Hess was born in Egypt. According to Boas, he'd be "an Egyptian", but his parents were German, & nobody ever accused him of being Egyptian in the Nuremberg show-trials! The U.S. regime deems jews to be a "nationality", regardless of their birthplace, so they got that one right! It was widely recognized that people could move from country to country without losing their nationality, regardless of their birthplace. If one's parents were German, Dutch &c. then one would be German, Dutch &c. regardless of his being born in Borneo. This is consistent with zoology: a giraffe is a member of African fauna, regardless of its birthplace. Thus, a giraffe born in the London Zoo would not be "English fauna", any more than a nigger born in a London hospital! Boas distorted anthropology by substituting a bogus definition for "nation", as being a location rather than biological status. Place is not race, nor is it "nation", which is a subdivision of race. Biology is not geology, nor geography; nor is biology subject to artificial lines drawn on maps to indicate political affiliations, especially nowadays! Wherever we live, we take our genes & our culture with us. That's why race-mixing is genocide, & that's why the jews love it: because they hate us!

I wouldn't worry about the "Axis" topic. After all, there was an "Anti-Comintern Pact" between Germany, Italy & Japan, as I recall, before Hitler abrogated it with the "Hitler-Stalin Pact". The key is that FDR used Japan as an excuse to attack Germany, officially, after he'd been attacking Germany unofficially.

Bush's bloopers do not bode well for America's immediate future, for if his speech indicates his thoughts, then he suffers from some cognitive dysfunction, as well as plain ignorance. I wondered about the report of his bumping his head on the floor while eating pretzels. They must have been powerful pretzels!

Obviously, the ZOG is building up for SOMETHING BIG, as the Civil War troops used to say. Today, jewsradio announced the warning from Rumsfeld & some CIA-nik that "terrorists" were preparing to attack the U.S.A. with "weapons of mass-destruction". This is in addition to the ZOG's swiftly-growing pressure on Iran & Syria. I wonder if the assassination of the Lebanese politician was a Mossad op, since the ZOG had most to gain from it, not Syria, which they swiftly accused.

Your horoscope reading for Dianne was right on target, as you say. We shall see if the prophecy re Bush comes to pass. It's too bad that Cheney doesn't go first, since he is the brains of the Bush regime. Many thanks for the quote from "The Light of Egypt"! It is indeed profound, with much to consider. I would add my own definition of "science" as a PREDICTIVE study. If we can predict natural phenomena from our basis of knowledge, then we can say that our science is not only real, but relevant. Another definition of science involves our ability to replicate phenomena. If I make a battery, according to natural laws, I should be able to cause a spark by touching its terminals together, until the battery must be recharged. This, as I understand, was the problem with "cold fusion", for the alleged outcome of the original experiment could not be replicated, according to the jewsmedia. It is interesting to consider matter as "spirit at rest", & creativity as the application of polar opposites. It sounds like some Thomsonian theory to me. Ha! I guess your apartment is really cold, but not yet Absolute Zero. I wish you could get some of our unseasonably warm weather as a contrast.

Thanks for the information on the use of alcohol as a fuel in the Third Reich!

Oh yes, Blondie still sounds like Blondie, after repeated playings; & many thanks. All the best. ORION!
