

20 FEB 05. Dear Rudy: Many thanks for your letter of 1 FEB & the great enclosures, in particular the Rogues' Gallery of rotten religious rascals with their Judeo-Satanic messages, supposedly based on the scriptures. As you write, there is little agreement on biblical interpretations, & "even the Devil can quote scripture", as has long been said. My understanding of this problem is that the same words are interpreted to mean different things by different people, who also extract from scriptures those passages which they seek to emphasize, while they ignore or play down other passages, as we now see with the injunctions against homosexuality, which are ignored in favor of the 'new god', Tolerance. I read with interest the "Wiffenpoof" song's lyrics about "the place where Louie dwells". Since the song is Freemasonic in origin, I suspect that "Louie" is Lucifer, as Albert Pike wrote, "that the brethren must maintain Freemasonic doctrine in its Luciferian purity."

The truth which you are belatedly groping for, I discovered when I was 17. Please let me know if you disagree with these propositions:

Yahweh is all-knowing & all powerful. He is the sole creator of the universe & everything & person in it. He made man in his own image & commanded him not to eat from the tree of knowledge of good & evil, but man was seduced via Eve who was seduced by Satan into breaking Yahweh's command. Then Yahweh produced Jesus, his only begotten son, as a sacrifice on behalf of mankind. In Matthew, Jesus commands his disciples to shun Gentiles, whom he describes as "dogs", for his message is only "for the lost sheep of the house of Israel."

There, that was easy, but let's see what happens when we read the whole Bible: Yahweh is also said to be "all good". The opposite of good is evil, I hope you agree, for I'm speaking not as a Jew, but as a White man. Yahweh & no one else, created Lucifer or Satan. Being all-knowing, Yahweh knew what Satan would do before he ever created him, for an all-knowing god must also know the future in every detail, beyond the atomic level. In really simple terms, let us imagine that I created a windup doll, with the ability to think, but "finitely", as you say. I know exactly what this doll will do on any given occasion, but the doll does not. I know, for example, even before I have created the doll, that he will go out one door, but not the other. The doll may think that he has "free will", & that he can choose to exit by any door he wishes, but I know different, because I know the future! So with Satan, so with man, does this necessary determinism apply; otherwise Yahweh is not all-knowing. Being the creator, with full knowledge of Satan's deeds, before Satan was created by all-powerful Yahweh, it becomes hard to distinguish "good" & "evil", for these words are opposites. If they come from the same source, Yahweh, then neither Satan nor Yahweh can be defined as "good" or as "evil". These words thus lose their meaning entirely, & so become Jew-babble, that is, nonsense. Since Yahweh created man in his own image, it can easily be construed that Man & Yahweh are both finite & fallible, so we must wonder just how 'perfect' Yahweh would be, if he made man in his own image. Although Yahweh is claimed to be "the one god", he is not alone in the universe which he supposedly created, all by himself, for by his own command, we should have no other god but him. Yet, Yahweh states that another god, Dagon, exists, who was supposedly created by Yahweh, if we are to believe our major premise that Yahweh created every thing & everyone in the universe. In Genesis, I hope you came across the passage about "the sons of God". This makes Yahweh out to be a liar, when preachers claim that Jesus was his only begotten son. However, according to Yahweh's alleged statement about Dagon, these "sons of God" may have been the sons of another god, & not Yahweh's. St. Paul disobeyed Jesus' command to shun Gentiles, just as some Jews broke Moses' 10 Commandments by worshipping the Golden Calf, so breaking commandments from Yahweh & Son occurred in Old & New Testaments.

As to "miracles", you have fallen into a trap. A miracle is defined as that which breaks a natural law. Since Yahweh created his own natural laws & man's mind is "finite", in order for us to know what is a miracle requires us to know all natural laws, on par with Yahweh, himself. As you know, technology which is quite common has been described as "miracles", such as the invention of the lightning rod which saves church buildings, when prayers fail, as usual. As to prayer, which our "finite" beings use to CHANGE Yahweh's all-knowing plan for the universe, that is nothing less than blasphemy, if you believe that Yahweh is all-knowing & therefore has his plan for the development of the universe, as he logically must, unless we wish to revert to nonsense. As man's knowledge of natural laws increases, the number of perceived "miracles" decreases. Since our knowledge of natural laws remains finite, we still cannot say that we have spotted a genuine miracle. Why would Yahweh want to break his own laws, anyway, just to gratify a finite being who does not know what is good for him? Such behavior would reveal a less-than-perfect god. Thanks for giving me this trip down Memory Lane, when I debated these topics as a college freshman. I am at peace with the universe & I am also comfortable with my place in it, but you & Yahweh are obviously not. All the best & ORION! gic

They were eventually denounced by a traitoress who was adopted into their community & whose denunciations were publicized by the jewsmedia. She did her worst to destroy that community, but I've heard nothing since. Under ZOG, even one traitor can destroy a community.

Another problem is that of property ownership. Who would own the White Separatists' land? Would it be a corporation? If so, who would own that? I have seen people lose their property because of the actions of one person, as did Pastor Butler of Aryan Nations. This is why the ownership of land by a single entity is vulnerable to ZOG-attack via the jewdicial system. If the land is to be parcelled out to community members, as in a subdivision of private owners, would there be any guarantee that one or more owners would not sell their land to some ZOG-agents? The FRONTLINE papers describe farming as the primary activity of the White Separatist settlers. This is laudable, but is it possible? How many Whites have any background in farming, & how many would be willing to perform such demanding labor? Out here in the NW "Great White Hopeland", we are virtually surrounded by Indian reservations, which are deemed "sovereign nations" by treaty. In the Yakima area, the Injuns (who are really mestizos or Eurasians) command the river fishing. They can & do deprive White farmers of their water 'rights', & they can restrict White usage of land off the reservations under "environmental protection laws" plus treaty rights. "Environmental Impact Studies" are now required in many parts of the U.S.A. in regard to farming, especially when non-farming neighbors are involved. There have been many protests against dairy-farming recently, & I suspect that the anti-milk protestors are racially unable to digest milk. Along with the population explosion & White Flight from cities is coming large population incursions into rural & forested areas, so one's neighbors may be close, non-White & obnoxious. Indians are permitted to wander around private property in terms of their treaty rights, in many areas. These factors bear checking out, before one puts his money down on a parcel of land, which should never, ever, be bought sight unseen. Unfortunately, I have met several "Norwegians" who are dark, dysgenic mestizos from Minnesota, so there is no "Shangri La" in which one can escape the darkies, it appears, under ZOG. On the positive side, I have read that there are small colonies of engineers who work for Boeing, et al. via computer, from their self-sufficient homes in the boonies. This still indicates that they are in the ZOG's cash economy, so they are by no means independent of ZOG rule. Perhaps it is a beginning, but it all depends on White Will & non-White presence in any area.

In regard to scientific religions, I can recommend two: Dynasophy & Cosmotheism. They have their own websites. James Hart, who is running for congress in Kentucky, has similar religious views which incorporate eugenics. I'll send this information to Kalie, so as to avoid possible censorship by your ZOG-gulag meisters, as occurs often with other P.O.W. correspondents of mine. They even seize newspaper articles, when they please. That indicates they are "anti-Semitic". Ha! I define an "anti-Semite" as one who kills or hurts Arabs, as well as one who steals a Semitic religion & thereby claims to be a "Semite". Typical Semitic religions are Judaism, Christianity & Islam. Non-Arabs have no business infecting themselves with them, nor should they attempt to infect others.

Like you, I've been wrestling with ideas of how we may popularize the pro-White message amongst the majority of Whites, who so far appear indifferent to their racial & personal survival. I ask them, do lemmings find safety in numbers? One thing in our favor, as strange as it may seem, is the advent of non-White nationalism, along with the ZOG's granting of privileges to non-Whites, based on their status as non-White racial & ethnic groups. Equal rights for Whites, should be our slogan, as well as 'majority rule'. After all, that was the ZOG's slogan in Africa. The U.S.A. has never had majority rule, for it was never designed to be a democracy, according to its founding felons. This is why I support The Anti-Zionist Alliance, which includes anti-Zionist non-Whites. This network seeks to co-ordinate anti-ZOG policies on behalf of the general good; not merely on behalf of Whites. Zionism or jew-supremacy is our current & most pressing misfortune, as you know. Along with White apathy & active support for Zionism, these are our foremost enemies. Our message is simple & direct: Is this good for Whites?

Keep up the good work. All the best & ORION!
