

13 April 05. Dear Tom: Many thanks for your letters! Before I forget, I shall be out of town from 22 April to 11 May, so please pardon any delay in my replies to correspondence. I'm sure there'll be a mountain of mail when I return. It is damned inconvenient to be out of touch during these periods, but I guess we could call it "karma". I used to rebel at my fate, but now I just go along with it the best way I know how. Obligations must be fulfilled, even if one is obliged to go out of town.

As you say, the economic teeter-totter is getting all the kosher crappers cackling about the dropping $. Some say it's "good" for the U.S. economy, & others say the opposite. I am prejudiced, for I think in terms of it being "good" or "bad" for me. Since I am a member of the have-not majority, higher prices for food, housing, doctors & energy mean "bad". Speculators with money to burn may find it "good", or as Labor Secretary Reich commented: "NAFTA will adversely affect 80% of the American people, but 20% should do O.K." Such a deal! We have noticed that increased unemployment causes the stock market to go up, so what is 'good' for stocks & those who gamble on them is very bad for U.S. workers. Meanwhile, our jobs go out & alien jobless pour in over virtually open borders, not just down Mexico way, but up on our border with "China-duh" alias Canada.

All the goofy gabble that "there is no inflation" or, if there is, it's good for our economy, is belied by the increase in oil prices. This is not the result of oil scarcity, but of an over-abundance of jew I.O.U.'s with no value in terms of goods & services. That is inflation, regardless of how one 'spins' it, & inflation is theft from the workers & savers, i.e. the productive members of any society. It also robs those on fixed incomes.

As you observe, it looks as if our official separation of church & state has been suspended with the half-mast U.S. flags in honor of the jew-Pope who croaked. Yes, his mom was Wanda Katz & she wasn't Polish, but completely kosher! That means the Pope could be buried in Israel, under their "law of return". He was not the only jew-Pope, however, if we study history, starting with Peter. Dumb Goyim say that the Pope was not a jew because he was a Christ-eater & Jesus-juicer. They are wrong, since Cardinal Lustiger, the late Pope's friend, declared in public: "I am Christian, but I remain a jew." That is correct, just as it is to say, "I'm Buddhist, but I remain a Dutchman." One is religion, the other is nationality & jews are the members of a nationality, if not a race, since they comprise all races & mixtures thereof. In practice, jews resemble their host peoples to some extent, but their "national interest" always runs counter to their hosts. The Romans called them "the enemies of mankind." I was growing suspicious of all the "human-interest" jewsmedia coverage of (1) The Shaivo Case & (2) the Pope. As you say, the Goy victims of the refinery explosion are just dead meat, of neither worth nor interest, according to the jewsmedia, but was the explosion an accident? How many such accidents can our economy afford? since refineries have become scarce, thanks to Big Oil. Of course, it's a nice racket to sell less for more money, as they are now doing. The public prefers to blame the Arabs, however, rather than the ZOG & the oil-banksters. Most sheeple prefer to have "enemies" far away, rather than right up close, as our real enemies are. Yes, we shall see just how 'secure' the ZOG will make the Mexican border, after The Minute Men return to base. I have reason to believe it will be an open border policy again. It is common knowledge from those who surf the Internet that open borders can be crossed by pickup trucks bearing such things as nuclear weapons, in addition to "terrorists" wearing scary masks. Imagine the scare we'd get if a thousand illegal aliens swarmed in, all wearing Chertoff face masks! The horror, the horror...

Meanwhile, back in Iraq, our jewsmedia reports indicate that the U.S. may be about to pull out, for there is more media & ZOG emphasis on the "Iraqi government" & their "Iraqi forces", more of whom seem to be killed by insurgents all the time. Despite the ineffectiveness of such touted "Iraqi forces", I suspect that the U.S. will pull off a Vietnam-style exodus of its ZOG-mercs & slave-thugs, alleging that the "Iraqi government" has "sufficiently" numerous, equipped & trained forces to "govern", prior to the ZOG's frantic pullout. I would not be surprised if it would resemble the frantic Israeli pullout from southern Lebanon, in which the jews suddenly left their Christian Falangist allies in the lurch, without any offer to take them with the fleeing hebes. I wonder how they fared at the tender hands of the Hezbollah who had fought them for so many years! Hey, they were only Goyim. As Sharon said of the Sabra & Shatilla Massacre: "When Goyim kill Goyim, that has nothing to do with us." If I recall correctly, that atrocity was committed by the Christian Falange of Lebanon.

As you say, the jew-controlled mass media keep the Goyim in a jew-daze, much like the ray used by the jew-like aliens in "They Live". That's worth seeing if you can rent the DVD. It's the best thing since "The Eternal Jew".

I hope you don't mind this white paper, because I've run out of the old yellow business forms. They were souvenirs from my casino job, which the boss told me to heave out, but I took them home instead. Waste not, want not, eh?

The jew, "Lenin", referred to religion as "the opiate of the masses." Now we have TV which does the job of "bemusing the Goyim" even better, in addition to the kosher churches & real opium. It is remarkable that any Gentile can keep his mind clear these days, so he can see reality & think about it, but for most Goyim, thinking is just too painful. Personally, I enjoy exercising my mind as well as my body, so I must be some kind of 'nut'.

In "They Live", the hero sacrifices his life to destroy the aliens' daze-ray which befuddles the earthlings & also disguises the jew-like aliens so they appear human. Suddenly, all the aliens appear as they really are, but the humans do nothing, except for one TV employee who tells a female newscaster that "she looks like shit, today" (with her skeletal features & furry paws!) The movie ends with humans just looking surprised at the aliens.

If you haven't seen it, the ray also masks the aliens' jew-like message in their controlled media, printed as well as electronic. When the hero puts on some alien-revealing sunglasses by mistake, he enters a different world. He looks at his paper money without his glasses & the back of the bill says "In God We Trust". With the glasses, it says "This is Your God!" Signs & books, posters, &c. reveal their subliminal messages in bold letters: "Sleep", "Obey", "Consume". These commands also appear on the TV screens, but without the special sunglasses, humans can't see them, nor make out the aliens themselves, who really behave like jews. Viewers have told me that "They Live" reveals "too much" about the jews in our midst, so how could the film be made & shown to ordinary people? I remarked that I thought it fulfilled the command of the cabala, that "all things must be made manifest" to the intended victims, so that they become accomplices & therefore guilty of the crimes the jew perpetrators inflict upon them--IF THEY DO NOTHING! This is the same reason behind the display of The Great Seal of the U.S.A. on the backs of the dollar bills, which is replete with satanic symbolism & the open declaration: "NOVUS ORDO SECLORUM" (NEW WORLD ORDER). When we see that & do nothing to thwart the perpetrators, we become (cabalistically) "the guilty victims". The jew perpetrators become "guiltless" thereby. As I wrote in "The Cabalistic Curse of Christianity", the forgiveness of the perpetrator makes the victim 'guilty' & the perpetrator 'innocent' in cabalistic terms, & cabalism existed BEFORE Christianity. That is why Christianity is the mirror image of Judaism. The jews are the masters & murderers, while the Christians are the willing slaves & victims. Such a deal! As you indicate, it may be necessary for the fog to roll in, or, as I think, it may be necessary for the lights to go off, along with the TV in order for Goyim to see reality for the first time. What a shock that will be! That's why I define "freedom" as "avoid TV & stay debt-free". Darkness may allow us time in which to think, & it will likely bring racial reality upon us that much sooner, so we shall have to think & act in ways relevant to our survival. The Blacks have long said that the "Honkies' civilization" will collapse when the lights go out. That's quite likely, from what we've seen. The shock will be to exchange our jewsmedia fantasies for grim reality, in short order, as will be urgently necessary. In regard to the weather here, we had a short, warm winter & now a cool spring. I gather that Central Washington State's weather is the envy of the entire U.S.A., but there will be a high price to pay for our Southern California style weather: a major drought, which is likely to affect all sorts of water consumption, including irrigation & electric power production. As you may know, most electricity is derived from hydro power in this state. Enron sure swindled both producers & consumers thereof with their jew-like scam as middlemen. The egregious Injuns are, as usual, insisting on the enforcement of their salmon treaty rights at the expense of everyone else, as if it were still 1400 in this country. What a bunch of mestizo bandido rascals! Well, they can do no worse than the ZOG's jew masters who want infinite population growth within finite territory & finite resources. The ruckus will really begin when natural resources, especially water, must be allocated to SOME, rather than OTHERS. What a shindig that will be!

I think the Goy cattle are still so supine & subservient to the jews because they are still well-fed. American abundance has produced American fatheads, also in over-abundance. I hate to say it, but scarcity may reward the smart as it causes a big die-off of dummies. I believe that Nature is the Ultimate Nazi, & if we refuse to practice eugenics, She will! Philosophy taught me how to recognize bullshit, for most of it was just that. One can recognize various schools in theme & variation, a lot like learning chess games, strategies & tactics for our choice of moves. Most philosophy is about language, & not reality, so it's basically a matter of definitions, theoretical constructs & word-games. It gives the student various ways of looking at the same things, such as the role of the viewer & what he views. Alan Watts, for example, wrote a short book entitled "The Book", in which he reasons or opines that "we are all one", by using the concept that there is a necessary & unavoidable connection between the viewer & what is viewed, not only on a conceptual basis, but on a molecular & subatomic level, to a greater or lesser degree, depending upon proximity. His major premise, as I recall, is that we are all part of the universe, including all things in it, from which he reasons that we are therefore all one. If we receive emanations from Jupiter, for instance, we are, to that extent, part of Jupiter & Jupiter is part of us. Watts' philosophy can be aimed at race-mixing, for if we are all one, already, we might as well get on with it. You can see the danger in such abstract thinking, because our proximity does not erase our distinctions as individuals. In my opinion, experiencing reality is superior to talking about it, & words are a poor substitute for reality, precisely because they can easily distort it or gloss over it entirely. It was this tendency to abstraction which bored me with my university experience, so I was not unhappy to leave the sophistry & gabbling. Exile in Africa was refreshing for me! It is notable that those who have sought to harm me most have been most helpful to me. That's an example of The Law of the Contrary. It is also proof that I have been very lucky.

One psychological scam was injected into the Logical Positivist School of Philosophy known as General Semantics, which was, as I recall, taught by S.I. Hayakawa: it claimed that conflict was due to 'misunderstanding'. Therefore, conflict could be eliminated by revising our language. I would point out that there is often total agreement in a conflict, the only disagreement being who would win. I used the example of two starving men who both found a loaf of bread sufficient only to feed one of them. Both men would agree that they were hungry, & that the bread would save only one of them, so there was no misunderstanding, but a major conflict, nevertheless! One resolution of such a conflict could be achieved via bullshit: If one of the starving men could convince the other that he'd go to heaven by giving up his claim to the bread! Doesn't that sound familiar? One could then ask why the b.s. artist did not want to go to heaven, himself, but one would hope that the starving men would be smart enough to fight it out, instead. Ha!

As you point out, corruption can be as deadly for a society as military conquest. One writer opined that the world (White Civilization) might end, not with a bang, but a whimper. This whimper would likely come from all the White wimps who now outnumber the White men, more than ever, on this planet. Harsh times will demand men made of sterner stuff than these. Such men already exist, but they aren't White. They resemble Genghis Khan & Tamerlane, & they have our weapons, which they are more than willing to use against us. When the jews have finally betrayed us to such men, I wonder what they will do with these parasites. I strongly suspect that they will do with the jews what we have so miserably failed to do, like the dumb hosts we are.

In regard to the draft, I note a jewsmedia report that Black enlistment has dropped, so it is likely that the draft will be resisted if it is renewed. Stay tuned!

Lawrence Dennis wrote that "foreign adventures" are no way to solve domestic problems. They merely exacerbate them, & Bush only cares about Israel's problems, not ours. This is evident from his behavior & that of his Zionist government, which now has so many jews in key places that only an idiot would claim "there is no ZOG", or that "the ZOG is not the U.S. government." What else could it be? I do not believe that another version of "Pearl Harbor" can pull the ZOG's chestnuts out of the fire this time. We are now too 'diverse' & multi-cultural for that. So far, Bush's Zionist regime has done just what China has wanted it to do by way of exhausting its resources of money, materiel & manpower, in addition to extreme over-extension of our logistics. As if this weren't enough, China has been supplied by Zionists with our latest weapon technology. Our troops are overseas & our borders are open, so great changes are in the offing. To use a naval analogy, we are on a sitting duck, like the Japanese aircraft carriers which were caught with bombs, torpedoes, fuel & aircraft exposed on deck, all soon to sink beneath the waves in a real holocaust. The ZOG has made the U.S.A. a gift to its enemies, so which will be the first to take it? My bet is on China, which will present us with the bill, along with certain 'requests' which we are in no position to refuse. How I'd love to be wrong! As you say, the jews will dump Bush like a bad habit, since he is only a frontman for Cheney, as it appears. I wonder who they will choose as his successor, if there is a successor. If so, he will inherit an awful mess. That is why I say DOWZ! & ORION!

EJC

P.S.: In regard to the Gettysburg slaughter, my recollections are based on Bruce Catton's six-book series entitled "The Army of the Potomac", which I read 30 or 40 years ago. As I recall, the battle at Gettysburg was unplanned, but Lee was required to 'prove' to foreign suppliers that the Confederacy was a 'credible' power because it could fight & win a battle outside its territory. As I understand, the American rebels were required to 'show their stuff' as conventional warriors, by beating the British on their own terms. I think this foreign investors' requirement was met at the Battle of Lexington, if I recall correctly. Thus was the Confederacy in a similar position, so Lee's incursion into PA was not a real military objective. It appeared to be an outgrowth of "armed reconnaissance" on the part of both armies. In the case of the hungry Confederates, Gettysburg not only had onions, but also, shoes, which they sorely needed. As Confederate troops gathered in that area, so did larger units of Union forces, until the two armies wound up in a major confrontation. Catton mentioned the two lessons which people seemed not to have learned in that war: (1) Artillery was not decisive for offensive purposes, but it was deadly in defensive roles, such as mowing down massed infantry with cannister & grapeshot. (2) Troops in trenches were pretty much invulnerable. This resulted in the invention of the howitzer, which could fire plunging shots into the trenches, rather than behind, in front or above the trenches, as did guns, with their usually flat trajectory. Shrapnel shells were invented which could burst, in theory, above a trench & thereby shower its occupants with balls & shell fragments, but their fusing was tricky. Such shells could be effective when the enemy was lying down in the open, &c. That is off the topic, however, because the battle at Gettysburg was rather ad hoc, & neither side appeared to believe that it would be of long duration. The Union forces were superior in artillery pieces, which they deployed all along their front. The Union commanders, one of whom was General Meade, if I recall correctly, & I forget his colleague's name, gave orders for the Union guns to cease fire & to load with cannister in preparation for an anticipated Confederate infantry charge. The Confederates erroneously believed that their artillery's effectiveness had knocked out the Union artillery, because it had largely stopped firing, except for the guns of one Union officer who had disobeyed orders to cease fire & load with cannister. It was his position where the Confederate infantry almost broke through the Union line. So it was that the Confederates greatly obliged their Union opponents by charging into the storm of cannister, as well as rifle fire from the Union infantry who could shoot from protected or concealed positions against Confederates in the open. At that point, it was not a battle, but a massacre. Catton wrote that Lee's army had been badly defeated, & all the Union army had to do was to advance & capture them as the battered remnant began to retreat. For that omission, Meade & Co. were sacked by Lincoln & replaced by Grant. Had Meade been better than he was, the Civil War could have ended a year earlier, at least. As it was, the Union Army was, at least, not defeated, which could have been the case. Another case of Union artillery power occurred at Cold Harbor, where the Union forces suffered defeat by small units of Confederates under cover of dense fog. What Union forces were able to escape ran down to the steamboat landing where artillery was being landed. The Union forces at the landing assembled the guns hub-to-hub & poured their abundant shot & shell into the woods. When the fog cleared & sunlight shown, everything in front of the guns was a scene of utter devastation. No tree stood. There was plowed up & packed up earth, with fragments of trees, rocks & men who were often not identified as such, as well as deer & other wild animal bits & pieces. The place was a preview of World War I real estate after their bombardments. My relatives were on both sides of that genocidal conflict, so I really do not like Civil War re-enactments, nor any war in which Whites slaughtered Whites & thereby ruined our hopes for nation-building. The Civil War was another proof that Americans were always ruled by anti-White forces, for that has always been the 'bottom line': fewer of us & more of THEM.

MacArthur's failure was simply his refusal to acknowledge that The Cold War was an Orwellian hoax, & he was not supposed to 'win'. The needless sacrifice of U.S. troops was simply window-dressing to make the alleged 'conflict' between East-ZOG & West-ZOG credible to the dumb Goyim. Meanwhile, the U.S. continued to foster, feed & fund its USSR branch & the USSR backed its proxies, one of which was, ostensibly, China. However, further research reveals that the Kharzar rulers of Russia & America may have been more rivals of China than they were allies. When I wrote "China, the Jews & World War III", it appeared that the role of the USA was really that of an ally of the USSR, against China. That was why we were sent to Vietnam: to open a southern front against China, while fighting a phony war against the Vietnamese client state of the USSR. The proofs of this USA-USSR alliance against China, as I recall, were (1) The Hebrewwood movies on that theme made during The Vietnam War, among which were "The Kremlin Letter", "55 Days at Peking" & one movie starring Gregory Peck as an American scientist who goes into Red China, plays ping pong with Chairman Mao & flees with his stolen secrets into the arms of "our gallant Soviet allies". (2) Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker's visit to NATO in which he asked for NATO's help in a war with China, & was firmly, but gently refused. (3) China's massive attack against Vietnam's Soviet client regime after it conquered the South Vietnamese regime which the U.S.A. had used as its catspaw & then betrayed. China thereby showed the Vietnamese that they would have a whole world of hurt if they carried on with a Soviet plan to open a southern front in their northern border conflict with China. Thus it was that China & the USSR fought a mini-proxy war in Indochina. China sponsored the Khmer Rouge & the charmer known as Pol Pot, while the USSR continued to back the former North Vietnamese regime, which had their own proxies in the region. As I understand, drugs played a major role for all sides, so it was "back to the future" in Indochina.

This brings up Nixon's role, which I believe is also mentioned in "China, the Jews & World War III". His visit to China was a big surprise, as was his prompt ending of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, including the mining of Haiphong Harbor, by which the Soviets had been supplying their North Vietnamese clients. The railway from China to Hanoi had been supplying little or nothing. Once the stench of jewish b.s. has cleared a bit, we may be better able to understand Nixon's role in husbanding a major change in U.S. policy re China & the moribund USSR.

It was one of my professors of International Relations who had been born in China of White Russian parents & who grew up in Iowa, where he acquired his drawl, who said that "there are no BIG secrets." They are right out in plain sight, but we are standing so close to them, we are not aware that the bark is on a tree in the middle of the woods. I see it as a theme & variations, combined with jewsmedia distortion & disinformation. After all, that's the job of the jewsmedia, which is a weapon of mass-distraction at the best of times, & maliciously mendacious in our worst of times. The jewsmedia include those of education, information & entertainment, so "They Live" is very accurate, albeit "fictional", just like The Protocols, which is "forged", but also accurate.

If we stand back sufficiently, we can see, as did British journalist Douglas Reed, a Big Picture, the themes within the jumble of events which comprise History. Reed reported that the 2 world wars had served, among other things, to create & enhance the power of the jews' Soviet Union, which was the necessary basis for Zionism & the state of Israel, which is to become the capital of The Jew World Ordure, on the backs of the American cattle & Zionist puppet states elsewhere. When their USSR had served its purpose, it was betrayed & dumped by its former ally, the USA. Obviously, Nixon did not work alone, but in collaboration with his Zionist bankster masters, as confirmed by his fulsome support for Israel at U.S. tax-payers' expense. It seems that Douglas Reed spotted the theme back in 1947, when he wrote "Somewhere South of Suez". Nixon, like Bush, served as the ZOG's shabez Goy frontman, &, as we know, frontmen are expendable, as was Shakespeare's Moor.

Could there have been a World War III between the USA-USSR et al. & China during The Vietnam War era? It seems possible. What prevented it? I guess the U.S. betrayal of its former Soviet ally in favor of China created a new "order" and a new alignment of powers. The Japanese "allies" of the treacherous USA sure got a shock when Nixon visited China at little or no notice to them. The U.S.A. is dangerous, not only because it is ruled by Zionist aliens, but because it has a mongrel mind that does not know who it is or what's good for it. Because it has no racial identity, it has no loyalties, & it therefore can have no sound nor consistent policies within its territory nor without. That's why orientals have told me that "the Americans are inscrutable", for we typically say the opposite of what we mean. Now I agree with them, & I add that we are also fundamental flip-floppers who reverse our policies as well as our statements. If the USA were a child, it would be locked up in padded premises for its own good, as well as everyone else's. As I wrote decades ago, the USA will be dangerous for some time, but it will never be great. The Chinese are patient, as you say, when it pays, but they are also quick to seize obvious opportunities, such as we have given them. Could the Jew Ass Oy Veh instigate a war between China & Japan? Only if they are as stupid as we are, so I don't believe they will, despite our efforts to foment such a war. I assume they know what's in their best interests, even if we do not. That's why we continue to serve the jews. DOWZ! & ORION!
