

13 AUG 05. Dear Tom: It was great to receive your letter of AUG 5th & the trenchant enclosures! As far as I know, the jewish attitude toward Blacks is still schizophrenic: on the one hand, Blacks are deemed "kushim" (bogeymen). On the other, Black jews (Falashim) are admitted to Israel (with great misgivings on the part of light-skinned jews, according to several jewish sources). An Indian jew of dark complexion told me that he left Israel because of racial discrimination, & other jews have reported that jews do discriminate on grounds of skin color. However, with the jews' recruitment of Blacks into the Communist Party, USA, miscegenation has occurred. Then, there is the case of Sammy Davis Jr. who was, in his own words, "a one-eyed nigger jew!" Well, according to the orthodox jews who are Ashkenazim or Russian jews, jewishness is determined on the mothers' side of a person's background. Dr. Israel Shahak said that those jews would trace a person's genealogy back 4 generations to see if they could find ONE mother of non-jewish background. If they did, the person, usually a jewish dissident, would be declared non-jewish. This meant that he or she could be fired from work, could not live in a jewish neighborhood, nor send his or her children to jewish schools. If the person who 'failed' the background check was married to a jew, the marriage was dissolved. If the non-jew were male & his wife jewish, the children would be deemed jews, but if the female were a non-jew, then the children would be "mamzers" or bastards, that is, non-jews. Orthodox jews do not consider 'converts' to be jews, unless they were originally jews in their biology, but converts in their theology. Most Israeli jews are officially jews in terms of biology, even if they are devout atheists. As I understand, two thirds of the jews in Israel are "secular jews". Hence, if jews were believers of a religion & not a nationality (which they are), a "secular jew" would be an oxymoron, like a "secular Catholic". In fact, "jew" is used by jews as a national term, like "secular Chinese" or "secular Swede", so as to distinguish them from Buddhist Chinese & Christian Swedes.

Thanks for the article on the growing discovery that race is relevant to medicine. An earlier article about medical studies announced that it was folly to base the results of medical tests on the assumption that the tests applied to "180 lb. White males" were relevant to White females or anyone else. As you observed, none of the facts seem to sway the propaganda of 'political correctness' one whit. Now & then tiny bits of truth appear, bobbing up in the massive torrent of lies, only to submerge again, removed from the minds of the masses. The jews who promote these lies about race (that is, its alleged nonexistence) are very careful NOT to believe what they preach. When I was in Toronto, the local newspapers ran an article about a "Holocaust survivor" who suffered from leukemia & needed a bone marrow transplant. The donor was required to be a "Lithuanian jew", like the transplant recipient, so as to improve the likelihood that the marrow transplant would 'take' & not be rejected by the body of the recipient. As your article stated, donors of the same ethnic-racial background allow the receivers to take fewer immunosuppressant drugs, than would a donor from an alien background. Well, duh! As I understand, there is good news & bad news about transplants. The good news is that the transplant recipient may live longer, & the bad news is that he or she must take immunosuppressant drugs thereafter, so the recipient effectively has AIDS, which destroys the immune system, with or without transplants. Such a deal!

Yes, weren't the Brits nice to rescue the trapped Russian mini-sub in Russian waters? As you say, there must have been an equally nice intelligence prize for the Brits' charity work. One pay-off was that the Russians bought 2 of the Brits' remote-controlled undersea rescue craft. As I understand, these were derived from U.S. oil companies' "mobots", as they called their early unmanned deepsea craft, whose major job was to repair "Christmas trees" or oil well valves on the seabeds, below 600 feet, the limit for human divers. I'm sure the navies were also developing such devices for submarine operations, including espionage & sabotage. A few decades ago, as I recall, the Swedes &/or Norwegians discovered tracks on the seabeds of their territorial waters, which indicated that some sort of underwater craft had covertly invaded their territory. Nobody 'fessed up, & the Soviets said, "Who, us? We know nothing!" It is possible that a nuclear device could be delivered by such craft, into any strategic coastal facility, but for the USA, pick up trucks crossing the border are much more practical. It is equally interesting that there were no Chinese offers of assistance, for I guess that the Chinese are equally unprepared to rescue their own mini-sub, as are the Russians. Obviously, they will try to buy the British craft via the USA &/or Israel, in due course.

Re your sighting of the woman wearing the Moslem hooded robe: The ZOG prates that it will not engage in "racial-profiling". This helps the "terrorists" infinitely, for it not only makes security inefficient, but also very costly. Before ZOG's P.C.B.S., police always worked

2) with as much information as possible about a suspect. Gender was first, because it ruled out some 50% of the suspects if they knew they were looking for a man or a woman. Duh! Race was also important, for that knowledge eliminated more potential suspects. The sane process of logical elimination would eventually lead to identification of the suspect & his apprehension, but now, police investigations must be colorblind, if not gender-blind. Why not just have police wear blindfolds all the time, as part of their uniform? Goodbye sanity! The more reasoning based on race is forbidden, the more science reveals the growing relevance of race in crime as well as medicine. DNA testing & identification have worked wonders in identifying unknown suspects, as well as exonerating people convicted by a defective justice system. The only 'down-side' to increased racial knowledge is that it offends the ZOG's propagandists. Poor little monkeys! A police colleague of mine in Rhodesia told me that a crook's M.O. or modus operandi was a good indication of the suspect's identity. He had been a cop in Britain, before he came to Rhodesia, so he said that a White crook, a burglar, for instance, usually develops a distinctive M.O. He usually comes in through a door or window, & he gets better at it, with practice. His entry techniques become refined & specialized, so his criminal efficiency improves. But, Black crooks, such as burglars, usually have no M.O. at all! He said that the same suspect might break down a door, climb through a window, burrow through a wall, hack a hole in the roof, or any other way of making an illegal entry. Well, let's give the Blacks credit for their creativity & perception! When houses are not built the same, it may be more efficient to gain entry by tearing up a section of roofing material, provided no one is around to see, nor might there be persons to hear the kicking down of a door or pounding a hole in a wall, &c. Still, one wonders how such obvious & brutal methods would enhance the Black crook's criminal career, for the risks of being caught are much higher than quick, quiet, covert entries would be. Well, as I understand from sources in Africa, the Blacks are so wild that such burglary techniques could be deemed their version of finesse!

Asian gangsters can be as trigger-happy as Hebrewood bandits of the wild west, but they are usually noted for planning & subtlety. After all, the object of any enterprise is the most efficient means of making a profit, illegal or not! Mestizo gangsters like lots of noise, however, & they equate pistols with machismo, so the more shooting, the more macho they are. The Colombian crooks distinguish themselves by shooting as many people as they can, in addition to the primary target of their hit-job. Police in Florida have complained at the catholic targetting of all & sundry, 1) because so many corpses & wounded are embarrassing to the cops & 2) if the primary victim is unknown, then police investigation becomes much harder. As cops know, if the victim is known, then there is a clue to motive. If the motive is known, then there is a lead to likely suspects. When members of one gang are slain, it is logical to suspect members of an opposing gang. But if gang members kill a dozen non-gang members to eliminate one member of an opposing gang, the investigation is not so simple, unless the killers wear their gang colors, &c. In Canada alias China-duh, there were police profiles based on the type of crime. Arson for collecting insurance was usually "jewish lightning". Armed robberies were favored by Franco-mestizos or French Canadians, much more than by non-French-Canadians. With the arrival of Black & Asian gangs, such things as public shoot-outs & home-invasions are fashionable. Asians usually do home-invasions, because their fellow Asian victims usually have lots of cash & other valuables on the premises, where gambling also takes place. Neither Blacks nor Asians show any fear of the cops, who are largely seen as interlopers on their crime scenes. In one home-invasion near Toronto, the Asian gang outnumbered & out-gunned the cops, who had to negotiate with them. I never read further on the case, for it simply vanished after the initial report! Civilization is a poor match for the savages in our midst. So much for "diversity", eh?

I agree that the ZOG's minions had lots of practice before 9-11 was perpetrated. I suppose you remember about the first Trade Towers bombing which was perpetrated when a Mossad front, Atlas Security, had full access to the Towers.

No doubt, the Asian powers of China & Japan would like to see Russia & the USA depart their coastal waters, & I'm sure that will occur in due course, for Russia & the USA are declining powers in general, as well as in that specific region. A U.S. Admiral said that the USA could deter China from annexing Taiwan, but not in another 10 years. I think that was 5 years ago. All the best. DCWZ! & ORION!
