

17 SEP 05. Dear Paul: Many thanks for your excellent downloads!. The articles on the New York diamond-dealing, money-laundering, hawala jew who works out of the city's diamond district, on 47th Avenue, if I recall correctly, was a great anthropological study of jews' primary job: cash for crime & crime for cash. You were the first to inform me about hawala, the cash transfer business in which trusted third parties agree to transfer certain sums between 1st & 2nd parties, anywhere in the world. The Rothschilds' banking system was based not only on local moneylending, but on their hawala system of international &/or inter-city money transfer. A letter of credit could be transferred from one Rothschild bank to another, instead of actual cash, so that the bank which received that instrument would receive an equal amount of credit in the issuing bank. This practice avoided the risky business of actually sending gold or other wealth around the world. It was also a profitable business for those responsible for the transfer, as your download showed. How ironic that a jew would be caught doing what jews have done for thousands of years, in a ZOG-sting, of all things! I'll be interested in learning what sort of punishment the hawala jew, Abraham, receives. None is my guess.

FEDZOGUSA is amply aware of the sheeny-shenanigans constantly perpetrated in the tiny Jew York diamond district, where tons of drug money are exchanged for diamonds & the diamonds then sold for cash. Rabbis with duffle bags full of cash walk down 47th Street. Occasionally, DEA agents seize the cash, for which the rabbis receive a receipt. That way, they can show their drug-dealing clients that they did not steal the money themselves. Diamonds also serve as letters of credit, although they are worthless in themselves. Mirrors & other glass items are more useful. The jews' diamond monopoly determines their 'value', for if the world's diamonds were on a free market, their true lack of value would be revealed. The most valuable use for diamonds is for cutting & grinding, including diamond-tipped drill bits, although a few more uses may have been found for these glittering, hard objects. As I learned from a Gentile jeweller, diamonds became popular as engagement ring decor in North America around the 1920s, so they are an alien imposition on the dumb Goyim. Dummies believe that a diamond ring is a store of value, but if they wish to sell it, they discover how much of the 'value' is mark up, based on what the dummy is willing to pay. Gangsters often buy a diamond separately from the setting, as a 'hock piece' for hard times, which is readily portable & concealable. A diamond ring includes the mark up on the stone, as well as the setting, so it is false to claim that the stone is 'worth' so & so much. It isn't. Diamonds are a jew's best friend.

With their network of international tribesmen, jews are in an excellent position for the money-transfer business, but with the growing enclaves (ghettos ?) of Chinese & Arabs in North America, the jews' previous monopoly on money transfers is eroding. Drugs are another form of portable wealth, so I can imagine drug 'letters of credit', in which local drugs may be deposited in one's locality, thereby entitling the depositor to receive drugs in another country or locality, without actually having them smuggled over long distances. Successful long-distance drug transfers usually require a high degree of government co-operation, if not government sponsorship, as we know.

Abraham's money-transfer business & his ZOG problems remind me of the least funny jew 'comedian', "George Burns", who got caught smuggling diamonds into the USA by customs. I vaguely recall that his defense lawyer was none other than the Gentile-hating Louis Nizer, who wrote "What to do with Germany?", a book which supported the kosher genocide program against Germans, as introduced by Theodore Kaufman's "Germany Must Perish!" & FDR buddy Morgenthau's "Germany is Our Problem", all of which urged the total extermination of Germany. The jews made a movie about "Burns'" trial, which argued that diamond-smuggling was an inherently jewish reaction against their 'eternal persecution', blah, blah, &c. I don't recall the verdict in the case, but I don't think "Burns" did time for his crime, 'cause it was Kosher. I'm sure they might argue the same for ritual murder, but jewish clout is sufficient to ensure that such cases don't go to trial, & if they do, ritual murder is never mentioned. One such case occurred when I lived in Toronto, "China-duh", where the Chinese are pouring into the territory & into positions of political prestige. I saw a revealing picture of, I believe, Canada's Chinese governor general driving to Parliament in a carriage, with two Chinese Mounties sitting in the rear. Whites need not apply. All 4 of the ritual-murderers of the Toronto shoeshine boy were jews, who followed the cabalistic rule by leaving their victim's body where it could easily be discovered. Only one jew went to prison for the crime: Saul Betesh, where he consumes kosher food in protective custody.

It is interesting that Norman Solomon would blow the whistle on the ZOG's 9-11 fraud. Hail to the Anti-Zionist Alliance or Viva AZA! All the best & ORION! E.T.

2) P.S.: So now money-transfers must be "licenced". I wonder how that can be enforced if all parties want such transfers to be kept secret. This sounds like requiring drug-traffickers to be licensed. Rots of ruck, as they say in Hiroshima.

I did get a chuckle from the download on Ahmad Thomson, formerly Martin Thomson, before he converted to Islam. Both of us were in Rhodesia & both of us are anti-Zionist. Do you suppose that there is a worldwide Thomson Conspiracy? Hoot mon! Well, we have now encircled our Zionist enemy: one Thomson in the Middle East & one in The Western Hemisphere. I'll bet the jews are worried. Ha! It's a classic pincer movement.

My interpretation of the mainstream jewsmedia pundits' criticism of the coup d'etat that occurred in the USA on 9-11 is that our ZOG is preparing to pull the carpet out from under their puppet president, Bush II, & his cronies, to cover ZOG's own primary role in 9-11 & its costly Iraq aftermath. Puppets are expendable, so we should watch for Bush's eventual replacement by election or by other means before his term of office ends. 9-11 proves that anything can happen in ZOG's empire, usually to the distinct disadvantage of the White minority. Hurricane Katrina has played a major political, demographic & economic role in this Land of ZOG, & Bush's announced 'reconstruction program' promises to increase our fiscal deficits even further, despite his declarations to the contrary. Since he lies about Iraq, as he did in the past, why should he not lie about fiscal realities? Blacks are getting bolder & more obnoxious in regard to their 'entitlements' at others' expense, but so far, I've not heard nor read any Black Nationalist statements on the programs for Katrina victims.

Despite the smoke, bodies & sound effects in Iraq, the pattern of civil war is becoming clear: it's Kurds & Shi-ites versus Sunnis, the non-Arab nationalities against the Arabs. Naturally, the Kurds & the majority Shi-ites want self-determination, rather than a strong central government, favored by the Sunni minority. This situation would seem to place U.S. forces on the Kurdish/Shi-ite side of the Iraq conflict. The USA has so far created conditions for a civil war in Iraq & its consequent break up, following our insane toppling of our puppet, Saddam. A Kurdish state will seek to incorporate Kurds living in Turkey, Iran & on former Soviet territory, whereas the Shi-ites will likely seek to incorporate with their fellow Shi-ites of Iran. Once again, the USA will be odd man out, & our idea of perpetual garrisons in Iraq, on behalf of the Bush regime, will likely blow away with the desert sands. If we can apply Newton's Law to politics, Bush's actions will result in an equal & opposite reaction in the USA & elsewhere. There are indications that this reaction is beginning. We hear more protests by those who want us out of Iraq, as well as other places in which we do our international meddling, on behalf of solving our growing problems at home. The Blacks are likely to be our best allies in this anti-imperial struggle, for they want handouts, & they want them now. Imagine if Hurricane Katrina had hit during the Vietnam War, in which Johnson claimed that we could have guns & butter in the USA, that is, a war & a high standard of living, (at the expense of future generations of tax-payers). We shall see how Bush delivers on his promises, for the USA is no longer the powerhouse it was during the 1960s. The number of producers has shrunk & the number of parasites has mightily increased, along with their demands. As the old song goes, "Somethin's gotta give" & I think it will be sooner than later. I smell the sweet stench of decay, as Roman citizens must have smelled, before Rome's fall. It is ironic that the founding felons of the USA adopted Roman symbols & a Roman-style senate, along with their cabalistic Freemasonic emblems. Perhaps they foresaw that our imperialistic Roman-style policies would lead us toward the same sort of fate which befell imperial, post-republican, Rome. Yes, we have the modern equivalent of bread & circuses, plus immense mobs of diverse peoples, amid extremes of poverty & wealth. Our wealthy class, who provide this empire with its Judas Goat leaders is also decadent, if not a pack of traitors, when they are not themselves kosher aliens, so what's not to dislike?

A, I mentioned previously, I marvel each morning that there is not yet rioting in the streets. Perhaps the looting & violence of New Orleans is a prelude to our fate from coast to coast in this changing Land of ZOG. Stay tuned, for we can't do much else in our present situation. Naturally, no amount of truth can make free those who do not heed it.

Apathy & inertia are the chief supports of any corrupt regime, but there always comes a day of crisis which is so urgent that sheeple are literally washed off their seats &/or blown, shot, burned or shaken therefrom. Hunger has also been known to motivate the otherwise inert, non-thinking majority, for, as Nietzsche noted: "Man has his stomach to remind him that he is not a god."
