

5 OCT 05. Dear Phil: Many thanks for your letter of 3 OCT, including your well-chosen enclosures! Whites in Africa have always been suckers for "written guarantees" in sellout constitutions, as we see most recently in Zimbabwe. I am surprised that White Africans do not learn what Africa has to teach: that might makes right, & no words can substitute for power. This is true throughout the world, but it is most obvious in Africa, where even the very slow-witted should perceive this reality, unless they are blinded by wishful-thinking, as I suspect. Before Ian Smith's sellout of Rhodesia, Whites babbled about "power-sharing." I don't know which jew &/or Freemason cooked that oxymoron up, for shared power means lost power, in reality. Sorry, Whitey, there's no power for you!

My African experience led me to correlate biology with culture. All areas where Blacks settle resemble the squalor, poverty & tyranny of their native Africa, as the residues of White civilization erode. Typically, Blacks live in authoritarian societies, beginning with their families, where the father is 'king' & his wives & children are his subjects, as well as his property. The Black father plays the same privileged role as does his tribal chief, who is a Black father writ large. All family members look to their fathers as the source of decisions & orders. The Black father has all the attributes of a slavemaster, plus! A Black slave owned by a stranger is not as burdened by social obligations as are the sons & daughters, as well as the wives of a traditional Black father. Because of this authoritarian culture, Blacks look to "the father" for benefits & punishments. Personal initiative & asking "why?" are brutally discouraged, as is disobedience. Hence, all signs of independence are equated with rebellion in Black culture. We must not conclude that Black authoritarianism precludes theft, exploitation & corruption, especially when the "us" & "them" standard is applied. Black culture has very few in terms of "us" & very many of "them", usually Blacks of other tribes, &, of course, Whites. The Whites are also father-figures, to whom the Blacks look for all benefits, & against whom the Blacks lay their grievances for everything, especially Black shortcomings. They do this because their White father-figures are not respected. This is because a real father hands out stern punishment as well as largesse. One old askari told my father that Blacks of his generation respected their previous German colonial masters, because they were consistent & tough. The Blacks knew how much they could transgress before the machineguns were brought out & used, which was not much, at all! It is unpleasant, but Blacks have great respect for masters who ask, "Give me one reason why I should not kill you today!"

Since culture stems from biology, it is no surprise that the corrupt Black governments of Detroit & Wayne County would expect Whitey to pull them out of their trek back to the Stone Age, while blaming Whitey for "racism" in the aftermath of Hurricanes Katrina & Rita. Irresponsibility is the hallmark of Black behavior & Black culture, whether in Black Africa or in Black America. For Blacks' sake, I'd wish it were otherwise, & so should they!

Indian author & Africa-traveller, Shiva Naipaul, described the mutually-corrosive effects of White culture in the midst of Black culture. We can see the same degeneration in reverse, in America, so the healthy, harmonious course is separation, not miscegenation, which combines the evils of both cultures. Latin America provides us with another example of racial-cultural mixing & its dysfunctional outcome. Because these mongrels are dysfunctional in their own lands, they are coming to populate the rest of North America. The fact that we encourage them to invade our living space indicates that we are at least as dysfunctional as they are. My racism is thus even-handed, but is it 'politically correct'? Ha!

I noticed an item on a videoscreen at a local bank, which quoted Greenspan as telling French Finance Minister Berton that "the U.S. deficits are out of control!" Greenspan is known for his veiled statements & carefully-chosen words, so is he also out of control? If I were a foreign lender, I would have good reason for alarm, for the USS TITANIC is drowning in debt, just as we have been saying. Captain Greenspan finally admits it. Too bad we are not mistaken!

What we are seeing in the bastard state of Iraq may well be a prelude to events in the multi-national bastard empire called the USA, where our elections & constitution are equally divorced from Political, Economic & Demographic reality: Voodoo politics addresses illusions, not reality, as we may soon learn. Orwell said that "who defines controls", but not when the situation is really out of control!

All the best, as always. DOWZ! & ORION! E.T.
