

31 JAN 06. Hail Johnny! Many thanks for your letter of 25 JAN 06 & the newspaper clipping on the Holohoax denial stated by Iran's president. Iran, as I read, also endorsed Israel's U.N. resolution making Holohoax-denial an international thoughtcrime, so now Iran's president can be arrested if he travels outside Iran. So could anybody who is accused of doubting any aspect of the Holohoax, whatever that may be. ZOG says "Truth is whatever I say it is, so you'd better watch out!" Some sheeple still think "1984" & its Big Brother were just fiction. Poor dumb Goyim!

Yes, attrition does relate to genocide, for it means a reduction in a population, as well as the reduction of its means for survival, including its food & living space. Well, Friedrich Nietzsche did suffer a brain malfunction. Some claim it was from syphilis. Others claim it was from a brain tumor. Perhaps it takes a major mental malfunction for one to praise jews, as he did. I suspect that Nietzsche really enjoyed arguing with Wagner, who accused the hebes of culture-distortion against their host peoples. His statement that, "What does not kill me makes me stronger," is partly true, but the norm is that one does not become stronger, just sicker, & weaker. Since jews are already mixed, Afro-Eurasians, according to their own book, "The Genetics of the Jews" by Drs. A.E. Mourant et al., Oxford University Press, 1978, a jewish addition to European Whites would just produce more jews. I no longer capitalize that word, just as I don't capitalize "criminal", for jews are not a racially identifiable group. They comprise degrees of admixture of all 3 main races: Black, White & Yellow. Within those 3 races are the subraces or nations. For Whites they would be French, German, Irish et al. For Yellows they would be Han, Chin, et al. For Blacks they'd be Zulu, Masai et al. In Southern Sudan, for example, there are Black/Arab admixtures. Since both are combined, they are not members of A race, but are mongrels, but they come from a particular place, so they are an ethnic group. Jews come from all places, so jews cannot be identified as AN ethnic group, unless we say, "He is a Lithuanian jew; she is a Polish jew; he is an African jew; they are Chinese jews, Indian jews, Swedish jews, &c." Jews are not members of a religion, for there are Catholic jews, like Cardinal Lustiger, who declared "I am a Christian, but I remain a jew." That was correct if we use "jew" to mean a nationality, as in "I am a Buddhist, but I remain an Englishman." The USA now deems jews to be of jewish nationality, regardless of the country they were born in. Nation is biological, not geographical, for nation is a subdivision of race. We do not change our biology from moving around the globe! We change our biology only through race-mixing, the "adultery" forbidden by the jew-god in his alleged 10 commandments. Committing adultery has nothing to do with sex outside of marriage. That was called fornication. If I adulterate milk, that does not mean I have sexual intercourse outside of marriage. It means that I mix something else with the milk. Jews had wives (plural) & concubines (live-in sexual companions) during the time in which the Old Testament was written. Since women are still deemed 'property', it was as illegal under jewish law to grab another man's wife as it was to grab his property. Even the desire to do so was forbidden as a sin. Preachers lie about the meaning of adultery, but the Pure Food & Drug Act does not. It was a crime, for example, for a pharmacist to dilute, that is, adulterate his customers' cancer drugs, as occurred in the USA years ago. The adulterer was found guilty & may still be in prison. Christ-eaters cringe when I point out the true meaning of "adultery"! So much for their touted commandments!

Well, Your (Former) Holiness, congratulations on your release¹ into The Greater Gulag! It would be nice if your zoggies would show everyone the 'training film', "Papillion", starring Steve McQueen, as a prisoner who twice escaped from Devil's Island, off the coast of Venezuela, but which is a French colony. The French authorities welcomed the new inmates with the kind words: "We know you will make the best of what we have to offer." Devil's Island was supposed to be ^{the} stop on a one-way trip, for no prisoner was supposed to get off the Island alive, once he was sentenced there, like Alcatraz. I said that Hebrewood's depiction of Devil's Island made it look like a vacation paradise, but a fellow employee declared that it looked like hell to him, because "there were no cars!" Maybe he thought Devil's Island was as big as Texas. Speaking of appreciation for your accommodations, Ho Chi Minh said of his incarceration in French Indo-China that he was treated like a monarch: he lived in a fortress in which he was well-guarded & looked after 24-7 by hundreds of attendants. He expressed astonishment that this was called "punishment"! In Black Africa, imprisonment is deemed like a vacation for most Blacks. They receive food, clothing & shelter. As for sex, their motto is "Find a Hole & Fill It." Funny why they seem to behave like that after 500 years of contact with European civilization. Do you suppose that it might have something to do with race? What a horrible thought!

2) Of course, the Black prisoners I saw in Africa were under White governments. Now that they are in prisons run by their own people, things are probably not as good. Under Black rule, starvation &/or slavery are always just around the corner. It's even unhealthy to be a Black person in a Black society. NPR jewsradio featured "Back to Africa Tourism", in which American Blacks are invited to visit Ghana, on the west coast of Africa, also called Western Sudan. Ghana was the place where Blacks sold Blacks into slavery, for export to such places as the Americas & the Caribbean. Of course, Blacks were not the first slaves brought to America. Some of my ancestors were brought as slaves, as the British response to a Scottish revolt. Those who survived the voyage were hardy people, since most died of disease & hunger while the ships were still in port, in Britain. Britain is one of the world's foremost hypocrisies, although the USA is catching up, fast. The words for Britannia Rules the Waves include the lie: "Britons never, never shall be slaves!" I wonder when that might be. I surprised a Black who was going on about the injustice of slavery in America, by saying that my people were slaves in America before his were, & I showed him the names & dates they were shipped from Britain. A correspondent got the download from the Internet. I said that Christianity never disavowed slavery, but tells the bondsman (slave) to be loyal to his master. One slave skeleton found in Sardinia, next to Italy, still had his iron collar which was stamped with the words that "this slave is property of Archbishop so & so of Sardinia." Was there a money-back guarantee?

I'm surprised to learn from you that there is so much ZOG censorship in your gulag. I try not to exercise my full 1st Amendment Rights in hopes that the zoggies will let you read your mail. I suspect it is not the content, but is a pretext for punishment by denial of 'mail privileges'. I got a real kick out of one ZOG-refusal. I'd sent a prisoner a photocopy advertising a French film about the 1914 Christmas Truce, which showed a re-enactment of a French & German officer shaking hands in no man's land, as their troops stand around, mingling in no man's land between their trenches. The zoggie must have had a real sense of humor, because he sent back the picture, with a form letter stating that "gang-related material is not permitted." He noted that the picture showed (1) Gang members; (2) Armed gang members; (3) Gang members making gang gestures, meaning the handshake. Yes, I agreed that it was all true! I belonged to a gang called the U.S. Army. We carried weapons & exchanged gang gestures. Thanks be to ZOG, I now realize that I'd fallen into really bad company, & now I'm going straight. With this knowledge, I shall not volunteer to go to Iraq, so tell your zoggies that they did me a favor, & I'll pass it on to all those who may be called up for Iraq: just say 'no' to gangs!

You mention the loonies in your gulag. Here on the outside, it is not much different. Ever since I've been in Brownest Yakima I see featherless bipeds walking around talking by themselves, without cellphones. "Mental Health" is a growth industry in the Jew Ass Oy Veh.

By the way, how can one be an "active skinhead" if his hair needs shaving? Can skinheads have long hair? I always like my hair cut as short as possible, & now that I don't work for a living, I just have the barber shave it off. I let all the hair on my head grow, & when it gets too long on face & head, I have the barber shave it all off at once, about every 3 months, whether I need it or not.

All Holohoax "survivors" are professional (moochers), & according to jewish sources, there are over 5 million of them, collecting their "reparations payments" from the German tax-payers. One wise man said that "Duties without rights is slavery & Rights without duties is parasitism." Absolutely correct! The foremost Holohoaxers can win prizes for "Best Holocaust Fiction," but one has to be jewish to enter the contest. Even their "experiences" are fiction, such as corpses being burned under water & different colored smoke, depending on which jews were being cremated, &c.

Thanks for putting people in contact with me. I enjoy writing. The more the merrier! "The Khaki Election" is one I've heard of, but I don't know who had it. I suspect it was the British, perhaps their agents in South Africa, for khaki was adopted by the Brits for their uniforms, after redcoats became unfashionable in combat. I'll see if it is in the encyclopedia when I visit the local library. Yes, the OSS under Donovan preceded the CIA, that was supposed to prevent a 2nd Pearl Harbor. I never heard of Operation Mongoose. I was out of the country in most of the 1960s, so I wonder if it was the prelude to the Bay of Pigs disaster. I'll be on the lookout for that project. It's very good to hear from you, so for now, be your usual good self, unless you wish to renew your holy orders. All the best, as always & ORION!
