

10 MAY 06. Dear Claude! Many thanks for your great selection of information & for your outstanding letter of 27 APR 06! The U.S. Flat Rate envelopes do not depend on weight for fast delivery, so the postage is cheap. I received the wet copies of damaged material from Günter, & later, I received better copies from you, which were much appreciated, since I could photocopy your material much better for distribution amongst my correspondents. I am glad to learn from you that the material in my bulky Flat Rate shipment arrived, for I was concerned that your postal service might have stolen it, thinking that the contents were valuable. When my father worked in Brazil, my mother had no luck in sending him such things as socks or underwear in the mail, because of theft. Brazilian postal employees would also remove stamps from letters posted within the post office buildings, so customers had to stand in one long line to buy the stamps, & then stand in another long line to get the stamps cancelled, so the postal employees would not steal them for resale! That's typical Turd World behavior, so we can look forward to government services becoming shittier as the shit people multiply within the departments. Thanks for the information about Black regimes which now wish Whitey would return. I saw the movie, "Battle for the Planet of the Apes." As I entered a restaurant which I frequented in Toronto, I caught sight of hordes of beings in orange jump suits, who I thought were Black rioters in S.A. On closer look, I saw that they were actors dressed as monkeys, & that it was a movie, not a newscast! As the last (White) humans are captured by the apes, one human tells them that they will not be able to maintain the necessary infrastructure, upon which their standard of living is based. Too bad Hebrewood does not make a sequel showing the apes lamenting the extinction of the smart humans! Maybe Mugabe & Mandela could star! I got an increase in my social security payments, so at least I can afford to send you occasional Flat Rate parcels of information, based on my judgement of what you may find of interest. Any duplications, please pass on, which you may receive from Günter or me. U.S. postal rates are due to increase next year, so I want to make the most of current low rates to get the word out. Rising fuel costs are the reason for price increases.

I want you to receive the enclosed copy of The Yakima Herald-Republic so you can see history in the making. This is what I saw just outside my window, since I live near Miller Park, where the demonstrators assembled. The USA is massively invaded by mestizos who speak Spanish as well as growing numbers of non-Whites of other backgrounds: Blacks fresh from Africa, whom The American Jewish World Service imports, as they brag on radio, plus lots of Asians, including hordes of Chinese invaders. The danger, as I see it, is that our mad-bandit Zionist rulers may wish to hide their blunders by another 9-11, so as to stampede the mindless American sheeple into a war which the USA has already lost. Perhaps our Zionist Occupation Government plans to make good their escape from justice amid wartime emergencies & chaos. I see that North America has already been consigned to China by our jew masters, & China has the jew I.O.U.s to buy us outright. Americans have sold their birthright for a mess of "cheap labor," here & in Asia. Of course, America was always based on the rotten misconception that there is such a thing as "cheap labor." For society as a whole, there is no such thing. As one bumper sticker said: "If I'd known the trouble it would cause, I'd have picked the cotton myself!" Greedy Whites need immediate executions in any viable White society. The hordes of mestizos from Latin America are here because White traitors hire them for low wages & the White tax-payers pay for the invaders to breed. The jew textile mill owners in Bulawayo, Rhodesia, worked the same racket: they paid their workers spit, & the White tax-payers provided the workers & their families with housing, health care, schooling, &c. What is cheap for the employer is not cheap for the tax-payer, nor for society. Yakima County used to live within its budget, before the alien invasion, but now the County is broke, & 90% of the County's money goes to "criminal justice." With the illegal aliens comes lots of crime, so there is no money for road repairs & other necessary public works. Crime is the byproduct of paying aliens to breed gangs who have no employment possibilities other than drug-dealing & robberies. But Mexicans are much more ambitious & fast than Black^s were, & still are: Mexicans want to take over U.S. society from top to bottom. That's why they get into politics, at all levels of government, like our torture advocate, Gonzales, who is U.S. Secretary of Justice. As immigration amnesty is offered, the invasion continues. Well-paid jobs go to China & India, & those which remain go to illegal aliens. I ask where the former U.S. population went, since there appears to be no popular objections to job-losses! I await an answer. Has everyone retired? Gone on welfare? Living on unemployment insurance? On vacation? Selling drugs? Serving in Iraq? It is a mystery. Maybe the gods of space have taken them for a joy-ride in their "vimanas" or spacecraft!

2) Many thanks for the "Weapons of the Gods!" I had read of "atomic glass" being found in areas where no nuclear warfare nor testing has been done within our recorded period of history, that is, since 1945. Since we know of only one way to produce "atomic glass," by detonating nuclear devices, it would appear that such devices must have existed prior to our contemporary history.

There are so many references to "the gods" of ancient times in so many cultures, that it seems more difficult to believe that so many different peoples all had the same mass-hallucination about "gods", or that their story-tellers all had the same idea for their 'myths' & 'fables.' As I recall, even in Greek stories, such as the siege of Troy, the Gods favored one side or the other. I also suspect that "the gods" were based on fact, but the hideous warfare which allegedly took place of men versus men & gods versus gods casts a very dark cloud upon the wisdom of both. The rule of history is that might does not necessarily correlate with wisdom. It is like giving a submachinegun to a monkey, with the potential & likelihood for disastrous results. Other writers have lamented the gap between our technical knowledge & our moral idiocy, of which the USA is a current example. One writer objected to "China's arming of Africans." I replied that giving guns to jungle-bunnies is a good way of reducing their numbers, all by themselves. The writer agreed that he hadn't thought about racial differences. The gun-grabbers here in the USA had certain types of guns deemed "assault weapons." I noted that any weapon, even a club, can be used to commit an assault, but the P.C. crowd thought there was some evil overtone in the words "assault weapons." In their propaganda, the gun-grabbers claimed that "guns cause crime." So "more guns cause more crime, & some guns are more criminal than others." I challenged them to consider a country in which all adult males were equipped with fully-automatic assault weapons, with hundreds of rounds of ammunition, as their worst-case scenario. Those who debated with me agreed that such a country would be the most crime-ridden. I said, but that country exists. It is called Switzerland! The silence which followed was profound, to say the least. All "assault weapons" may be "equal," but the people who have them are not. "Aargh, RACISM!" they screeched.

Man definitely needs to evolve into a better creature, biologically & behaviorally, or he can continue to anticipate his own mass-extinctions, by all possible means. When Man multiplies beyond Nature's ability to sustain his numbers, then Man has two choices: he can make war upon himself OR he can make war on his environment, as in "Man Versus the Planet Earth." The result is the same, either way: fewer men. In his book, "Sex Versus Civilization," Elmer Pendell notes that "man improves when Nature is cruel. Man degenerates when Nature is abundant." But, Man seems to degenerate when he multiplies. Pendell called it "Problem-Makers versus Problem-Solvers." He wrote that Problem-Solvers create civilizations which solve so many human problems that the normally fecund Problem-Makers multiply like cockroaches, for civilization protects them from their own failings as humans. I recall an instance in recent experience. I had become used to the sidewalk on my way to the post office, so I was not observing the pavement, but enjoying the view of my surroundings. That second of inattention to my footing caused me to take a bad fall, for the pavement in front of the Catholic Mestizo School was booby-trapped with round pebbles, strewn by the mestizo monkeys on the sidewalk. Of course, if I were walking in the jungle, I'd watch where I was placing my feet, but I'd grown accustomed to a clear, smooth sidewalk, provided by the Problem-Solvers of my society. But, the Problem-Makers had rendered the safe sidewalk into a safety hazard, just because they are Problem-Makers, & not for any particular evil purpose. Crossing streets with traffic signals is also demanding of one's full attention, since the brown Problem-Makers do not heed the signals, unless they want to, & pedestrian crossing signals are most often ignored. Order is a principal factor in public safety, so increasing society's Problem-Makers brings about chaos, which is a growing hazard.

Jewsradio recently broadcast alarming allegations about U.S. versus British health conditions. Americans, regardless of income, seem to be much less healthy than Brits who eat the same crap as American bipeds: grease, starch & sweets. Brits also smoke, so why should there be such a difference in public health? One factor may be that Brits walk, & Americans do not, but another factor may be genetic, for most Brit Whites are not mestizos, that is, Eurasians, & most American "Whites" are Anglo- or Hispano-mestizos. Mestizos & Asians are prone to obesity, heart diseases & diabetes, so most American "Whites" suffer from those ailments, while White Brits do not. This seems like a good chance for genetic health research, but, as with the coverups in archeology, racial knowledge is deemed 'dangerous' by our Zionist Occupation Governments. Blacks are also prone to obesity & diabetes. FDR classed

3) mestizos as "White," so all federal wanted posters show "White" as the race of Anglo-mestizos, including American Indians. Hispano-mestizos are deemed "White," but "Hispanic." When one sees a negroid-dark mestizo listed as "White," one should wonder, as appears on federal wanted posters. "Hispanic" is not a race, despite ZOG's misinterpretation thereof, but a linguistic group. But here's the talmudic twist: "Hispanics" are deemed "White" for crime statistics & AIDS statistics, but they are deemed non-White for privileges, such as scholarships, grants & public funding. They are also deemed non-White when they are victims of Anglo-mestizo crimes! In Washington State recently, a fight broke out between a "Hispanic" student in junior high school & some ostensible White students, when the "Whites" tried to stop the "Hispanic" from abusing a "Hispanic" female student. The "Hispanic" was deemed non-White because he alleged that the "Whites" had attacked him. The authorities have seen this as a "hate-crime", because "Whites" were the alleged assailants. If the "Hispanic" had thumped the "Whites," it would not be a "hate-crime." If Blacks had attacked the "Hispanic," it would most certainly not be deemed a "hate-crime." Only Whites are ever charged with "hate-crimes." I asked a local FBI agent if non-Whites would ever be charged with "hate-crimes," & he said, "Don't hold your breath." Alice in Wonderland's absurdities are no bigger than the absurdities we observe in this Land of ZOG.

Are some Holohoax-Deniers "more equal" than others? In this case, how will Kohl escape Zionist Occupied Germany's 'jewdicial' system? I agree that it will do Ernst no good to recant, if we may go by the Irving precedent. If the alleged 'facts' in Ernst's case are so 'obvious,' then I wonder what is taking the German ZOG so long. As we know, the trial is also the punishment. It is similar to modern medicine, in which the medical tests are as painful, or moreso, than the alleged disease.

Yes, Wayne has lots to learn about religion in practice. I can remember my father attempting to read some Old Testament passages to me when I was 3 years old. My spoken vocabulary was quite insufficient & my reading ability was nil, so all I recall is my father mouthing meaningless sounds which he read from the jew-book. I was always, & will remain a Pagan. Christinsanity was like an ill-fitting suit for all members of my family. It was like the 'righteous' wearing of an uncomfortable starched collar, all because those mysterious "Joneses" expected that of us. Mom was always trying to keep up with those "Joneses," those mysterious paragons of ostensible virtue, who lived well beyond our means of 'keeping up with them.' The mythical Joneses turned me into a rebel at an early age, & I rejected the costly American Dream of suburban life which kept us eternal debt-slaves to the bankers, & which cost us lots of time tending lawns & gardens for the benefit of passers by, but were too small for us to enjoy, unless you didn't mind picnicking a few feet away from pedestrians, neighbors & auto traffic! As a child of suburbia, I was like the cat I saw in Portugal, which was obviously raised amongst chickens, rather than cats, since the cat was amid a flock of chickens, like one of them. It was going through all the chicken motions of pecking & scratching, then it would look around, as if to wonder what the hell these chickens got out of this activity. I was raised amongst American workingclass sheeple who aspired to middleclass status, which had no more meaning to me than the items which the chickens were scratching & pecking had to that Portuguese cat! That was how I was in my childhood, & so I remain, most thankfully, today. I have lived long enough to learn that "The American Dream" was an illusion from its beginning. Its only substance was in the charade of so many who wanted to believe in it, by living beyond their means, on behalf of people they were not. That's what prompted me to prepare for escaping this suffocating slavery. I looked at the big map of South America in the closet of my elementary school classroom when I was 8 years old, & I resolved to become an explorer, with The Amazon on my planned itinerary. I knew it would be just a matter of time, & unlike Mark Twain, I was not distracted by a career as riverboat pilot! In 1963, I stood on the banks of The Amazon, when I visited Leticia, Colombia, & it was just as magnificent as I'd imagined it to be. Just as suddenly, my primary goal had become one more step in my exploration of people & places, so I was going from strength to strength. I was 24 at that time, so it had taken me 16 years, in which I got out of childhood, school, university & the army, & stayed out of debt, so I was a free man, as I remain today. Unlike most sheeple, I became economically independent from my parents around the time I began working with the U.S. Forest Service as a seasonal fire-fighter. They had always supported me, & probably would have contributed to my graduate studies, but it was no longer necessary, for I had my own sources of funds by that time. After escaping the judeo-american ratrace in 1961, I never looked back, but I have had lots of confirmation that I was right in choosing my own course of action, every time. I also consider myself lucky.

4) Every act of courage & self-determination cost me nothing, but rather paid big dividends. Had I not been pro-White in Rhodesia, for instance, I could have remained to die in Smith's sold-out civil war, as others did, & I'd have had to flee as did other Whites, had I survived. Please note that I am not bragging about my alleged wisdom, nor my 'superior' capabilities. I only enumerate my good fortune. Of course, a price must be paid for everything. If a prisoner wants freedom, he must forego the certainties of food, clothing & shelter that he receives as a prisoner. The price I paid for knowledge about the USA-USSR gangsters was an academic career, with wife & children. On the other hand, I thereby had no hostages the ZOG could use against me, so that was a fair trade, as far as I'm concerned.

I recently received a letter from Wayne, who says he will continue to use the Internet for his missionary activities, rather than go door to door. For some unknown or mystical reason, he thought that missionary work could be most effective by meeting prospective converts face to face. He sent me 3 of his booklets for presentation to 'worthy' prospects, but I can still report that I have made no pro-White White contacts in Brownest Yakima since I arrived here in 1993! It seems that Wayne is attempting to make Newton's Law of Thermodynamics into a religion, which is about as inspiring as $2 + 2 = 4$. Yes, it's all true, but who cares? Well, I do not discourage him. Perhaps he will find some millionaire who will become a convert & fund his church. The White Man obviously needs a religion in place of jew-serving Christinsanity, & you seem to be on the right track in regard to the von Däniken thesis, in which we are descended (a long way down!) from astronauts from outer space. I do not know of any religion, as you have pointed out, which exists without myths or legends, especially when such stories are factual or based on fact, as "Weapons of the Gods" appears to be. It is also interesting that most people on Earth believe in reincarnation, as do all Hindus & Buddhists. Reincarnation is the 'hell' of those religions, for one must return to life forever, until he does right. Buddha's heresy from Hinduism was in his appeal to all castes of people & his creed that his way was the right-living which would free his followers from the eternal wheel of birth, death & rebirth. Even people who are not Hindus or Buddhists sometimes refer to people as having "old souls," especially when they are young. In fact, I.Q. has long been equated with maturity in youth, in which children capable of adult thinking are deemed intelligent beyond their chronological age. This is speculation on my part, of course. I don't know if you have read Savitri Devi's "The Lightning & the Sun," which addresses Yugas or Ages on The Wheel of Time, on which the Golden Age declines into the Kali Yuga or Dark Age, which reaches its nadir with the final incarnation of Kalki, The Bringer of Justice, who heralds the beginning of a new Golden Age. I find such ideas inspiring, as compared to Wayne's religion about The Conservation of Energy, &c.

Religion & science can work together, but the relationship & the presentation are tricky. I learned from a former Indian Army officer*who served under the British Raj as a lieutenant during World War II. He was almost a caricature of the type, complete with handlebar moustache. As a colonial civil servant, myself, I met a number of such types who'd served in other parts of the British Empire, & several had told me their memorable experiences. My Indian Army colleague told me that he was in charge of a railway station. The Japanese were attempting to invade India at its SE extremity, so the Brits were sending trainloads of ammunition to their beleaguered forces in that area. My friend's station was on the delivery route to the SE, so there were ammunition trains passing through, which Savitri Devi's colleagues of Chandra Bose's Indian National Army were trying to stop by throwing their bodies across the tracks. My Brit friend related what he'd told his Sikh sergeant: "The trains are about to leave, but they can't with these buggers lying across the tracks, for the engine drivers will not drive over them, as it would bring bad karma. We lack the manpower to remove them from the tracks, so what are we to do?" The Sikh sergeant, a much older man of experience, saluted & said, "Leave that to me, Sah!" & he disappeared into the eternal mob one finds everywhere in India. In a moment he returned, accompanied by half a dozen harijans, or untouchables of the lowest caste. He paid them a few rupees to stand on the cowcatchers & piss in front of the locomotives. When Chandra Bose's supporters saw who was about to pee on them, they quickly vanished. My friend looked at his watch as the locomotives began to move forward. "By Jove," he said to his sergeant, "the trains are leaving right on time!" Lesson: water alters karma, or urine Uber Alles. So there is one example of religion & reality for us to consider. *Major Baggs, as I now recall his name.

I suppose one could consider maggots in drinking water as a 'protein-enriched beverage.' For those who like fried grubs, maggots on tap would seem ideal, at least for boiling them. All the best, as always & ORION!
