

12 AUG 06. Hail Chad! It was great to receive your letter of 9 AUG. Nice zoggies! It appears as if your RIP course zoggies openly admit that men are neither "created equal" nor brought up equal. It would therefore seem that they are no longer trying a "one size fits all" approach to indoctrination, but may be tailoring their subject matter to the individual. I'd consider that a compliment. Whenever you get some kinky-kookie question like why you dislike sex offenders & child-molesters, I'd pull the old jew-jitsu by asking them why they would ask such a question in the first place. Remember: the questions they ask you say a lot about them. Why should anyone LIKE persons whose behavior is both immoral & illegal, as well as harmful to trusting & defenceless children? Someone who asks such a question should be asked if he or she has a taste for cannibalism or sado-masochism, by way of getting acquainted. Is Count Dracula in charge of your "RIP" course?

It is useful to learn a cause & effect correlation between one's thoughts & actions, beliefs & behavior. What applies to your experiences applies equally to your instructors' experiences. Given the same set of factors, two different individuals might behave similarly, & given different sets of factors, the same individual would likely behave differently. Although I remain the same person, for example, my behavior differs considerably at home, when there is no fire alarm sounding, as when there is smoke in the corridors & the fire alarm is ringing! As Henry David Thoreau wrote: "The unexamined life is not worth living." You are actually privileged to examine your own experiences in writing, for few people ever have such an opportunity. Most people are "leading lives of quiet desperation," as Thoreau noted in his time, around the 1840s. We are all self-taught. We can learn from others' experiences, & from our own, in "the school of hard knocks." I find it cheaper to learn as much as I can from others' experiences, so I can avoid hard knocks in my own life. Even so, I've had a number of surprises, which I have been lucky to have survived, so far.

One question I would ask of myself & of others is: what factors in my American life led me to wind up in prison? Another question is, why does the USA have the largest prison population, proportionally, in the world? I do not suggest that our environment is entirely at fault & that we are entirely blameless 'victims' of our society. I just wonder why U.S. society produces such a high proportion of prison inmates. Maybe we could compare the prison populations of Colombia & South Africa, which are notably rife with criminal activity. In Colombia, alleged felons are often "shot while attempting to escape." In South Africa, the felons are often the police themselves. Then, we have Iraq... Iraqis don't live long enough to land in jail, so their prison population is minimal. To be 'guilty' is to be a Sunni or a Shi-ite Moslem. It would be reasonable to ask why one has NOT been locked up, after living a number of years in the USA! Since I spent most of my adult life outside the USA, that may be one reason I have not been a guest of the ZOG-gulag. In 1969, when I became one of "America's Least Wanted," I was also banned from entering any Soviet Bloc country, including Cuba, so I avoided residence in their ZOG-gulags as well! As a long-time "word-criminal," I've led a gulagless existence, but I do not feel deprived in the least!

As you say, your "RIP" course sounds like fun, & your feed-back should be interesting. If that's what they mean by "rigorous," I'd say, "bring it on!" to quote our King George (Bush) II. I understand he has lived to regret those words, but not as much as our troops!

I'm happy to correct some Zionist propaganda in regard to "Semite." A Semite is an Arab, nobody else. Arabs are usually believers in Semitic religions such as Judaism, Christianity & Islam. The majority of Arabs are Moslems. Most jews, Christians & Moslems are NOT Arabs. Therefore, most jews, Christians & Moslems are NOT Semites, although they have Semitic religions. Semite = Arab, nothing else. The jews who stole "Israel" from the Palestinians, that is, the Semites, come from Russia. They converted to Judaism around 700 A.D. Semitic jews are called Sephardim. The jews who came from the Soviet Union & Europe are Khazars of Turkish/Black/Mongol extraction, who are called Ashkenazim. Black jews are Falashim, & there are also Indian & Chinese jews, who would not be Semites, regardless of their Semitic cult. Moslems are divided into 3 main branches: Sunnis, Shi-ites & Suffis. All branches consider the others 'heretics', like Catholics & Protestants. Most Moslems are Sunnis or Shi-ites. In The Middle East, as distinguished from Asia, Arabs are mainly Sunnis & non-Arab Iranians are mainly Shi-ites. In Iraq, the Sunni Arab minority ruled, via Saddam Hussein, over the Shi-ite majority, as well as the Kurds, who now have virtual independence from the former Iraq, as they always wanted. Iraq no longer exists, thanks be to ZOG. By toppling Saddam, the USA brought on the civil war it feared to mention, which is a turf battle between Sunnis & Shi-ites, with the U.S. forces caught in between. Israel wanted Iraq destroyed, so

Bush

2)/& his Zionist (jew-supremacist)'neo-cons' obliged, regardless of the cost in lives to the USA. Our Iraq experience should teach us that 'getting what we want' can be disastrous, especially if it's what Israel wants! If Shi-ites & Sunnis make peace, the ZOG's days may be numbered. Even so, the Shi-ites of Hizbollah seem to be giving Izzy-ZOG a very hot time.

As I understand from my studies of history, the ancient peoples of "The British Isles," including Ireland, spoke Gaelic or Celtic, as do the Bretons of France. These Irish/Scottish/Welsh/French inhabitants have been found as far east as NW China, where there are thousands of plaid-wearing, fair, blond White mummies called The Tokharians, whose civilization can be traced from Central Asia to India.

From what I gather, the ancient Britons of present-day England were also related to the Celtic-speakers. One archeologist, Colin Renfrew, believes that Western Civilization originated in NW Europe, rather than the alleged "Cradle of Civilization" in The Middle East, in the area of present-day Iraq. We are talking in terms of tens of thousands of years, not the brief & recent biblical time-frame of 2000 B.C. or less. As I understand, the only slaves brought into Britain were those of their own households & members of the legions, for the Roman enterprise, as admitted by Tacitus, was to conquer & enslave all inhabitants of invaded territories. This means that the Romans did not replace the native populations with their own, but came in to rule existing populations. When the Romans left Britain, Germanic peoples invaded, that is, non-Celtic speakers, specifically, Danes, Jutes, Angles, Saxons & Norse. The Angles may have given their name to "England," & the Saxons gave their name to Sussex (South Saxony), Wessex (West Saxony) & Essex (East Saxony). Apparently, the Angles & Saxons got on well together, so we refer to "Anglo-Saxons" today, both of whom are German tribes. The Scots refer to them disparagingly as "Sassanachs," Gaelic for Saxon. In 1066, Viking conquerors of Normandy, in France, invaded England & conquered the Saxon king at The Battle of Hastings. If I recall correctly, the Saxons had just returned from defeating other Viking invaders in the north, so the Normans (Northmen) gave the Saxons a one-two punch. Since William the Conqueror spoke French, that language became England's official language in the English court, partially replacing Latin. That's why so many French words are found in English, which remains a Germanic language. A BBC-TV feature on "The English Language" said that English was the "people's language", not the official Latin or French of the English court. English resulted from trade between Vikings & Germans. Trade languages are called "lingua francas", such as that used in the Mediterranean, Swahili in Africa, & pidgin English in Asia. English dropped the German endings of words, so as to be understandable to the Scandinavians, relying on word-order to convey explicit meanings otherwise conveyed by the German endings. It is notable that Gaelic had little or no influence on the development of English! English is basically a Low German dialect, similar to Frisian, which is still spoken around Holland.

I have encountered no more eloquent a speech/of British leader, Calgacus, who rallied his forces against the Romans. As you say, the British defeat was due to lack of skill & discipline, not lack of enthusiasm! Skillful use of terrain was made by Hermann to defeat Varus' legions, rather than discipline, for example, just as the French & their Indian allies defeated Braddock's British colonial force in the forest. Romans & 18th century Europeans required open ground on which to mass their forces' firepower, or in the Roman case, their javelins, arrows & infantry. The British commander of Quebec was out-numbered by the American rebels, so he placed his troops in the open, where their massed & disciplined fire power could defeat the less-disciplined Americans. That's why Quebec remained in The British Empire after The American Revolution. Had the British gone into the woods, they'd have lost Quebec. Had the Americans remained in the woods, they might have worn the British down, but they chose to fight on the plain. The Americans could see that the British were out-numbered, but their firepower made up for their lack of troops. Morale, elan, enthusiasm, &c. are important for warriors, but they do not substitute for military skill & discipline, as the French began to learn in World War I, for morale does not make one bulletproof. Imagine the bloody futility of advancing over open ground into enemy machinegun & artillery fire! So much for "the spirit of the bayonet." In U.S. Army Basic Training, we were taught bayonet fighting & trench warfare in 1960, almost as if World War I had never happened. Pretty scary! Well, at least we did not parade across no man's land. We crawled on our bellies, with our knees & elbows. Thanks, but no thanks. One Commie singer said of The Spanish Civil War: "How come we lost? We had the best songs!" As Mark Twain said, humor is a powerful weapon. As I say, memory is tyranny's worst enemy. All the best. DOWZ! ORION! & 88!

3) Medical science confirms what physical anthropologists like Lathrop Stoddard have long known: That visible differences indicate internal differences. Lions look like lions & they behave like lions. Apes look different from humans, & they behave differently, just as different-looking humans behave differently from other humans. Why should this be deemed taboo under Zionist rule? But it is. We learn that physical & mental characteristics go together. Ancients said that healthy minds coincide with healthy bodies, & this ancient wisdom is being proved by modern medicine. In America, we see the proof of ancient Aryan wisdom: "From the corruption of women proceeds the confusion of races; from the confusion of races, the loss of memory; from the loss of memory, the loss of understanding, & from this, all evil." "Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad," is indeed Americans' likely fate.

Weimar mental health statistics reported the small number of jews in Germany, but their high percentage of schizophrenic asylum inmates. Jews are Afro-Eurasians in varying degrees, as is the specimen known as Tiger Woods, the prototypical ZOG-man. Let us watch him for instructional purposes! Does he know who he is? If he knows that, then he knows what is good or bad for him, as so many Americans do not. Stay tuned! Racial confusion produces functional inconsistency, similar to drugs, as well as dependency upon others to decide what is 'bad' or 'good' for one. In mestizo America, I hear them say: "Beware of Juan. The Indian is on top, today!" Anglo-mestizos say, in regard to violent or bizarre behavior, that their "Indian got out." I've never heard statements of other racial backgrounds. I suppose I could say, when I pick up a coin on the street, that my Scotsman got out, but I also stoop to pick up a dollar bill & even a $20 bill if available, as would any sighted person, to my knowledge. I guess we could be deemed "all Scotsmen under the skin!" Ha.

Featherless bipeds appear to believe that the past does not matter, for the present is (in their feeble minds) all that is & all that will be. Does technology make us different? As I see it, technology contributes to sloth & causes our mistakes to appear faster in much greater quantities. If I hit the wrong key on my typewriter, I produce a small error, but not so if I hit the wrong key on a computer! Say that I am corresponding via E-mail with my bankster on an exceedingly sensitive financial matter. What then, if I hit the "SEND" key & caused that letter to go out to the world at large? Aargh! Human stupidity only worsens when hairless apes have access to high-tech, as we recently learned when a subhuman bureaucrat placed millions of names on a laptop at the disposal of some mestizo burglars. Some freedom-lovers fear high-tech tyranny, but not with such inferior types in charge! I read of several incidents post-9-11 in which "equal opportunity" (non-White) security personnel at airports left their high-tech inspection devices unplugged. DUH! Another ape in uniform left her 'security door' open, for a breeze. Another big DUH! consists in trying to achieve a terrorist-free USA, while leaving the borders open to alien invasion. No, this behavior does not compute as official U.S. policy, which is certainly pro-alien!

Re Scotland, NPR jewsradio recently reported a 'knife crisis' in Glasgow. It appears that knives, including switchblades, swords & machetes, are favored for gang aggression. My question is: are these gangs Scottish or aliens? If this were a Scottish tradition, why would we hear of it only now? I understand that dirks & claymores were long favored, but I suspect that the frequency of edged weapon usage does not reflect a resumption of clan warfare, as it does the Afro-Asian incursion, that is, non-White imperialism. The Zionist Occupation Government of Scotland wants to impose anti-knife laws, including registration of designated blade sizes & length, with criminal penalties for possession of forbidden cutlery. This is typical ZOG-law, in which the object is criminalized, rather than the criminal who uses it for criminal purposes. Clubs & bricks will be next! Shakespeare's MacBeth will likely be banned in Scotland, because of its sword-play, which 'glorifies' illegal weapons! Perhaps McDuff will best MacBeth in a pillow-fight. Will "Star Wars" light swords be permitted? Stay tuned! If we use ZOG-thought to survey our environment, what object MAY NOT be used as a weapon? Every object I can throw is a weapon, including my radio & typewriter. I also have a wind up clock which could become a lethal missile. The world must be ever so threatening to zoggies, surrounded as they are by 'criminal objects'! In Africa, Black bandits used bicycle spokes to immobilize their victims by stabbing them in their kidneys, so outlaw bicycles, before it's too late!

When we consider the plethora of potential weapons, I am reminded of flails used for threshing grain alias nunchuks, & the narrow sashes worn by the thuggees for strangling unsuspecting victims from behind. Hatpins & icepicks are notorious murder weapons, as are stiff-backed chairs & steel or kevlar helmets, when the victim is attacked from behind. Gladiators used exotic weapons to kill their foes, such as fishermen's

4)tridents. If I recall correctly, Marcus Aurelius' son, Commodus, dispatched his opponents with a chamber pot. Oy veh! No, he did not drown his opponents with the contents.

My solution for a united Ireland would be to send British Loyalists back to Britain, so they could be close to their Jewish queen, whom they profess to love so much. I understand that there are over 5 million Irish passport-holders living in the U.K., so why not arrange a swap? I last heard that Ulster has 3 million Prots, so a computer match could be made with 3 million U.K. Irish to trade jobs & places: Brits with Brits & Irish with Irish, so Ireland could be for the Irish, for once!

When I was a schoolkid in Judeo-America, my teachers used to tell us that World War I resulted from nationalism, the desire of all peoples to free themselves from imperial bondage, & to become self-governing nationstates, but now, they prate of multi-national states, & how desirable it would be to achieve a global state & to dissolve all nationstates with the notable exception of Israel! As I have noted, memory is the enemy of tyranny. Not only can I remember, but I can also 'see,' as could the human heroes of "They Live!" But of what value is my knowledge to mongrels who cannot distinguish between freedom & slavery, because they exist mainly as extensions of their digestive & genito-urinary tracts? Down-bred Whites are no different, so I would not wish to impose my alien values & behavior upon them, as it was for White colonialists to protect the natives from themselves. I have been a White colonial administrator, which is why I am not in favor of colonialism!

Diversity of beliefs & behavior is why we have prisons!

The pro-Israel anti-Moslem propaganda from Nick Griffin et al. is the result of our Zionist Occupation Governments' drive for diversity & the dissolution of our remaining vestiges of nationstates, which are now so crippled by ZOG that I do not see how such non-nations will be able to make war on Islamic peoples & suppress their Moslems at home. Islam has been the fastest-growing religion in North America, according to jewsmedia reports, not only by means of immigration, but by means of conversions on the streets & in the prisons of North America, chiefly amongst Blacks. Behavior follows belief, so Zionist persecution of Moslems abroad is most likely to cause Moslem rebellions at home, that is, in our former homelands. Non-wogs are also being converted from the White populations, for Islam is a race-mixing cult like Christinsanity, but with the balls which the Christ-eaters lack. It is hard to imagine that the present U.S. population would join ZOG's imperial legions as volunteers or as conscripts, no matter how many 9-11s our ZOG arranges for us. Under pressure, a diverse society tends to disintegrate, like former Yugoslavia, former Czechoslovakia, former Lebanon & former Iraq. My solution would be to make peace with Moslems in their countries & encourage our Moslem invaders to return to them, for the tenets of Islam do not tolerate infidels in Moslem livingospace, ever since the foundation of Islam. Dumb ZOG-zombies condemn "Moslem extremists," but any casual inspection of Moslem doctrine reveals its intolerance for non-Moslems who must convert to Islam, or else, exactly as the Christians used to do! Former India split in 1947 because Moslems could not co-exist with Hindus, so the Moslem minority fled into areas of the Indian subcontinent now known as Pakistan & Bangladesh. Ireland split into Ireland & Ulster. In no land does harmony exist with diversity, only division & strife. The outbreak of strife depends on population expansion & on overcrowding, as in India. In the USA, mestizo population expansion, chiefly from Mexico, has altered domestic policy, & will eventually alter U.S. foreign policy, as the retreating non-hispanics give the invaders everything they want, including welfare, jobs & government positions. This abject Anglo surrender of U.S. territory & resources, along with their policy of "everything for Israel," appears to be "both ends against the middle." As I see it, there isn't enough fat in the middle to go around, so when the handouts cease, the Balkanization of North America is likely to turn violent. Will China be willing to suppress diversity in North America, while Zionists wage war against Moslems with mercenary minions? It would seem more in China's interests to do nothing while the ZOGs of U.K., USA & Europe exhaust their economic & military power at home & overseas, on behalf of diversity & Israel. The more I learn about U.S. politics, the more fictional the USA becomes. Local interests consume most available political resources, including voter interests. The imperial war in IRAQ is only deemed important when local interests are affected, usually by personal loss in local families. Otherwise, U.S. policy may as well take place on Mars. There is no public interest in the USA, merely the sum of private interests, some of which are "more equal" than others, as we know: Israeli interests come first & non-White interests next, as long as Whitey can pay with his blood & money. The deluge will come when there is not enough of Whitey to divvy up on behalf of diversity. I have the feeling that it's much later than we think. ORION!
