

29 OCT 06. Dear Tom: Many thanks for your thoughtful letters of May, June, August & OCT 06! I wouldn't worry about repetition, for when one is on The Titanic, surrounded by icebergs, there isn't much variation in the scenery, nor is there much of interest to learn from the zombie passengers, nor from the mad captain who is racing to the nearest iceberg, as Captain Bushy is pursuing Armageddon in Our Time amid the equally mad applause of Christian Zionists & Israel-Firsters.

I think the Zionist banksters fear Hitler, because he represents their nemesis, as Savitri Devi wrote in "The Lightning & the Sun." She believed that Hitler was the penultimate incarnation of Kalki, The Bringer of Justice, who will destroy the proponents of The Dark Age, thereby heralding the advent of a new time-cycle, a new Golden Age. She believed that the agents of the Dark Age forces know their time is growing short, so they do the worst they can to lengthen their pernicious rule on Earth, but their efforts only guarantee the return of Kalki, at his appointed time. This is why the Zionist incarnations of Evil so fear Hitler, & why they cannot drive him out of their minds. It must be scary for them to be so haunted by Hitler, & to know that his reincarnation is coming to their neighborhoods, soon.

Your job seems to be worsening, & I'm sorry to learn that you may be deemed 'surplus to requirements.' My last job departed for India, so I was not the only employee affected. I've been to Bombay alias Mumbai, so I was not tempted to follow it there. Besides, I'd have been way too expensive, if I wanted to earn my Washington State minimum wage in India. That's why the company left, so it could pay those lower Indian wages. One commentator noted that "any job which can be done on computer can go anywhere on earth." As for the jobs which cannot be moved, our rulers import aliens who will work for less.

I have also noticed the American lack of humor, just as Herman Melville noticed our lack of trust in business dealings. As for reading signs, most Americans seem allergic toward reading, but they do read what pleases them. I used to work in a parking garage which had a large sign which said: "FREE PARKING with validation." Most customers only saw "free parking," & skipped the rest, so they were irate when they were required to pay for parking, unless they wanted to go back in the store & have their ticket validated by the store. There were also big signs & tell-tales warning drivers about overhead clearance. When a parking attendant saw a customer in a tall rig knock the overhead bars, & continue to drive in, we had to scamper so as to catch him before he got in, otherwise he couldn't exit because of low overhead beams. Such heedless customers would cause major traffic jams in the garage, which had 5 levels.

I don't know what remains of the Amazon Rainforest, for large tracts have been burned to clear the land for conventional farming. My Latin American geography professor who had travelled over the region extensively by air, land & water, said that the Amazon had the thinnest layer of topsoil of any region, approximately 3"! The soil must be protected by the forest above & the shallow roots below, for the rains leach the unprotected topsoil out to sea, if that protection is removed. My professor predicted that a region of Brazil would become a desert within 20 years if the land-abuse were to continue. He was wrong, he said. The desert came in 10 years! That had happened in the 1950s, so much worse has happened since then with the monster tractors which the USA dubbed "the Rome Plows". I think that we can't continue to seek infinite growth, production & consumption on this finite planet, so ecological disaster is not a matter of IF, but WHEN. Our capitalist credo is "Devil take the hindmost." Many deserts are man-made, as one writer said, by the 3 Os: Over-logging, over-grazing & over-population. To this end, the USA is looking forward to more millions of immigrants, largely fleeing their own countries which they have ruined. One researcher advised us not to worry too much about oil shortages, but water shortages. Washington State's land east of the Cascade Mountains, is running very short of water, due to increased demand & possible climate changes which have greatly reduced the winter snowpacks. It looks like a no-win game of depletion & pollution for profit: man's war against Planet Earth.

As you can see, I have mainly addressed your letters in chronological order, but yours of 21 OCT 06 is poignant in regard to your dismissal from your Temporary Part-Time job, at which you worked conscientiously. Your description reveals obvious favoritism, & the retention of the new Mexican hire bodes no good. A formerly employed Yakimoron told me of

2) his nasty experience in the orchard where he worked: a Mexican foreman was hired, so he only hired Mexicans. The Whites were dismissed, even though most of the Mexicans did not know their jobs. He supposed that the foreman eventually taught them, or not. Another White told me of his dire experience in a local meat-packing plant in which the Mexicans drove out all non-Mexican employees by violence. One White was killed & he was maimed so badly that he is now on a full-disability pension, which doesn't stretch very far to support his family. This is war. The Mexicans are the foot soldiers & our race-traitor bosses are the generals. This is why they want the borders open. The USA was founded by criminals who sought to deny their 'equals' a living wage, just as in colonial days. Now these scum will deny us a country, under the Globalist Jew World Ordure.

No Mexicans took my last job, because it went to India. But, don't worry, the Indians are also coming here to take over clerical & professional jobs, with often phony credentials. If you're non-White, the USA is up for grabs. Come on & take a piece! Meanwhile, Whites sleep on, lulled by the jungle beat of the jewsmedia.

When I returned to the USA in 1992, jobs were hard to find. I thought it was possibly in Louisville, KY, because its economy was one of large estates & service jobs, much as in England's upperclass districts. As a typical Goy, I had to commute a fair distance by car from where I could afford to live, to my work in the upperclass district, where I was a groundskeeper on a beautiful 30-acre estate. It was sure beautiful, but it was very expensive for me to work there. The job was seasonal, so in November 1993, I foolishly drove my car to Yakima, WA. If I'd had a crystal ball, I'd have taken a bus, since jobs were just as scarce in Yakima, after my correspondent's tip failed to pan out. Once again, my employment was on a word of mouth basis. As in Louisville, KY, where I answered all the ads for employment, I received nary a reply. I could not do groundskeeping, for the Mexicans had those jobs sewed up tight. So much for my 2 B.A.s + M.A.! I also contacted colleges in KY & WA, where I was told that their faculties were running scared for job tenure. I saw lots of jews & other non-White faculty members, but very few Ostensible Whites. Every job application required the applicant to fill out his racial/ethnic status, although there was supposedly no preferential hiring, except for "affirmative-action" in favor of non-Whites. That struck me as most Orwellian. Had I been a young parent, I'd have been truly desperate. I wonder what happened to those desperate minimum wage-earning parents who had worked so efficiently at the job which went to India. Some of them were trying to hold down two or 3 part-time, minimum wage jobs, which required rat-race style commuting, which included leaving their children at daycare centers &/or schools, plus picking them up. I concluded that their lives were endless nightmares derived from Mission Impossible. No one could afford to get sick, nor to oversleep even half an hour! A few told me that they had to move back to live with their parents. Somehow, the Mexican invaders seem much better organized than these White rat-racers: they seem to have infinite numbers of spicklettes, & can afford to drive around in expensive, fancy cars, which are also customized. Of course, those may just be the successful local druglords, but there must be lots of them!

As you say, the USA was never a nation, but always an empire. As revealed by "The Organization Man," whose loyalty to his company broke up American communities, by requiring frequent moves, even local solidarity was destroyed, so we now see parents who both work, suffering family crises when one spouse must move away to retain his or her job. So now, our banker-masters have contrived to destroy the family, with our enthusiastic participation, of course. Meanwhile, jews & other non-Whites form communities of their own & extend their nations' control of our former living space. If the Chinese military strategist, Sun Tzu, could speak English, he'd say to us: "You invaded & occupied under traitor regime. Why you no fightee?" Then he'd probably sigh & think, "What else can one expect from round-eyed devils?"

Others have noted that military establishments are extremely conservative, usually preparing to refight the last war. The U.S. military-industrial complex appears to be commanded by industry, rather than military strategy, which must be subordinate to political strategy. To make matters worse, our political, military & industrial strategies are subordinate to Israel & the Jew World Ordure, so we have been defeated before we got into our present Middle East Morass, while Whitey sleeps on.

Best wishes for success on The Economic Front! DOWZ! & ORION!

P.S.: Does that newspaper story indicate that monkeys may replace jew paint-daubers like Picasso? The quest for "cheap labor" never seems to end!
