

5 NOV 06. Dear David: It was great to receive your letter of 29 OCT 06. If I succeed, ORION will be banned by ZOG as "Nazi propaganda," just as the term, ZOG, is in Soviet Canuckistan alias Canada alias China-duh. A Jew in Ontario province named Herzog got his vanity licence plate 'holocausted', for it read "THE ZOG" thereon. CANZOG said he was displaying "Nazi propaganda," which was forbidden in kosher Canuckistan. Herzog claimed they were "anti-Semitic." I don't know how the case was resolved. Oy veh!

It seems your governor thinks he can run with the hare & hunt with the hounds, so will the Texas tax-payers wake up & turf him out? I guess we should stay tuned. Both ZOG parties want the illegal aliens: the Dems for votes & the Reps for 'cheap labor,' paid for by the tax-payers. Bad luck to him, in any case. As you say, legal travellers will be required to have passports, as law-abiding citizens must have weapons permits. Illegals need have no such documents, of course. As for the "700 mile long border fence," I understand from the jewsmedia that the project has been approved by CONgress, but no funds have been allocated for it. Such a deal! As you observe, there is no need for new laws, just enforcement of existing laws, but ZOG is not willing to do so. When ZOG shirks its job, the tax-payer gets squeezed to pay for the alien invasion.

I also agree with Pendell. I have his book on "Why Civilizations Self-Destruct." Yes, it does seem that we have run out of Problem-Solvers, so our civilization continues to accumulate artifacts from sheer momentum, as we become less able to solve existing problems which are rapidly worsening in demographics, economics & politics. The "Nawlines" fiasco of Katrina served to illustrate exactly what Pendell warned of, as failure to cope with crises which we previously coped with. NPR jewsradio compared a hurricane in 1927, which was, perhaps, worse than Katrina, or at least as bad, in terms of area. Authorities under Herbert Hoover, who was not then president, if I recall correctly, coped quite efficiently with survivor relief & damage repair, all with existing communications & technology. In those days, there were no aircraft nor highways for relief efforts, just railroads & boats. Telegraph & telephone lines were knocked out, as occurred in Katrina, but that situation was also handled competently in 1927. Majority Problem-Makers can only see that as 'magic.' Theirs not to reason why, because they can't. Chief among our Problem-Makers is our own government, at all levels, unlike that of 1927. We are definitely running out of brains.

Indeed, Aryan is as Aryan does. Being cannot be separate from behavior. Ostensible Whites who immerse themselves in alien music, for example, give me grave doubts as to their genetics, as well as paining my ears. Whom the gods would destroy, they first make deaf, or deafness may be a sign of initial madness, for a White must be nuts to listen to rap-crap et al. In Brownest Yakima, Mexicans listen to Mexican music, Blacks to Black music (?), Indians to their rhythmic howling, Orientals to nothing & 'Whites' to Black rap-crap. Music is the essence of racial 'soul', for shopping malls which do not want loitering non-Whites play Mozart on their sound systems. If White music offends non-White sensibilities, why does it not seem to affect 'White' sensibilities adversely when they are exposed to alien vibes? I suspect it is because those pale-faces are not really White. This would also explain the lack of White racial awareness.

My Latin American experience taught me that mestizos can envy Germans without being Germans themselves. Many mestizos like the Germans, only because they stood up to the Yanqui imperialists twice in the 20th century. This is similar to Moslems' love for Hitler.

Yes, as Orwell warned, "Tyranny begins with the abuse of language." He provided "Newspeak" for his novel, "1984", but we have "politically-correct speak" in reality, that is, "jewspeak." Some proles have been indoctrinated to believe that "1984" is fiction because we have no surveillance cameras all around, & we are not exposed to lying government propaganda, as were the fictional people of "1984." Besides, our bogeyman of history is Hitler, not Goldstein (who was the "1984" pseudonym for Trotsky, as Big Brother was for Stalin). Unfortunately, our ZOG propaganda is quite as blatant as was Orwell's satire, now that we have grown much more stupid. Pendell noted: as people become more stupid, government becomes more brutal. I saw an example of this in Panama, when I chanced to be near a fire. The police saw that a pressing crowd of stupid spectators was closely surrounding the burning building in which explosions could be heard, followed by puffs of colored smoke. When the fire engine approached, the police wordlessly cleared the way by smashing the crowd with their rifle butts, in a casually savage manner, which was obviously routine: no words, just intense pain, as one would communicate with cattle.

2) As extra-curricular reading in college, I perused a brief biography of Aleister Crowley in which the author described him as promoting "Crowleyanity," rather than Satanism per se. Peter Tompkins' "The Magic of Obelisks" shows Crowley's certificate as 33° Freemason, which is 'honorary', meaning that it is conferred for 'great service' to Freemasonry. Franklin D. Roosevelt was also a 33° Freemason. In some religions, especially Semitic ones, knowing something's or someone's name gives the knower power over that person or thing. This is why devout jews use "G-d" instead of "God" in their texts, even though "God" is generic, rather than specific, like Yahweh alias YVH or some such. If knowing the correct name of a person or thing gives power, then mis-naming it deprives the knower of understanding & thereby of power. Oxymorons are an example which you mentioned, but illusions are another scam of choice by the talmudic word-twisters. "Democracy" has been their fetish for herding the Goy sheeple, as we see currently in Iraq. If we are willing to die for illusions, I'd prefer unicorns which are beautiful, as well as mythical. As Jean Michelet wrote in "Satanism & Witchcraft," Satanism is usually the reaction to an overdose of Christianity, which accords with self-styled Satanists whom I've known. Apparently, they can only feel free in a state of rebellion. My immune system rejected Christinsanity early on, so I had no need for Satanism, which I deem one more Semitic perversion that I can well do without. Satanism is a form of Kabalism which appears, partially, in written form in The Babylonian Talmud (63 books in the English Soncino Edition). The Kabala is ancient, compared with Christianity, which fits perfectly into the Kabalistic formula for spell-casting. In Kabalism the innocent are used as scapegoats for the guilty, just like Jesus. Moreover, if the victim of the Kabalist criminal does nothing in his own defence, after the criminal reveals what he is doing to the victim, or even forgives the criminal, the guilt for the crime passes onto the shoulders of the victim, who is a willing accomplice in his own victimization! That is why wise men refer to Christinsanity as "ethno-masochism."

In the late 1970s I interviewed James Madole, who told me of his discovery of Kabalism. He was fond of reciting, "As above, so below." He explained that The Universe was a great being, Adam Cadmon, & that we could influence that being on our own behalves by way of certain Kabalistic formulae, based on that credo, "as above, so below." I thanked Madole, for I said that I had wondered for decades what constituted EVIL in reality, if it even existed. I said, that if I understood him correctly, we tiny finite beings could change The Universe on behalf of our finite, fleeting desires. He nodded affirmatively. I concluded that we would then become like cancer cells in a human body, which wanted to do their own thing, without regard for the well-being of the body as a whole. I said to Madole: "You have just described The Cancer of the Universe. I believe that I now know true evil." In the light of the bare bulb, Madole looked yellowish, almost translucent. Three months later, I heard that he'd died of cancer. As above, so below.

World War I started because of jewish finance, which lent the money required; British diplomatic chicanery in which Britain did not announce its de facto alliance with France & Russia, whose politicians were bribed via France to go to war; British lust for oil in the Turkish Empire, which Germany threatened to grab with its railway through Kirkuk & Mosul, en route to Bagdad & Basrah. Britain didn't mind about getting rid of its 'surplus' White population, either, as slaves or as military conscripts, another euphemism for slaves. No doubt, Russia had similar reasons for wanting war, to avoid revolution, as did Britain, France, the USA et al. But World War I actually speeded up the revolution in Russia, since its jews stayed home; another example of war being for the rich, while the fight is for the poor. The jew, Kerry, let it slip out: "either go to college or go to Iraq." Old scams work as long as young Goyim do not & will not learn. Those who behave as cattle are slaughtered like cattle. Theirs not to reason why, because they just can't.

From a Zionist "cui bono?" aspect, it would seem logical to arrange another 9-11 for Los Angeles or some mainly mestizo metropolis in order to enlist "Latinos" in a Jihad against Moslems in exchange for instant U.S. citizenship. If I were the ZOG, it would be tempting for me. Many thanks for sharing your thinking with me, for I have no minds with which to communicate locally. DOWZ! & ORION!

Diversity: Yours to enjoy in sunny
Iraq (dumb Goyim) !
