

TVO revisionism?

Feb. 16, 2000 *Briston
Indyprint*

Control of monetary policy was the impetus for American revolution

After watching six hours of TVO's recent airing of "Liberty" (an expensive American production purporting to explain the reasons and history of the American War of Independence), I am driven to ask if this TV fare was an indication of TVO's participation in the Revisionist Movement or simply a careless and uncritical acquisition?

Frankly, nobody gives a damn what nonsense the media promulgates in the US but for TVO (unwittingly or otherwise) to participate in this propaganda is, in the name of historical accuracy, shameful!

But, one might ask, what about all those History academics who lent their faces and names to the production? Courtesy demands that the obvious answer be set aside.

Canadian school children, or Canadians in general, were they to be asked to explain the origins of the War of Independence, (if they were listening to their teachers) would doubtlessly respond with, "It was a case of taxation without representation, brought to a head with the Boston Tea Party." Charming, of course, but essentially false, and should be filed along with that silly Cherry Tree incident.

To get to the nub of this historic event we must cite the first clue which can be found in the words of one Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790). Right, he was the guy with the kite and the bolt of lightning; but he was also an American statesman, diplomat, author and inventor who helped draft the Declaration of Independence.

Around the time of the Treaty of Paris, 1763, Franklin, who was visiting England, was asked to explain why the colonies were so prosperous, to which he replied:

"That is simple. It is only because in the colonies we issue our own money. It is called 'Colonial Script' and we issue it in the proper proportion to the demands of trade and industry." (See Senate Document #23, Page 98, by Robert L. Owen, former Chairman, Committee on Banking and Currency, United States Senate.)

Owen writes: "It was not very long until this information was brought to the attention of the Rothchild's Bank, and they saw that here was a nation ready to be exploited; here was a nation setting up an example that they could issue their own money instead of the money coming through the Banks.

"The Rothchild's Bank caused a bill to be introduced in the English Parliament, therefore, which provided that no colony of England could issue its own money. They had to use English money. Consequently the colonies were compelled to discard their 'Script' and mortgage themselves to the Bank of England (i.e., the Amsterdam Bullion Brokers!) to get money. For the first time in the history of the United States our money began to be based on debt.

"Benjamin Franklin stated in one year from that date the streets of the colonies were filled with the unemployed because when England exchanged with them, she gave them only half as many units in payment in borrowed money from the Rothchilds as they had in 'Script'. In other words, their circulating medium was reduced 50% and everyone became unemployed according to Benjamin Franklin's own statement."

Continuing the quote from Senate Document #23: "Mr. Franklin went further than that. He said that this was the original cause of the Revolutionary War. In his own language: The other matters had it not been that England took away from the colonies their money which created unemployment and dissatisfaction."

Finally, the six-episode document, along with a few intonations by the voice of American conservatism, George Will, ended with that seemingly irrepressible falsehood: "The Revolution (the creation of the U.S.A.) was caused by a tax dispute with the British."

*Don Newlands
Colborne*

14 NOV 06. Dear Tom: Many thanks for your insightful letter of 9 NOV 06. Egad! How embarrassing it would be if we saw ourselves as Chinese see us. Sun Tzu's term, "mad bandits," seems most charitable.

What we see ongoing in the USA would be even worse in Mexico, under Chinese economic conditions in which China trades manufactured goods for raw materials, including oil. All Mexico needs is additional unemployment in the midst of their uncontrolled birthrate. Experience has demonstrated in Canada, Argentina & the USA that manufacturing is the locomotive in a country's economic train. Primary & tertiary sectors of the economy: agriculture & mining + service industries, do not generate sufficient employment & income to sustain a country's economy, especially when combined with a high birthrate which dictates job-creation, or else; the 'else' being political instability of the sort we now see in Mexico. Local Mexicans complain to me that they are scared to visit Mexico City, where crime is rampant & cops moonlight as robbers. They also complain that jobs taken from the USA are now going to China. Mexican agriculture is being inundated by subsidized crops from the USA, which causes more economic displacement & more illegal immigration in the USA. It's what people call a zero-sum game, in which one man's winning is another's losing. Two people cannot occupy the same space at once, therefore if I occupy the space, no one else can. This knowledge is a well-guarded secret in the U.S. school system. That's why Goyim are led to believe that the USA can 'thrive' on infinite numbers of unskilled, needy immigrants. The current ZOG-prop is that "we are a nation of immigrants." What is omitted is the grim fact that most White immigrants to early America were slaves, who were followed by additional slaves from Black Africa. White slavery never ended in North America, for Anglos, being the world's foremost hypocrites, called slaves by other names, including "employees." Child-slaves were also called "apprentices," although they had no choice whatsoever in their occupations, as if one would acquire skills by hauling coal on one's hands & knees! One accurate cynic described 'economic progress' as transferring our own slavery to other peoples. Capitalists always search for "cheap labor," at the expense of the societies in which they live. Hence, the former USSR was, in the wise words of Bakunin, "not a workers' paradise, but a bank (sters') paradise." As long as plutocrats prosper at the expense of their communities & civilization it will be so much more the worse for our communities & civilization. I have noted, over the years, that U.S. stock markets appear to prosper when U.S. employment drops & vice versa. Businesses seem to increase 'earnings' by firing workers. Another well-kept economic 'secret' is that productive, educated workers improve the general prosperity, which generally, but slower than capitalists like, improves capitalist profits. German economic thinkers have long deemed the USA as a "Raubbauwirtschaft," or "robber economy", designed for short-term profit & long-term loss, through disinvestment in its workforce, pollution & depletion of its environment & natural resources, as if tomorrow will never come, at least in our own lifetimes, as we pass our debts onto our young. Indeed, we have a criminal economy, run by crooks, for crooks, with a majority of sheeple who think that crime pays, at least for them. That's our incentive for electing criminals to office, for we think they will steal for us. Obviously there are lots of surprises in store, as former Enron employees discovered. Enron is the USA writ small, so denizens beware. History shows us that the USA was never a republic, but always a racket, which General Smedley Butler defined as an enterprise which benefits the few at the expense of the many.

It is also history that "the best government money can buy" will always sellout to the highest bidder. A corollary of "cui bono?" is "follow the money." The jew banksters create our money out of nothing, which we owe to China in our growing trade deficit. If I were a Chinese decision-maker, I'd hasten to spend my jew funny-money on acquiring raw materials, fuel & foodstuffs, as well as real estate or control thereof. From a White viewpoint, we see that our Zionist Occupation Government is selling America to China, via the kosher connection & con-game. We are letting the hebes sell the ground out from under our feet. I've been shocked, shocked! by Democrats who call for a coup d'etat in The District of Corruption, in terms of The Declaration of Independence, but will that coup be kosher, like the one which began in 1776? Stay tuned! We will, as we have no other choice.

As you observe, the symbolic proposal of a symbolic 700-mile border fence will symbolize the division of $\frac{1}{2}$ of Mexico from its other $\frac{1}{2}$. Such a deal! Our situation is currently hopeless, but not serious, so we may enjoy a laugh or two during this lull before the storm. Whites are asleep, & we wish that they will wake up in time to save themselves, but people are known to die in their sleep, so waking up is by no means a sure thing. All the best. DOWZ! & ORION!

Edie