WASHINGTON, Dec. 29 /PRNewswire-USNewswire/ -- After numerous refusals over three and a half years, the Social Security Administration (SSA) has released the first known public copy of the U.S.-Mexico Social Security Totalization Agreement. The government was forced to make the disclosure in response to lawsuits filed under the Freedom of Information Act by TREA Senior Citizens League, a 1.2 million-member nonpartisan seniors advocacy group.

The Totalization Agreement could allow millions of illegal Mexican workers to draw billions of dollars from the U.S. Social Security Trust Fund.

The agreement between the U.S. and Mexico was signed in June 2004, and is awaiting President Bush's signature. Once President Bush approves the agreement, which would be done without Congressional vote, either House of Congress would have 60 days to disapprove the agreement by voting to reject it.

"The Social Security Administration itself warns that Social Security is within decades of bankruptcy -- yet, they seem to have no problem making agreements that hasten its demise," said Ralph McCutchen, Chairman of the TREA Senior Citizens League.

The U.S. currently has 21 similar agreements in effect with other nations, which are intended to eliminate dual taxation for persons who work outside their country of origin. All of the agreements are with developed nations with economies similar to that of the U.S.

For example, a worker who turns 62 after 1990 generally needs 40 calendar quarters of coverage to receive retirement benefits. Under totalization agreements, workers are allowed to combine earnings from both countries in order to qualify for benefits. The Agreement with Mexico, like other totalization agreements, would allow workers to qualify with just six quarters, or 18 months, of U.S. coverage.

But Mexico's retirement system is radically different than that of other participating countries. For example, only 40 percent of non-government workers participate in Mexico's system, whereas 96 percent of America's non-government workers do. In addition, the U.S. system is progressive, meaning lower wage earners get back much more than they put in; in Mexico, workers get back only what they put in, plus accrued interest.

"I applaud the persistent efforts of TREA Senior Citizens League to try to get documents from the U.S. Government about the U.S.-Mexico Social Security Totalization Agreement," said Rep. Walter Jones (news, bio, voting record) (R-N.C.). "The American people are finally beginning to get some of the information regarding this Agreement that they have been seeking for so long."

According to the SSA, the Social Security Trust Fund will begin paying out more than it is taking in by 2017, and will be exhausted by the year 2040.

With 1.2 million members, TREA Senior Citizens League is one of the nation's largest nonpartisan seniors groups. Visit <http://www.SeniorsLeague.org> for more information or to see the Totalization Agreement documents.

9 JAN 07. Dear Paul: Many thanks for your great downloads! A correspondent supplies me with downloads from The Newhall Signal (if Newhall exists any more), for which I used to work as cub reporter when I attended William S. Hart Jr. - Sr. High School in the 1950s. As I gather, the area has been suburbanized, reorganized & Mexicanized since I saw it last. Mexico's federal invasion of Tijuana is an additional indication that civil war is brewing in Mexico because of Mexicans' endemic corruption & over-breeding, despite their U.S. population safety-valve. Such a civil war will have likely manifestations in the USA, IN ADDITION TO the already increasing flood of illegal immigrants, which will become a 'surge' with civil war or rumors thereof. ZOG wants its "North American Union," which is usually an Orwellian opposite, like New World Order, meaning Disorder. Thus, our North American situation is more likely to be Disunion over the entire continent. In other words, a crisis, which includes danger & opportunity, as the Chinese define it. The future belongs to the vigorous, the intelligent & the ruthless. Do we ever live in exciting times! NEWSFLASH: Just heard on NPR jewsradio that Venezuela's Chavez wants to nationalize major industries, including its oilfields. Chavez is sure yanking the Yankee or yanqui ZOG's chain, if true.

Iran's Ahmadinejad is finally doing what my essay, "The West, War & Islam," advised Moslems to do back in the 1970s: Invest in educating the westerners via information, instead of wasting money buying western military technology. Proper Holohoax education in the West would dig the moral high-ground out from under the Zionist imperialists. Unfortunately, our mailing list included pro-ZOG Moslems, so it was passed onto the jew Solicitor General of Canada, resulting in our loss of "mailing privileges," in overt violation of the U.N Charter of Human Rights, Article 119, if I recall correctly, which declares that people & ideas may be passed "regardless of frontiers." Hitler said: "The more we hear of 'human rights,' the fewer rights there will be." He could certainly see into the future. ZOG knows!

Thanks for the Horowitz article on kosher corruption in New Jersey. That is certainly one for the archives, & should be the subject matter of all U.S. civics courses, on a compare (what is touted about U.S. government) & contrast (its reality). Yes, Virginia, we do have "the best government money can buy," since 1776 to the present. The fundamental make up of any government is CONSTITUENCY: whom does government represent? Form must follow function. Perhaps the best recent example of dysfunctional constituencies was post-World War I Italy, in which the ostensible system of representation was irrelevant to Realpolitik. Since politics is people-power, it is different from mere numbers & areas. Because Italy's form of government failed to address real constituencies like unions, industrialists, landowners, peasants, Church, &c. Italy was in political gridlock. Mussolini recognized that & rationalized The Corporate State. This enabled Italy to proceed from paralysis to disaster, but effective government does not mean disaster per se, so we must look beyond the bafflegab taught in schools to function: Does our ZOG benefit those whom it governs? If not, whom does it really benefit, & do those beneficiaries deserve it? "The People," that is, some of the people must decide. 'Twas ever thus. Brits complained that Parliament could pass a law, but labor strikes could nullify it. That was, of course, before Britain exported industries & brought in wogs to take the remaining jobs, much as occurs under ZOG's global economy, which seeks to concentrate the wealth & spread the poverty.

The download on the random racial killings of Hispano-mestizo gang-bangers versus Blacks in Mexifornia reminded me of the Zebra Killings of the 1960s which were inflicted by Black Nationalist gangs upon random Whites. The hippies used to say, back then: "What goes around comes around." I understand that the Black gang recruits had to score a number of White deaths in order to gain rank in their respective groups. Perhaps the same is true of the Mexi-gangsters. Here's to diversity! (But ya gotta know when ta duck).

Diversity amongst people within the same living space is no better than diversity via race-mixing is for an individual. "From the corruption of women proceeds the confusion of races; from the confusion of races, the loss of memory; from the loss of memory, the loss of understanding, & from this, all evil." (Bhagavad Gita) One pessimist said that Iraq's present is America's future. Did someone say "Aaarrgh!"? Keep up the good work. DOWZ! & ORION!
