BUENOS AIRES

Reviving a history of immigration

RESIDENTS of Buenos Aires love to hear their city called the "Paris of the South", but its national immigration office, tucked behind railway tracks near the city centre, looks like La Paz on the River Plate. On a weekday morning, the queue to photocopy documents is made up mainly of people of Andean Indian appearance. Most have endured bus journeys lasting several days. A sign outside proclaims: "In today's Argentina, only those who want to be undocumented will be." Despite the grumbles of some in the queue, the government of President Néstor Kirchner is welcoming immigrants with open arms.

Argentina's constitution still instructs the government "to promote European immigration". That dried up half a century ago. Nowadays, educated young Argentines are migrating to Europe and the United States. They are being replaced by unskilled Paraguayans and Bolivians.

In 2003 Mr Kirchner's government approved a law that lifted almost all restrictions on immigration from South America and guaranteed access to public health and education to all migrants, including illegals. Last year, the government launched an ambitious plan to register all undocumented immigrants and grant them formal residency. Although obstacles remain, Argentina issued some 350,000 residence visas in 2006—eight times the 2005 total.

One aim is to encourage migrants, two-thirds of whom work in the informal economy, to pay taxes in return for legal protection. There is also a more idealistic motivation: officials say that freedom of movement is central to South American integration.

Bolivians and Peruvians face some discrimination in Argentina. But there is not yet a backlash against the policy. Most of the immigrants work in unskilled jobs, as maids or busboys, that few Argentines covet. The government's policy of keeping the peso artificially cheap means that wages in dollars are low, checking the inflow. This may change. Although Mr Kirchner is proud that unemployment has fallen from 20% to 10% since he became president in 2003, those who remain jobless lack education and skills. Wages are rising sharply in pesos, and also in dollars.

In the 1990s, when the peso was fixed at par to the dollar, foreigners flooded in, prompting the government to restrict migration. Mr Kirchner's officials insist that they will stick to their liberal approach. "This is a country with a lot of land, most of which is unpopulated," says Ricardo Rodríguez, the immigration director. Gobernar es poblar—"to govern is to populate"—was how Juan Bautista Alberdi, whose writings inspired the 1853 constitution, put it. But the population is now Latin Americans.

to eliminate internal trade barriers.

ADIOS, WHITE ARGENTINA!

30 MAR 07. Hail Chris! Many thanks for your letter of 28 MAR 07 & the informative enclosures. Thanks for the SLIME Magazine interview with the Iranian leader. I understand that he was unable to attend the U.N. meeting in Jew York Shitty because FEDZOGUSA denied his air crew visas. If my sources are correct, this indicates that the U.N. exists only at the pleasure of "Usrael." Being a rogue state, the USA does not recognize transit passengers in seaports, airports & surface ports of entry, who are not deemed to be legally in a country, in civilized, law-abiding places. If we were law-abiding, Ahmadinejad's aircrew could have parked in a transit zone, while he attended the UN conference. Obviously, if my sources are correct, "Usrael" does not wish him to be heard in such a "p.c." forum. The SLIME interview was damaging enough!

Thanks for the excerpt from the "Nazi War Crimes Disclosure Act" dated 1998! I knew 2 victims of that talmudic tactic, years before it was recently amended: Frank Walus & NASA scientist Arthur Rudolf. I was also familiar with the trial of John Demjanjuk alias "Ivan the Terrible of Treblinka" whom jews say they killed, or "Ivan the Terrible of Sobibor," as other jews say of the same man, who was not killed. Regardless of the truth or fiction, John Demjanjuk was a Goy, & Goyim are supposed to be sacrificed by jews in performance of a "mitzvah," or Yahweh-yearning to inflict pain & suffering on innocent victims. Such a deal!

Speaking of 'deals,' I'm glad to learn you are not faring too badly in your palacial residence. No, Virginia, the "K" on food & food-related items is not a sign that a KKK tax has been paid. The enclosures on the kosher tax racket refer.

Most of the stuff I've heard on "ODESSA" comes from Hebrewood & kosher sources. What does seem reasonable to me is that any group of people who served their cause & suffered together might strive to work together, since their comrades proved themselves in good & bad times. Wouldn't we hope to be so lucky? I've known former SS & other Third Reich personnel, but I never asked them, since I didn't need to know. "The Enemy is Listening," as all sides announced on their World War II propaganda posters.

Jews are the only 'religious' group allowed to tax goods in interstate commerce, which violates the 1st Amendment of the U.S. CONstitution that forbids the establishment of any religion. Corwallis told Washington at Yorktown, according to one of Washington's aides, that "Judaism will be your religion, but you will not know it." Christinsane Goyim prate of "The Mark of the Beast." They babble that it will be an injectable microchip which is subject to theft, damage, erasure & copying. I asked one Jesus-juice jerk if he would wear his I.D., financial & medical records around on his back. He said that would be unthinkable, so I said having a microchip with all that data is even more convenient for crooks to copy, & straying near electromagnetic waves easily erase^s or damage^s the data on the chip, as we have learned with "smart cards." One jew scanner gang worked in a swanky Jew York Shitty restaurant. By running the customers' credit cards across the counter, they could copy all the data thereon & steal from their accounts. The same can be done from 5 feet away, through clothing, in a crowd. But a microchip is not a mark. It is a device. The Mark of the Beast is the Six-Pointed Death Star of David, for its 6 points, 6 triangles & 6 internal angles conform to the Number 666. Those who wear that Mark are allowed to buy & sell in the trades they monopolize. They can create our money out of nothing & charge us interest on it. They can tax goods in interstate commerce, while others cannot. This is obvious. It is called "hiding in plain sight," for Goyim do not see, because they will not. I.e., they don't want to. To free ourselves from slavery requires us to understand that we are, indeed, slaves. If we don't know that, we can do nothing.

As I grow older, I learn that the most precious item of all is knowledge. One writer said of our Zionist imperialism in The Middle East that "Strength without wisdom = Disaster!" Imagine a blind bull charging around a factory, such as one making munitions. The blind bull is unlikely to survive the results, after producing considerable destruction to the factory. The USA has been likened to a jewish Golem or Monster, which makes perfect sense if we look at U.S. history. The Golem is now ordered to destroy itself, for there are more Golem (Goyim) where he came from. As they say in booming Bagdad: "Boots in the air, heads on the ground, & body-parts scattered all around." All the best & ORION!
