

5-5-07. Hail Jim! Thanks for your letter of 29 APR 07. Letters which I write to others that I deem worthy of sharing are intended to inform. My mind is concerned with issues beyond myself, for those issues affect me, as well as others. The Mexican invasion is proceeding apace, at tax-payers' expense, as our ZOG sets the stage for its North American Union. Meanwhile, China pours in its people & power to take over our former living-space. This will be the non-White, anti-White world you will inherit, provided you depart from the ZOG gulag. It appears that most Goy sheeple know as little about their demographic environment as you do, through no fault of your own.

The VA Tech shootings seem like a normal outcome of ZOG's diversity. Other writers express doubts about the incident, largely because of jewsmedia behavior, which withholds information of interest to the public. If the shooter had been White, we can figure that we'd know his collar size by now, as well as all possible details about him & his family. Asian academics, of whom there are many in the USA, have been noted for killing their fellow students & teachers. I recall that one, a Chinese exchange student, was offended by his low grades, so he killed 5 people at his college. In Asia, people are many, so life is cheap. Been there. Seen that. So what else may we expect if we let in people from countries where life is cheap? It is more remarkable that such murder & mayhem do not occur more frequently on campuses throughout these Jewnited States. You may recall the Hmong hunter (from Indochina) who casually killed several White hunters on their own land. He was offended when one of them tried to tell him that he was trespassing on private property. The Hmong decided that he'd kill his quota of Whites, if he couldn't kill his quota of deer. I guess that's logical if one is a Hmong. I'd say that such killings will be as normal in Judeo-America as bombs are in Bagdad. Maybe Whites will run out of tears & hugs so they can address the causes of their grief, instead of bleating like sheeple.

Your mention of what's on my mind reminded me of a conversation I had in a Toronto laundromat as I was waiting for my clothes to be washed. A Canuckistani denizen & I were passing the time in conversation, & my thoughts turned to economics. I mentioned the fact that Canada's short supply of technicians, such as machinists, were trained overseas. I wondered how Canada could continue to obtain such essential workers in the event of a shortage, & why the country seemed unable to train its own machinists. The fellow with whom I was chatting gathered up his dried clothes & said: "I sure hope you get your problems sorted out!" I replied that these were your problems, not mine. A few years later, CANZOG signed onto the North American Free Trade Act, & Canadian jobs, machinists, factories, &c. were exported to Mexico, then to China. A friend of mine trained his Chinese replacement & then saw his job & factory leave for China. My last U.S. job left for Mumbai (formerly Bombay), India. Since then, I've never had things so good, but if I were a young person getting started in this U.S. economy, I'd be strapped for education & opportunities, unless I were non-White. My career has involved the study of problems. Personally, I have rarely been faced with problems. My needs for food, clothing & shelter I have solved on many occasions, through luck & skill, so cold & hunger were rarely my problems. By studying the problems in a given area, I usually manage to avoid suffering from them. As our Zionist empire crumbles, I may be hit by falling pieces, but so far, I've avoided them, unlike many sheeple.

Our Founding Felons worshipped the idol of "Cheap Labor." History proves this to be a false god, indeed. Breeding infinite numbers of inferiors, aliens & dysfunctionals is not cheap, nor is allowing more millions of same to invade the country. One bumper sticker read: "If I'd known the trouble it'd cause, I'd have picked the cotton myself!" So Canada's lack of skilled labor was 'solved' by exporting Canada's manufacturing sector. Several writers observed that the USA has been sold out to global corporations, so the U.S. people are now, totally expendable. The current confrontation between Bush & Russian leader Putin is viewed as Bush's globalism versus Putin's nationalism. Putin appears to believe that Russian needs should take precedence over the needs of Exxon & BP, so he wants Russia to own its oil resources. Putin & Chavez think in national terms, so natural resources are their people's livelihoods & the future of their respective nations. How quaint! U.S. sheeple may think they are 'superior' in wealth & knowledge, but they live in a fool's paradise which can only fail & fall with a nasty 'thud,' as we collide with reality. Time is on your side, so make the most of it. DOWZ! (Down With ZOG!) & ORION! (Our Race Is Our Nation!)
