

9 MAY 07. Hail Leif! Thanks for the great letter of 7 MAY 07! It seems like a good name for a modern Viking: Zogbuster. I appreciate your good wishes. Many thanks.

Brownest Yakima is warming up in more ways than one. The Mayday-Maxi-Mexi-Marches & big Cinco de Mayo fiestas may have wakened Whitey. Now there is a petition to deny tax-funds for illegal alien invaders. Members of La Raza (The Race, Mexico's Nazi Party) & La MEChA (Movimiento Estudiantil Chicano de Aztlan, Mexican Student Movement of Aztlan) are watching the petitioners & promise to boycott any business which supports it. Aztlan is their name for former U.S. territory which the mestizo bandidos now occupy, as we pay them to invade. The U.S. empire was founded on the fallacy of 'cheap labor' & it will fall because of it. ZOG's 'solution' appears to be The North American Union: a new country comprised of Canada, USA & Mexico. Our Zionist banksters have long desired this entity, for it will allow them free access to infinite 'cheap labor', as in typical Turd World countries. Historically, new countries start with economic union, then proceed to political union, as did Germany in 1870. North America is populated by increasing numbers of Mexicans, & Canada is host to a huge & growing Chinese population. Mandarin is now Canada's 2nd most-spoken language, next to English. French is falling way behind, according to their latest census, even though French is Canada's official second language. Yes, things are heating up in Yakima, including the weather.

It would be worthwhile to get an update from David Lane. I enclose 2 of his better essays. My articles have been on the Internet for almost 20 years, including the one you read. My websites are www.FAEM.com & VNN. One correspondent wanted me to "go online." I asked him why I should put up with all the sabotage & stupid chit-chat thereon. My strongest argument was that I cannot cope with the volume of irresponsible consumers of information as entertainment for idle amusement purposes. I could write a well-researched book, for instance, & thousands of vacuum-heads can send in their flippant comments, to which I am expected to reply. I pointed out that the Internet is our fastest means of communication, but reactions to information are from slow to nil. For 20 years, approximately, my message has been available to net-nerds, who fail to find it & fail to respond in any way, aside from a few snide comments. For most sheeple, the Internet functions as a play-station, not a source of information, & when they are informed, their behavior does not change. Were I rich, I might employ an infinite number of computer-peckers to reply to an infinite number of silly scribblers ad infinitum, but why should I spend time or money on worse than useless sheeple? A message is no better than the one who sends it & the one who receives it. I explained that my best means of communication is not even electronic: it is gunfire in my barrio (neighborhood) which prompts me to hit the floor, so as to avoid being an easy target for the mestizo bandidos. The Wild West lives, & it speaks Spanish.

All purported information needs to be evaluated: Is it true, false, partially both &/or intended to mislead? One question to ask is "cui bono?" Who benefits from the purported information? ADL chief Abe Foxman was purported to lie to his fellow jews that the anti-Islamic cartoons which originated in Denmark were the work of ^{not} a jew. Foxman claimed that the mischief-maker who sparked anti-White riots was not a jew, but I have his name: Flemming Rose, & he is allegedly hiding in Florida. One should also ask if Abe Foxman made such a statement. Cyber-space is a bizarre bazaar in The Marketplace of Ideas. Not only is 'information' dubious, but so are those who communicate it: for example, did Abe Foxman really say what he is alleged to say, or was it somebody else, a hacker, perhaps? My Internet presence has varied from "not a real person; a committee of former Gestapo officers." Now, I am said to be "a real person; former CIA supervisor for Mossad hit-teams!" If I believed what has been said about me on the Internet, I sure wouldn't want to write to myself. If I were applying for a job, & a prospective employer were to look me up on the Internet, I would probably not get the job. Lies can be conveyed by words in conversation, by words on paper & by words on the Internet. Sheeple need to know that, for the 'net is no more authoritative than an anonymous note left in a public place. For now, it is a new Goy-toy, which the jews plan to censor under the same terms they use to censor communications in Zionist Occupied Europe, Australia & Canada.

I did read "The Boys From Brazil," which is a good jewish nightmare. I never heard of one entitled "The 6th Bunker." I wonder why you are not allowed to read a German-English dictionary. ZOG only knows. I have the Spanish words for the song of La MEChA, which means "fuze" in Spanish. The chorus goes "'Stalle bomba ! 'Stalle bomba!" ("Explode the bomb; explode the bomb!") Would the zoggies permit me to send you those lyrics? All the best. ORION!
