

16 MAY 07. Hail Chad! ZOG works in devious ways its blunders to perform. I just got your letter of 13 MAY 07 which informed me of your zoggies' dirty trick. I don't understand how you are expected to divest yourself of a "convict mentality" under the conditions you describe. It seems like being thrown into a lake, then being told to "rise above the swimmer mentality." Since the same kosher crowd runs our ZOG as did the former USSR, I note similarities in your treatment to those described by gulag inmates in the Soviet Jewnion. One tactic is to raise hope, then to dash it, as with your RIP swindle. This is psychological warfare, pure & simple, in combination with physical punishment. It's an old jew-bolshie trick of the sort enjoyed by sheenie sadists for its own sake, even if they are not trying to be clever. Yes, you should get an opportunity to prove your innocence. That is how it's spelled. I keep 2 English dictionaries handy, one short & one longer, but I note that the word-zoggies have stolen a word from both my dictionaries: "trist." It's an old word for "meet" or "meeting," often with one's betrothed. English words are removed & jew words are added, I notice. This is similar to Orwell's "Newspeak" of "1984."

Banking & money-creation is only made to seem mysterious. This is called "bafflegab." Compared to the simplicity of the banking racket, imagine how complicated we could make pizza-preparation, especially if we avoided any mention that it involved cooking food to be eaten! I can imagine how we could describe the twirling of the dough overhead as the "high-speed pasta-rotation at optimum elevation." Instead of informing people what is done & why, "pizza technicians" would strive to mystify, confuse & mentally exhaust those who question the pizza-making process. What banking is about is the acquisition of power & profit in exchange for NOTHING! Such a deal. Goyim must believe that NOTHING is SOMETHING for the scam to work. Obviously they do, for the value of the zogbuck is trust, but that will fade when it goes bust, as it must, with bankster abuse. I fear that it will not take much longer for FEDZOGUSA to bust its buck by spending more of nothing in exchange for real goods & services, mainly from China. The USA is behaving like an alcoholic gambler whose I.O.U.s are fast-becoming worthless. The boozing bettor has nothing but his I.O.U.s to 'pay' for his increasing debts, so his fate is sealed: He's beat & will be out on the street in short order. Perhaps he'll sober up, scam some shekels from the last remaining sucker & skedaddle out of town. The analogy breaks down, for ZOG has no town to run from, & no place to hide. The zoggies figure they can pass their debts onto future generations, but the ZOG's abuses bring its own existence into doubt. Ancient Rome fell for similar follies as our Zionist empire is perpetrating, so if History is any guide to the future, ZOG will fall in due course. Then we shall have a real job ahead of us. The Roman Empire disintegrated into warlord turfs, i.e. "feudal fiefdoms," then kingdoms, thence into the "Holy Roman Empire," a theocratic tyranny, but not so strongly-constructed as the former Roman Empire, since its imperial successor relied upon voluntary contributions of troops. As I understand, it had armies which were largely French or Austrian, but no imperial standing army. Plus, the "Holy Roman Emperor" was subordinate to the Pope, & wore 2 crowns: one of his kingdom & one of the empire. In 1870, with German unification, the King of Prussia became the German Emperor or Kaiser (German for Caesar). Caesar was the personal name for the Roman emperor. For some reason, his name became equated with "Emperor" & replaced the former title of the office. Czar or Tsar is Caesar in Russian, so instead of referring to the President of the USA, we could use "Bush", no matter who is president. Wacky? Rightee. The English speakers are perverse: normally, "ca", as in cat, is not pronounced as an "s", but as a "k". If we pronounce caesar as "see-zar," then we should pronounce "cat" as "sat." The correct, but unused pronunciation of caesar would resemble the Germans' "kaiser." I suspect that the complications & inconsistencies of English pronunciation & spelling were concocted as pastimes, amusements for idlers & pranksters, before the invention of crossword puzzles & videogames; a type of pre-electronic mental exercise for insane asylum inmates. I offer additional evidence from my colonial civil service experience: "Red tape" is really pink, & "pink coats" worn by fox-hunters are actually red! My reaction to that may be expressed in one word: "Aaargh!" An option would also be to run out into the night, screaming "Aaiiee!" It's a judgement call, which may also be spelt (spelled) as judgment. Normally, a "g" followed by an "e" is softened, as in "judge", so why delete the "e" in "judgement" & not in "judge?" Well, it's because English tries to be phonetic, to some extent, approaching 85%, as I've been told by teachers. That leaves 15% up for grabs, which we must memorize or look up in dictionaries. Maybe dictionary publishers conspired to confuse English spelling, on behalf of profits. I don't need to go to German or Spanish dictionaries for spelling, but for meaning, since German & Spanish are phonetic: their words

2) are spelt only one way & they are pronounced only one way. That's a very good deal!

The reports which I receive from various ZOG-gulags show one consistent policy: anti-White assumptions of 'guilt' on the part of the zoggies. In other words, Whites do exist as a race, albeit a race selected for 'special mistreatment.' One could assume that White gulag inmates are the worst offenders; but are incarcerated non-Whites 'saints'? That must constitute some sort of kosher 'miracle.'

Speaking of jew prison policies, which smack of institutional sadism, rather than any attempt to rehabilitate the prisoner for society, I recall a Hebrew film entitled "Gulag", in which an American jew is abducted in the USSR & then put into a gulag, from which he & 2 other "zeks" or prisoners manage to escape. The kosher gulag meisters put the "American" through the usual roller-coaster ride of raising his hopes for freedom, only to dash them. He is told that the Soviets realized their 'mistake' in his case, so he is instructed to dress in his civvies for a ride to the airport & freedom. The "American" gets suspicious when he is taken to a railroad station instead of the airport, but his zoggies tell him that the train will take him to the airport. But it is a prisoner train, it turns out, & it isn't going to any airport!

The jew-commies used their Goy guinea pigs for all sorts of mind & body tortures in Spain, during the Civil War (1936-1939). The prison/fortress on Montjuich, or Jews' Mountain, in Barcelona, was a notorious torture factory. Spanish Civil War survivors told me that there was a room there made of rubber in the shape of a sphere, which was intended to disorient the prisoner. Those to be executed were taken out to see their last sunrise, as their jew-jailors told them how beautiful it was & how they would miss it. Then they were taken to the customs shed in the harbor, which had thick granite walls, scarred by rifle bullets, where they were shot. I've been there; seen the scarred granite. When I visited Montjuich in 1965, it was a military museum, but its World War II shore battery was manned & fully operational, with a good view of the Mediterranean, toward which the German guns pointed. Picture-taking was not allowed of troops, military installations, airports, railroad stations, dams, powerplants, &c. in any Communist or Fascist country, so I never carried a camera. It was safer to buy postcards, as it is in today's Zionist North America. My Fascist I.D. card had the same conditions as my post-9-11 state I.D. card: Current photo, current address; must be renewed every 5 years, & sooner, if one moves down the hall or changes one's address. The card must be presented if an armed ZOG-thug wants to see it, or else. One doesn't want to find out what "or else" means.

"The Anti-Humans" by Bacu reports about kosher commie student "re-education" in Romanian prisons. It sounds similar to RIP & other such courses in our local ZOG-gulags. The curriculum was similar, for it was designed to teach Romanians to be Commies, instead of Romanians, just as your zoggies attempt to teach Whites to be anti-White. Bad zoggies!

My favorite Hungarian jew, Arthur Koestler, was a former Commie & was a reporter in Spain during The Civil War. His historical fiction novel, "Darkness at Noon," illustrates typical kosher Commie tactics of extracting confessions from those whom they intended to kill in the first place. In jew cabalism, it is apparently required that their murder victims are first 'tried' & that they 'confess' before execution, just as our ZOG did at the Nuremberg War Crimes trials. 'Guilt' was presumed before trial, so the defendants were just going through torture & 'trial' before their pre-planned torture-executions in which they slowly strangled to death. Their jew hangman purposely made the ropes too short, & the photos of the dead victims, former leaders of Germany, had facial injuries, owing to the short drop which caused them to hit their faces on the gallows trap. The hebbs were unhappy that Goering had cheated their Purim Ritual hangman by taking poison before his intended execution. I vaguely recall from the magazine photos that he had a noose around his neck, anyway. This is called "cording" in cabalistic ritual-murder. ZOG victims such as Defence Secretary Forrestal & Vatican bankster Roberto Calvi were "corded," before or after their deaths, as was ZOG victim Rudolf Hess.

How interesting it must be to be a 'guest' of such hateful hosts. Don't let the bastards grind you down. DOWZ! CRION! & 88!
