

27 AUG 07

Dear Claude: Many thanks for your outstanding letter of 12 AUG 07 & the very informative enclosures! It is par for the jewsmedia 'coverage' of events that I must rely on African sources for news on the doings of our ZOG. I have a vague suspicion that our Zionist-Bankster-Gangster rulers have a 'surprise' for us dumb Goyim, like a kosher Santa Claus with a 'dirty bomb' in his stocking, as well as a very nasty debt-bomb. Obviously, Goyim 'need' a war to distract them from their jewish pickpockets, but don't we already have a war? The latest report is that U.S. casualties are increasing in Afghanistan, but opium production is at record high levels, thanks to our incursion against the Taliban. The joke is that the opium is mainly grown in Taliban-controlled areas, according to the jewsmedia.

Thanks for the article on the "securitisation" of debt-speculation, allegedly by spreading the risk. This reminds me of the old joke about the cowboy who comes into a saloon & announces to the customers, "When I drink, everybody drinks!" There is a rush to the bar, & frantic orders for everyone's favorite drink. Then the cowboy downs his whisky & leaves his money on the counter. With the same vigor, he proclaims: "When I pay, everybody pays!"

To me, it appears that the same thing applies to today's allegedly 'securitised' debts. If the matter were as inconsequential as the author alleges, then one wonders why major central banks are pouring billions of I.O.U.s to prop up the speculators' debts, & thus inflicting more inflation on the majority, including the non-speculators.

I believe it was U.S. Marine Corps General Smedley Butler who stated before the Nye Congressional Commission investigating World War I that he fought to make countries 'safe' for United Fruit, Standard Oil, &c. I don't happen to have the exact quote, but doubters should look it up on the Internet or other historical sources. I enclose a brief portion of a download referring to military enemies of Germany who had praise for German soldiers. I seem to recall a passage in Max Hastings book, "Operation Overlord," in regard to the relative effectiveness of German troops in World War II. One Allied general rated them as "twice as good" as their Allied opponents in attack, in defense & in retreat. Your doubters should look up their historical sources before they denounce your statements, & then repeat Zionist propaganda. Such people should contact The Barnes Review as a reference. I recall Patton's evaluation of good soldiers & bad soldiers, possibly in Hastings' book: A French officer asked Patton how he rated soldiers. Patton said that bad soldiers require lots of artillery support, & that U.S. soldiers require lots of artillery support, which included bombers & fighter aircraft. The Allies used their heavy bombers in tactical support of Allied ground forces, much like the massive World War I artillery barrages, after the Normandy Landings. The French have not forgotten the 'collateral damage' they suffered at the hands of their Allied 'liberators.' When I arrived in Paris in late 1964, I had to speak German, for the French refused to speak English at the Gare du Nord. My version of "An American in Paris" would thus be in German, with English subtitles. I am an eyewitness & a survivor.

Re religion: Whites have been programmed to believe in The Holy Holohoax, so much so, that it is now part of them. As I explained in my flier thereon, the World War II Allies had a big stake in the "Nazi Atrocity Lie," so as to obscure The Katyn Forest Massacre of 15,000 Polish officers by the Soviet Jewnion. Those Whites who have a stake in Allied mythology also have a large investment of their self-definition in the Holohoax. When we question 'history', i.e. propaganda posing as history, we threaten the egos of White suckers who've bought into the Lies of the Allies. I don't know how Brian would get on the Holohoax topic to 'save Ireland for the Irish.' As you say, that approach may be a bit too indirect. My letter to Tom refers. Non-Whites have no such stake in The Holohoax, nor in Zionism, as Goyim think they do in the jew-dominated West.

Speaking of 'Holy Hoaxes,' it appears that "Usrael" may wish to ally with the Sunnis to make war on the Shi-ites. After all, in obedience to Israel, the USA toppled Saddam the Sunni of Iraq, to spark this latest 'holy war' in The Middle East. While the USA wastes its substance in the sands, we see China & Russia growing stronger. In the Boer Wars, it was generally recognized that British officers were best for getting their troops slaughtered, so Boer snipers were ordered not to shoot them, as I heard from my African sources. The U.S. leaders are U.S. enemies' best allies.

As you say, a religion without 'soul' has little chance of success. Wayne's 'religion' is a "machina ex deus," rather than a "deus ex machina." Anyone want a mechanical religion? If you enjoy watching the workings of a clock, then Wayne has the religion for you!

No doubt, big things lie ahead of us. All the best. ORION! 88!
