Dear Phil: Many thanks for your note & enclosures of 4 SEP 07. The download from rense.com is alarming, if true, but we have heard these cries of 'wolf' from the beginning of this year. I would not be surprised if our criminal, crazy ZOG would 'shoot the works' in World War III. What the line up will prove to be is anybody's guess. At the beginning of World War II, the Soviet Jewnion was allied with Germany. The German invasion of former German territory in Polish-occupied Germany was the overt cause of that war. The original lineup was Germany, USSR & Italy vs. The British Empire, & The French Empire. The latter 2 mounted a military presence in the French colony of Syria, allegedly in preparation for an attack on the USSR. Then, in 1941, Germany staged its pre-emptive attack on the USSR. FDR pushed the Japs into attacking the U.S. Pacific Fleet at Pearl Harbor, & lied that Japan was allied with Germany. Hence, FDR declared war on Japan, Germany & Italy, alias The Axis, which had only included Germany & Italy, not Japan, which had a peace treaty with the USSR. The USSR did not declare war on Japan until late 1945!

The present lineup appears to be the ZOGs of Europe & of the former British Empire with the USA, all of which are subordinate to Israel. How China & Russia will behave is certainly open to question. It has been said of Italy that they have always been on the winning side, even if they had to switch sides once or twice. In 1939, as Germany & the USSR invaded Poland, the Communists were Nazi agents in North America, France & Europe. When Germany invaded Soviet territory in 1941, the Commies became 'ultra-patriots' in support of the Allied war effort, which suddenly included the Soviet Jewnion. During the Orwellian Kosher Cold War, Pakistan was a client state of China & India was a client state of the former USSR, from whence came the nukes of Pakistan & India, respectively.

In, I believe, 1963, China & India revealed their rivalry in the broken up former Belgian Congo. China forced India to withdraw its troops by staging a military demonstration in the Himalayas, on its border with India, as I recall. India's forces were in Africa under U.N. auspices, but China was not a U.N. member at that time, if I recall correctly, so China could not send its troops as 'peace-keepers' in the former Congo. After the Nixon-Rockefeller/Rothschild betrayal of their Soviet client state, in favor of China, the Chinese influence in Africa is big & growing bigger, as befits a gigantic industrial empire in need of raw materials.

My question is always, "Cui bono?" from the USA's crash & burn in The Middle East? ZOG has already turned Iraq into a radioactive dump with its depleted uranium munitions, as I understand, so its apparent intentions to turn Iran into a "glass parkinglot" are not outside the realm of the possible. Would "Greater Israel" benefit from such a nuclear war, if the land it wants is radioactive? There is the possibility that World Jewry/Finance/Globalism may have written off Israel as "our lesser brethren" of The Protocols. If Israeli fanatics are in charge of its nukes, then other parts of the world, chiefly Europe, may fall victim to the jews' "Samson Option." "Star Wars" is becoming tame by comparison to the potential mega-deaths which now confront us, & we don't even have to pay for admission! A fanatical Scot would enjoy such a big, free show, even if it killed him. Hoot mon! Isn't it reassuring to know that we are all so expendable? Human history proves that Man will do what he CAN do, rather than what he SHOULD do. In other words, we become victims of our own creations.

The mysterious 'blooper' of the allegedly unauthorized B-52 flight across Amerizogland with nukes raises questions: Was the flight intentional? If so, by whom? If the flight were a real error, why would the jewsmedia publicize it? The fact that the USA has old aircraft carrying nuclear weapons around may have been meant to push back against the Russians, who have demothballed their old bombers for "unarmed patrols." Gosh, one can feel that warm-fuzzy old Cold War nostalgia coming on, eh? My advice is to rent "Dr. Strangelove" & "The Atomic Cafe," as we inhale the toxic fumes from microwaved popcorn. After which, we can return to 'the real world' of NIGGERBALL! Goyim don't give a hoot about air strikes, just balls & strikes, touchdowns & baskets. Murphy's Law says that "what can go wrong will go wrong," especially when we work so actively to create an endless supply of that which can go wrong. I suspect that this is the human condition, so have some more popcorn.

DOWZ! ORION!
