

Tyrone Power as the SINCERE SEEKER and Sam Jaffe as the WISE GURU in THE RAZOR'S EDGE.

Courtesy of the Academy Of Motion Picture Arts & Sciences

JAFFE: Government is very simple, my son. They steal your money—which is called taxation—and then they hire cops and build jails. Then they use the cops and jails to terrorize you, so they can steal more of your money, to hire more cops and build more jails, to terrorize you further, so they can steal more of your money . . .

POWER (stunned): But is that all?

JAFFE (serenely): Oh, they also use your money to hire soldiers, to conquer other countries, to steal their natural resources, so they have more money to hire more cops and more soldiers. Then with more cops and soldiers they can rob more people inside and outside the country. It's called the Protection Racket, my son.

POWER (stunned): But is that all?

12 JAN 08

Hail Jason! It was very nice of your zoggies to let you have my letter. Some are not so nice, particularly in WA.

I gather that most 'skinheads,' are really sheeple-groupies, who want an instant 'reputation' by adopting skinhead fashions. Warriors do not take drugs, by definition, so if skinheads are 'warriors,' druggies are not. Drugs tie them to the ZOG. Speaking of warriors, as a former soldier, I question skinhead tactics. In Basic Training, I was taught that effective modern soldiers are least visible. That is why we have drab uniforms which blend into our surroundings. Does that mean modern soldiers are cowards? When the enemy has long-range weapons, we could be picked off before we even got in battle. The idea of a warrior is to fight effectively, rather than die vainly, without upsetting the enemy. A soldier who advertises his position to the enemy is a fool, who may be concerned about his own courage, rather than achieving victory. Skinhead tactics are preparation for defeat, not for victory. The ZOG loves opponents who advertise their identity & their intentions. Military scholars have written that it is not necessary to attack enemy troops directly, if their supplies may be cut off. Soldiers without food, ammo & transport are easy to defeat. Zionists immediately aim at an opponent's supplies. The first thing I hear them say is: "Where does he get his money?" I don't know how many jobs you've had, but I notice that it's hard to get a job if you're White, & 100 times as hard if you are an obvious skinhead. ZOG also loves tattoos, for they serve to identify their targets, & their prison background, like walking around with a rap sheet, in very large print. We need no enemy if we defeat ourselves.

I've been honored by having friends who were in the SS. As with most armed forces, the SS had dress uniforms, usually black, & camouflage uniforms for combat. In winter, they wore white uniforms. Had they been skinheads, they'd have stuck with black, & been mowed down by the enemy, on the snow-white background. Good thing they weren't! War must be a team effort, if we want to win. It can't be won by individual 'all-stars'.

Whites have been giving up their ground, all over the world, so our first priority must be to save Our Race. If we have no Race, there is no point in having ground. A warrior must be adaptable & always vigilant to changes & opportunities, as well as dangers. He may need to adapt his uniform to fit the circumstances, & he must choose appropriate weapons & tactics. In war, which we are now in, one size does not fit all occasions. We may even need to (gasp!) let our hair grow, to achieve an objective, like a job.

I've fought the enemy in the courts & in the streets. My residences & offices have been bombed. I've lived in countries with ongoing civil wars, such as Colombia & Rhodesia. I've seen people killed & wounded by bombs, machetes & bullets. I've been betrayed by our Rhodesian Prime Minister, Ian Smith, just as our soldiers have been & are being betrayed by their ZOG. Most of all, I've been betrayed by 'comrades' who also betrayed the Cause they espoused.

You are absolutely right in shunning & despising the druggie-trash who want to identify with the Cause. Pay them no heed, for they will fall to their lowest level, as they likely have, already.

No amount of sacrifice guarantees victory, as I've seen in history. The job of the warrior is to make the enemy sacrifice for OUR victory, to paraphrase General Patton. The Chinese military strategist, Sun Tzu, wrote that the superior commander goes to war in such a way that the enemy remains asleep, until the very moment that resistance is futile. Hence, the first shots of battle serve merely as a victory fanfare for the superior commander. Having read Sun Tzu, it is easy to know that we are asleep. It is necessary to sacrifice the worst, on behalf of the survival of Our Race.

Knowledge is the most important weapon in warfare, for with knowledge comes power, as many have observed. Ignorance is our enemy, so it is up to us to obtain knowledge. "We're all self-educated," as my professor said. After leaving school, I learned that he was entirely correct, for most things of value I learned out of school, & much of my 'edjewcation' I had to UNLEARN, pronto, merely to survive. In other words, a warrior must be both strong & smart. Napoleon said that he would not "fling himself upon the fixed bayonets of the enemy;" nor should you.

If you can spare a photo, I'd be honored. All the best. ORION!

