

13 AUG 08

Hail Tom! Many thanks for your thoughtful letter of 8-8-08. I notice that your zoggies show you lots of respect by naming the road to your residence after you. Ho Chi Minh was a 'guest' of the French in Indochina. He marvelled at his treatment, & in his Asian humor, slyly poked fun at his French colonial prison officials. He'd committed some sort of crime, so their idea of punishment was to put him into a fortified palace where he was fed & housed, & attended by smartly-uniformed servants, who guarded him day & night. He was both amazed & impressed by White men's idea of punishment. This indicates the inequality of mankind, in which one race's punishment is another race's paradise. When I was in Japan, my host showed me a Japanese prison. He said that the Japanese had taken the prison idea from the "round-eyed, monkey-faced, long-nose devils." Before that, the traditional Japanese way to treat an alleged offender was to kill him on the spot. No expensive trials, nor prison upkeep were required in traditional Japanese society. I also learned that their culture had a strict inner code of obligation to one's family & to one's ancestors: ON, pronounced "own." If one were to borrow money, for example, he would tell the lender, "If I do not repay this debt before the New Year, everyone will have the right to laugh at me." To be laughed at was the fate worse than death. If the borrower could not repay the debt by the deadline, his one recourse was to commit suicide. Then, no one would have the right to laugh at him. With the importation of Western Decadence, I suspect that this feudal code may have eroded somewhat. I wonder what the ancestors think. Funny thing is, I don't mind being laughed at, but I would mind being confined in a box, even if that box provided me with food, clothing, shelter & smartly-uniformed servants. In oriental logic, one may ask, "Who is prisoner of whom?" since the guards must watch you 24-7, & not vice versa. Poor zoggies. Just show them some respect & try not to hurt their feelings. Ha! Oh, the Japanese prisons are more accurately "Houses of Pain," for the prisoners are normally subjected to bastinado therapy, in which the prisoner is routinely beaten on the soles of his bare feet with bamboo switches, so he must crawl back to his cell on his hands & knees. African prisons normally include so many lashes or cuts of the cane on prisoners' bare backs + hard labor, as part of the prisoners' sentences. They also include executions by hanging, if one is lucky enough to avoid death by sledgehammer or machete. Welcome to the multi-cultural experience.

Many years before I read of our Jewish debt-slavery, I recalled hearing Nikita Khrushchev making a brief comment about the sheeple of the USA: "You think you are free." Well, sure we were free to consume in abundance, until we popped; unlike the cold, hungry inmates of the Soviet Jewnion. Nikita was correct, because we were slaves, but happy ones, since slaves with full bellies & lots of toys have their limited needs satisfied. Who wants freedom from that? Being slaves, however, we have no choice if we are to enjoy fat times or lean ones, for we exist at the pleasure of our masters, & our sole reason for existence is to satisfy their wishes for more power & profit, from the fruits of our labor.

So why do most sheeple accept their role as slaves to Zionist masters, nay, even beg for it? Because they are indeed sheeple, whose aspirations rise only to the level of consumerism. During the Korean War, er, Police Action, the Chinese noted that fewer than one out of 20 U.S. P.O.W.s showed any leadership ability, that is, initiative & self-determination. Since the Chinese guards spoke no English, they were instructed to watch for: The man to whom other men listened; the man with a sense of humor, & the man with courage in the face of armed enemies. Those men were segregated from the sheeple & placed in well-guarded prison camps, possibly in total isolation. The sheeple were encouraged to fink on one another for small rewards. This prevented them from ever establishing self-governing bodies to look after the prisoners' needs. One third of the U.S. P.O.W.s died because no one would tell them to get out of bed, nor eat. They just slept their lives away. The Chinese experience with Turkish P.O.W.s was entirely different, for they did not submit to divide & rule tactics. Turks insisted on their military hierarchy. When the Chinese shot their sergeant, the corporal took over; if he were shot, the senior private was in charge, so the Chinese gave up on their social experiment, which was successful with the U.S. P.O.W.s. Truly, the Chinese had our number as hedonistic anarchists & as sheeple.

As slaves, we meekly accept what we are to believe from the Jewmedia. We even accept our "White Guilt" & the desirability of our extinction, to make way for Mongrel Man. This message is broadcast by the churches & the other media of information, edjewcation & entertainment. Because we are deemed guilty, merely for existing, by ZOG, it is 'logical' that we are alleged to commit so many 'hate-crimes.'

ZOG alias our Judeo-Bankster dictatorship, seems to have succeeded in getting us to devalue our heroes, ourselves & our race, just as Christinsanity succeeds in getting us to deem ourselves 'sheep' & 'sinners.' As you say, ZOG's needs are quite simple: To enslave us with debt, & to make more profits by means of war & threat of war, thereby increasing their power over us. In effect, the jews are as strong as we care to make them. The fact is that the sheeple alias Goyim don't care for anything beyond their individual consumption, like the slaves they are.

Jefferson strikes me as a wordy hypocrite who never sacrificed his standard of living on behalf of his stated principles, whatever they happened to be at any given time. After touting the 'equality of mankind' in The Declaration of Independence, he went on to declare with equal fervor that "The equal treatment of unequals is the worst of inequalities." So, from whence came these "unequals?" His edited statement on his memorial, that the (Black) slaves shall be free, omits the words to the effect that "they shall no longer live with us." But Jefferson wanted his slaves, Black & White, to stick around as long as he needed them. Thanks for conveying his words about our "natural aristocracy." In defense of Jefferson, I understand that he distilled his own corn whiskey, so he was not entirely responsible for his words. (Hic) This brings to mind the peculiar wording of the 2nd Amendment, which seems to be the product of drunken lawyers, in view of the jewdicial controversy it causes.

Thanks for recommending "The Death of the West," by Pat Buchanan. Apparently, he is deemed "too extreme" by the jewsmedia, even when he did not entitle his book "The Death of the Whites," for, without Whites, the term "West" is meaningless.

In Orwell's "1984," words are used by Big Brother's regime to mean their opposites or distortions thereof: "War is Peace," "Freedom is Slavery," "Ignorance is Strength," &c. Our ZOG made much of our alleged freedom at the end of World War II & the beginning of the phony Cold War period. Yes, we slaves of FEDZOGUSA were 'free.' As a dumb kid, I thought that 'free' really meant free, & not constrained. If I were free, why did I have to attend public school, which was not a place of freedom, by any means, but a place of oppressive indoctrination & misinformation? I knew it then, as I know it now. Still, I behaved as if I were free, by questioning ZOG's misuse of language. Why say 'free' when it isn't so? To me, words were important, & I wanted to learn their meanings, so as to use them correctly. Correct usage allowed me to sort out my own thinking. Orwell wrote that Big Brother wanted his 'proles' not to think coherently, so they'd be better slaves. ZOG knows!

I was not a revolutionary, at first, for I only wanted to obtain an accurate picture of reality, so I could govern my behavior accordingly. I wanted to achieve MY purposes in the realm of the possible, & my purposes were not those of ZOG consumer-debt-slavery. My parents taught me by their examples, even as they tried to incorporate me into Judeo-American Slave Society. My purpose was not to rebel, but to escape. Ironically, I succeeded, thanks be to ZOG.

In my experience, I've encountered would-be leaders who were unworthy of their quest. One correspondent assisted me in defining leadership. It is a Chinese saying: "There is the leader who coerces & the leader who inspires; but the best leader of all is the one who teaches, for his followers can say: 'See, we did it ourselves!'" That is the leader I aspire to be, as well as one who learns.

The words you want are: Sieg = Victory; heil = hail. Weisse Macht = White Power. High German (Prussian) is grammatically complicated. I call it a Slavic language with German words. Hence, Macht is feminine, so weiss must be modified for its feminine noun. With gender, German also has cases, such as possessive, transitive, &c. which have only vestiges in the Germanic language of English. German still has familiar conjugations which conform to the English "thou," or Du in German. If I'm in place, I can say, "Ich bin im Kino!" (I'm at the movie theater), but if I'm on my way in, I say: "Ich gehe ins Kino." (I'm going into the movie theater). In old English usage, we'd ask "Whither goest thou?" if you are going somewhere. "Where are you?" would apply when you'd arrived. In Black English, it would be "Wheah yo be at?"

A saying worthy of recall is one my friend Col. Rudel was fond of: "He only loses if he, himself, gives up." Rudel sank the Soviet battleship, Marat, in the Baltic, with one bomb down its smokestack, courtesy of Col. Rudel in his Stuka divebomber. Strength through Joy to you. Our Race Is Our Nation! (ORION!)
