

26 FEB 08

Hail Daniel! Thanks for your letter of 15 FEB 08. We sure do live in exciting times of great & rapid change. I sometimes chuckle at political candidates who promise "change." Since change occurs whether we like it or not, it would really be impressive if a candidate promised that "no change" would occur during his term of office. Ha! Change is inevitable, like sunrise & sunset. It has been said that a rooster may think that his crowing actually causes the sunrise, like a politician who thinks his election will cause "change" to occur. So who is smarter, the rooster or the rascal running for office? All I know is that the rooster does no harm, compared to the rascal.

As I wrote to Claude on 18 FEB 08, I wonder who rules Russia. Hitler foresaw that Judeo-Communism would fall of its own weight, so it did, but who picked up the pieces? When we realize that wars are the jews' harvests, we see all sorts of possibilities for conflicts over turf, markets & resources. If money makes the world go 'round, then war makes the money flow, into the hands of criminals. As Smedley Butler observed, "War is a racket," in which a tiny minority profit at the expense of the productive majority.

As you observe, the world is a virtual kaleidoscope of conflict & potential conflict. Europeans I've known told me of 1939, before the massacre of Germans on newly Polish territory prompted Germany to invade its former Prussian territory. Those Europeans believed that Britain & France could stay out of the conflict, & that Nazi Germany & Red Russia would fight each other to exhaustion, so neither Germany nor Russia would pose a threat to European interests. What turned out, however, was that the Zionist banksters wanted to wage war against Whitey, worldwide. Judeo-America & its jew bankster rulers pressured Britain & France to make a misalliance with Poland, which did not help Poland, but gave the corrupt Polish leaders confidence that they could attack Germany & go unpunished. As I saw from contemporary newsreels, the Polish forces were advancing toward Germany when the Germans hit them. According to British treaty & Foreign Office correspondence, the Brits had virtually deeded Poland to Red Russia, before & during World War II. Poor Polish Patsies! The jew banksters wanted a much wider war, which FDR also wanted, since he was working for them, so FDR engineered the conflict with Japan, over oil! In other words, my European friends who believed that the 2nd World War could be contained to Russia & Germany were dead wrong, & many of their friends wound up both dead & wrong from the conflict.

This is why I would not venture to predict a time, place nor pretext for World War III. We are told in Judeo-American 'schools' that World War I started because Archduke Ferdinand of Austria was shot by a (jew) killer in 1914 at Sarajevo. According to former bankster, Benjamin Freedman, the real cause of WW I was an increasing trade rivalry between Britain & Germany, so the Archduke's assassination was merely the pretext for war.

We should consider the players & the motives for conflict. The 'wildcard' or 'mad-dog' power is certainly the USA, which has a history of violence & treachery; of changing allies without notice, as it did when it dumped the USSR in favor of Red China, then betrayed our former Taliban allies in favor of former Soviet allies in Afghanistan. Of course, our Zionist regime in The District of Corruption also betrayed our obedient puppet, Saddam, of Iraq, all at once, on several occasions.

It is said that empires expand or die, but it is equally true that empires expand AND die. As Rome expanded, it perished for lack of Romans, like a bubble which grew ever thinner as it grew larger. Empires often gamble to gain more territory, as a last desperate gasp: "See, I'm not dying, for I still grasp... Aargh!" Portugal tried it in North Africa. Austria tried it by annexing Bosnia-Herzegovina, followed by Ferdinand's assassination in Sarajevo. This is called "imperial over-reach." Needless to say, USA's military resources are thin, indeed, & its economy is sick. FEDZOGUSA is desperate, on behalf of Israel & "Armageddon."

China & Latin America want to seize North America for its land & natural resources, as well as what remains of its wealth & industry. China has invaded & occupied Canada, with Zionist help, just as Mexico is occupying former U.S. territory without a fight, so we may be saved from nuclear Armageddon by a China-Mex coup d'etat in The District of Corruption. Perhaps that is why ZOG is increasing its garrison of Black mercenaries there. Meanwhile, Whitey sleeps on & on. All the best. ORION!
