

10 JUN 08

Hail Brian: Many thanks for yours of 4 JUN 08. I'm wondering if there are any 'normal' people in Ireland, aside from the Poles, for you seem to be dwelling amidst dysfunctionals, druggies & drunks, with the Red thugs to keep you entertained. Such people would seem to be enemies of any nation, along with the foreign criminals you mention. "Downhill with a tailwind" seems to be the most applicable phrase to Irish society.

Thanks for your cogent observations on Second Life in regard to Fantasy France. How sad & shameful it is that a people must seek their nationhood in virtual reality entertainment. As I noted, Hitler saved Europe from Stalin, but he could not save Europe^{ans} from themselves. Of course, no one resists the alien influence of the jews, so European nationalists have been driven into a kosher corner by those they fear to talk about. This way to extinction, folks. You are spot on in regard to the waste of time represented by talking about corpses of former nations. That reminds me of the little clubs in which former Rhodesians recite their memories to one another. As a White Nationalist I see no healthy purpose in such nostalgia exercises, for we have so much to do in the here & now.

I agree that France's FN Party is kosher conservative. As with American conservatives, their patria is their pocketbooks. Whatever pays is 'patriotic.' Such scum are also known as mercenaries. Note that I use scum, for they are not elite. Scum rises to the top of any cesspool. The French have been dubbed as "decadent" by some. I believe Hitler said: "Africa has its monkeys & Europe has its French." The so-called American & French Revolutions were Judeo-imperialistic rather than nationalistic, so patriotism becomes an oxymoron, even more so in France with its motto of Liberty, Equality, Fraternity. How can universalism be patriotism? No wonder the French are in such a bad way, for anyone may be French, just as anyone may be "American." These are geographical & legal terms; not national. As for culture being substituted for nation, you note the presence of French-speaking Arabs of French citizenship. One writer correctly saw "demography as destiny." The alien elements on formerly national territory redefine the society, as we see in Mexicanized North America, where my Spanish is becoming increasingly useful in daily life. It once was that being "American" meant speaking English, but by admitting so many hispano-mestizos, "American" includes the ability to speak Spanish. Now English-only speakers are deemed rather "Unamerican," just like Whites, who are the obvious minority, in my experience. American Whites have adopted kosher universalism in their folly, & now we see the price tag on our foolishness: alien invasion & occupation of our former living space. "Conservatives" see this incursion & subversion as "cheap labor," for them!

I don't consider myself a starry-eyed optimist, but the demographic changes in former White living space lend themselves to White Nationalism, which I deem as form following function. Of course, Tom Nee disagrees, but the demographic changes seem to have inundated Ireland as we corresponded on the topic, rather like discussing the state of The Titanic while we tread water. He objects to White Nationalism, but if Whites reject racism, the growing non-White population will not. Mestizos are quite candid in referring to me as a Gringo or White, even though I do not refer to them as mestizos in personal conversation. Even if I were blind, I'd still be White in their eyes, if not my own. The Neeophytes will have to learn this reality if they ever leave their isolated personal fantasy world. I recall one long-time resident of a mostly White village near San Francisco. For some reason she had to visit that city on business. She was shocked by all the non-Whites there. "Wakey, wakey," as they say in Africa.

Other Goyim, in addition to myself, note the many similarities between our Judeo-American Empire of ZOG & ancient, decadent Rome. The recruitment of illegal aliens, chiefly hispano-mestizos, into the U.S. armed forces, with subsequent citizenship, is on par with Roman practice & will likely have the same outcomes. One writer wondered how security clearances could be granted to non-citizens whose backgrounds could not be verified. It sounds like a paradise for enemy agents. When I was in the U.S. Army, only citizens could be members of the U.S. armed forces. I saw one Mexican discharged & deported, but I understand he would remain in the service today. U.S. citizenship used to be a matter of great importance. Now, aliens have rights & citizens have duties. Such a deal! I was shocked when I registered to vote. The first time, in 1960, I had to show valid identification to prove that I was a U.S. citizen. Most recently, I had to show no identification whatsoever. I could've signed any name & voted as many times as I wished, as long as I could cite different addresses for those names. Even if votes were honestly counted & given equal weight, such fecklessness invites fraud. Keep up the good work. ORION! scid
