

27 Jewlie 08

Dear Tom: Many thanks for your letter of 19 Jewlie 08. As you say, Man plays out his dismal farce on the stage of The Universe. One writer noted that "Humans never avoid problems. They just survive them." At least some do, who continue the same follies which contributed to the demise of the non-survivors: Mindless multiplication.

A National Geographic article mentioned in passing that the deserts of North Africa are man-made by the 3 O's: Over-logging, over-grazing & over-population. China's woes are also caused by the same factors, in addition to extreme air-pollution. Man depletes what he must have, & he pollutes the rest. This reminds me of the bacteria which produce alcohol as their waste product. The bacteria eat sugar until the toxic alcohol becomes sufficient to kill them off, at which point fermentation stops. That's why natural fermentation is limited to 12% alcohol, as I recall. If man wants stronger stuff, he must distill it, so as to reach 100 proof (50%) or even 200 proof (100%) alcohol.

As you say, Judaism is a numbers racket: It took 10 good men to save Sodom & Gomorrah from "Demonic wrath," but it took only Noah to save mankind from Yahweh's flood. Such a deal! According to the 'holy' Talmud, the Romans slew "4 million jews" at the siege of Bar Koziba, & "some say it was 4 BILLION"(!). The blood of the slain jews rose to the horses' stirrups (the Romans had no stirrups!), & washed boulders down to the sea, causing the sea to be bloodstained 4 miles from shore. Obviously, the numbers are to keep the jews' lies straight. A holocaust is not just a conflagration. It is also a "burnt offering." Six million is thus a magic number which has been alleged in 1919, & again after World War II. Yahweh apparently accepts fake offerings, since these 'holocausts' did not occur in fact, but only in fiction.

Yes, Christianity was the first case of Judaism for Goyim, but the Holohoax will be the new one. Judaism is a religion of extermination, as evident from its "high holy days" of Passover (we got the Egyptians!), Purim (we got the Persians!) & Rosh Hashoah (Aargh, they got us!). In other words, Judaism is a cult concerned with killing Goyim, who are always (allegedly) out to kill jews, no matter how hard they work for them.

Man has found ways to multiply his numbers, perhaps beyond earth's capacity to support them. "Some say" that man will have to export his numbers to other planets. At man's present state of development, his possible, but not likely, settlement of other planets will resemble our rape & ruin of The New World, here on earth. When man is richer, he is no wiser, for abundance produces fatheads. Many featherless bipeds think that The American Way made us rich, when it was actually American space & natural resources. Had America been the India that Columbus thought he'd reached, there'd be no surpluses, aside from Indians. The "Green Revolution" of the 1960s allowed for greatly increased population in India, so the number of hungry Indians has almost doubled. Such a deal! The more we feed, the more they breed, so feeding is no solution at all to the Population Problem. Malthus was right.

If humans bred like eels & salmon, which reproduce only at the ends of their lives, there'd be no one to look after the human offspring, as with other mammals. But it's a thought. Other organisms have become extinct, one way or another, so there is no guarantee that man is exempt from Nature's cycles, nor from man's own damage to the environment. One thing seems certain, aside from death & taxes: The extinct do not complain.

Our present crises of politics, demography & economy are all man-made, so I may be accused of harboring "a conspiracy theory." That is the phrase used to stop Goyim from discussing relevant problems. If I say that weather affects food-production, that's just one more "conspiracy theory." If we are to believe that "conspiracy theories" are not only unkosher, but paranoid, then man is not responsible for anything which befalls him. Golly gee! Hence, the subprime mortgage meltdown had nothing whatsoever to do with human decisions & actions: Nothing & nobody is responsible, so life is a random series of UNCAUSED effects. Under normal conditions, a padded cell would await the proponents of such nonsense, but not if they're 'kosher.' After all, the jews don't believe their lies to us Goyim, for they know where the truth is hidden, often in plain sight. As one professor of mine declared: "There are no big secrets." Further experience has proved him right.

To quote the words on a sign I saw many years ago in a machine shop: "I want to stick around, just to see what happens next!" Shakespeare declared that "Life is but a stage." It is indeed entertaining. All the best! DOWZ! CRION!
