Hitler's positive family program

Hitler's plan to build thousands of low-cost homes also demanded a vast mobilization of manpower. He had envisioned housing that would be attractive, cozy, and affordable for millions of ordinary German working-class families. He had no intention of continuing to tolerate, as his predecessors had, cramped, ugly "rabbit warren" housing for the German people. The great barracks-like housing projects on the outskirts of factory towns, packed with cramped families, disgusted him.

The greater part of the houses he would build were singlestory, detached dwellings, with small yards where children could romp, wives could grow vegetable and flower gardens, while the bread-winners could read their newspapers in peace after the day's work. These single-family homes were built to conform to the architectural styles of the various German regions, retaining as much as possible the charming local variants.

Wherever there was no practical alternative to building large apartment complexes, Hitler saw to it that the individual apartments were spacious, airy and enhanced by surrounding lawns and gardens where the children could play safely.

The new housing was, of course, built in conformity with the highest standards of public health, a consideration notoriously neglected in previous working-class projects.

Generous loans, amortizable in ten years, were granted to newly married couples so they could buy their own homes. At the birth of each child, a fourth of the debt was cancelled. Four children, at the normal rate of a new arrival every two and a half years, sufficed to cancel the entire loan debt.

Once, during a conversation with Hitler, I expressed my astonishment at this policy. "But then, you never get back the total amount of your loans?," I asked. "How so?" he replied, smiling. "Over a period of ten years, a family with four children brings in much more than our loans, through the taxes levied on a hundred different items of consumption."

As it happened, tax revenues increased every year, in proportion to the rise in expenditures for Hitler's social programs. In just a few years, revenue from taxes tripled. Hitler's Germany never experienced a financial crisis.

To stimulate the moribund economy demanded the nerve, which Hitler had, to invest money that the government didn't yet have, rather than passively waiting-in accordance with "sound" financial principles—for the economy to revive by itself.

Today, our whole era is dying economically because we have succumbed to fearful hesitation. Enrichment follows investment, not the other way around.

all about. As Our Race diminishes in the USA, Commander Rockwell's prophecy may be fulfilled, that our skins will be not the way to make a decent future for White Children, if they ever became parents. That's what National Socialism was selves, & weakening themselves with drink & drugs, they were only going down as they lived in it, with to the bottom skinheads who claim to be Nazis. Sorry, the jews, & knocked them on their asses. The skinheads I knew in Toronto were too busy to help the Aryan Cause, for into court for his thoughterime trials, pot to smoke, as well as rock concerts to attend. Yeah, it's a hard life, but we finally won, when the Supreme Court of Canada abolished the law under which he was tried. Oh, real Nazis who I knew adult life. I also fought the jews with my fists so Mr. Zündel could get 25 AUG 08. Mr. Tony Campbell alias Brokeback Camel: I don't know if your do it. Dear Claude: Many thanks for your recent mailing on banking in the USA & elsewhere. As one whose ancestry entitles him to be a "Son of the American Revolution," I'm keenly interested in relevant historical events involving the Founding Felons of this jew-serving empire of usury, which you have provided, so I can fill in some gaps.

We know that the USA was founded by the Rothschilds & their Freemason minions who led a fake rebellion against the King of England, on behalf of The Bank of England. Hence, the so-called American Revolution was a change of label, but not of substance, for we were still ruled by the plutocrats of usury banking, which proceeded to expand throughout the North American continent, with its jew harvests of wars & debts.

The author, whose name is omitted, points out the inherent defects of the usury banking system for its victims: The accrual of debt beyond the debtors' ability to pay the interest thereon, let alone the principal. The biblical idea of jubilee is absurd, as usual, for the debtor has sold his property to the lender, by his own decision, even if he is too dumb to know what he did, just as a drug addict sells his freedom to the drug-dealer, by his own decision. What entitles one to reclaim his former property, if he agreed to the deal?

The author reveals the parallels between ancient Rome & present-day banksterdom. So the "tribute" collected by Rome, following its conquests was, in fact, interest toward payment of the price of conquest, as in more recent "war reparations." It was also informative how Roman banksters drove Roman farmers from their fields, into the legions & the cities. I question the wisdom of using interest-bearing loans to drive producers out of production, unless one aims at bringing in foreign slaves to replace them, as was done in Rome, & in present-day America, whose bankster industrialists also make use of slaves overseas. As one commentator said: "When the economy is down, military recruitment is up." Hence, the unemployed producers & their children can join the Zionist Occupation Government's legions, as previous Goyim did for those of Rome. Such a deal!

The author lists the periodic gobbling up of small banks by larger banks, which grow ever richer & more powerful in their ability to buy productive enterprises, including control of the mass-media. The jew, Ulyanov alias Lenin predicted that capitalists would eat one another until there would be just one left, & that capitalist could be toppled by the mythical Sons of Labor. The author thinks that the New (jew) World Order will come about when one bank has succeeded in taking over all the smaller banks, much as the Mafia absorbed smaller gangs of criminals. As Bakunin said, "Small crooks rob banks. Big crooks run them."

I note that the bankster-wise Benjamin Franklin also had a hand in the banking racket, as did Jefferson, Hamilton & other Founding Felons, & that Washington did his bit for the banksters by crushing the so-called Whisky Rebellion, which was like Shay's Rebellion & the American Revolution, sparked by protests against bankster abuses which impoverished the people. Washington thereby revealed his Freemasonic allegiance to the Rothschilds & their ilk. The Founding Felons always championed plutocracy over democracy, which they deemed "mobrule." In truth, the USA was always a plutocracy disguised by a hypocrisy, which has aped Rome in its diversity, its imperialism & its usury.

"Cui bono?" must be our eternal question, for banking, like cannon, plows & other artifacts are means which may be used for good, rather than evil. A racket is defined as any enterprise which profits the few at the expense of the many. Some philosophers have defined 'good' as that which benefits the many, but I see 'good' as that which produces racial improvement. Since bankster rule has shown itself to be highly dysgenic, those rulers must be removed from the body politic. Hitler used money & banking to benefit the German people, whereas the jews & their minions used money & banking to destroy them. Banking, like fire, can do good or ill, depending on who uses it. Ancient thinkers have condemned usury, as they did "lotus-eating," or drug-addiction, for very good reasons, as we can see.

My persecuted friend, Pedro Varela, made an excellent speech on the role of money in society: He likened it to honest weights & measures. It is a crime to alter the length of a yard or meter; the quantity of a quart or liter; the mass of a pound or kilo. So it must be with the value of money, which should be tied to the quantity of goods & services in an economy, rather than banksters' desire for profit. We do not speculate on the length of a yard, &c., nor should we speculate on the relationship of money to the supply of goods & services. Goyim must finally understand that: INFLATION IS THEFT. DEFLATION IS SABOTAGE & DEBT IS SLAVERY. I always wondered why my parents worked so hard to owe money on everything they had, but never owned. I now understand how that is possible, & so easy to fall into, if one does not live below his income, as I've done my entire life. ORION! 88!
