Dear Wayne: Thank you for your letter of 4 OCT 08. I strongly suggest you read history in regard to the correlation between population & religious faith. You also need to examine, without vested interest in self-promotion the destructive nature of faith & belief in the White population, specifically.

I note that population increase has no particular correlation with any particular religion. It came naturally. Sex doesn't need advertising, like the Hershey Chocolate Bars, which were deemed so good by the public, they never needed to advertise. My father used to say, "If they must advertise, their business must not be good." In his world there was community, & word of mouth was the medium of advertising. Sex does not require even word of mouth to make it attractive. It has been argued that sex comes to the fore when people have nothing else to do, whether their offspring will eat or not. In agricultural society children are an asset, for they are the farmer's own labor force, & the farmer can feed them, unless their numbers are so great as to create famine conditions. People have children if they see them as serving their interests: Land inheritance, military service, advancement of the family interests in business, conquest or even social status, when large families are fashionable. But children occur throughout history, because they can't be prevented from doing so, even when the inadvertant parents don't want them to. If all unplanned babies were required to have "Oops" in their names, we might know what percentage of offspring were the result of accident. In the pre-pill 1950s it was said that "Accidents cause people," in addition to "People cause accidents."

Social form usually follows social function. When the Judeo-British empire of banksterdom needed the surplus population for soldiers & slaves, "The more the merrier" continued as the British breeding policy, for there were lands to settle, wogs to whack & other White people to war against. Naturally, heroes were also welcome & they were promoted by the imperialists of their times, such as Kipling. I'm sure the Romans had their imperial heroes as well. You need to learn that Whitey slew himself for his jew-bankster bosses in the 20th century, just as he slew his own kind in the 30 Years' War. In every case, the strength of Whitey's beliefs served to undo him. Sure, Whites had commitment, lots of commitment to causes greater than themselves, thereby serving their alien masters unto death. Such a Deal!

Those who tout religion as the salvation of Whites, & in particular Christinsanity, are absolutely wrong. White civilization existed & thrived DESPITE this religion of slavery & racial treason. You may recall that the achievements of the Rebirth or Renaissance in Europe followed The Black Death, which reduced the European population considerably. Writers have argued that Europe needed such a population reduction in order to have its Renaissance or its rediscovery of classical knowledge & art, thus breaking the tyranny of The Church, to some extent. You seem unaware that destructive wars are due to the strength of transcendental beliefs, rather than their absence. Transcendental beliefs which support individual sacrifice usually serve the evil interests of our alien masters. Buchanan is wrong because he is Christian & he is wrong because our erroneous ideals so diminished our White people that similarly erroneous ideas have left us open to alien invasion. Selfishness has not been our undoing so much as selflessness. Because we have failed to see that Our Race is an extension of ourselves, we have been too quick to believe the lies of our jew masters, on behalf of chronic internecine warfare, against ourselves, because we believed in a cause greater than ourselves.

Benjamin Freedman, former bankster, told us why World War I occurred: Trade rivalries & the bankster desire for war profits. Having Goyim kill Goyim was also of great interest to jew banksters, since they thereby fulfilled their religious duty. The Goyim died for all sorts of kosher baloney conveyed to them by the jewsmedia. They did it again in World War II, without learning anything: Ourselves we slew for the inner jew.

When belief is strong in a religion, those who claim to represent it can decide on reproduction. But the overall governing factor on population growth or diminution is economic, based on the ability of a society to feed its numbers, as we see in Africa & Asia. Christinsanity is nonsense, for the reason that it includes The Old Testament credo of "Be fruitful & multiply," along with the New Testament credo that sex is sin, but "It is better to marry than to burn," allegedly with sexual lust. In other words, Christians exist by default, rather than by design. The leaders of the Church knew that combining guilt with sex did not diminish the natural urge. As Jefferson noted: "A Christian must either be a fool or a fraud!"

As you say, the blightwing looks to "collapse" for its salvation, just as Christians see their salvation in Jesus' "Second Coming," which is actually the third coming, if one believes the New Testament, since Jesus allegedly reappears after his "death on the cross." Christians can't count, either. That's why they support Israel & Armageddon.

As I point out, your Mars Migration on behalf of Whites cannot occur until Whites have achieved White Power to some degree on Earth. Over-population is often the stimulus for wars on behalf of any pretext: Political, economic &/or religious. The Chinese need to export their population, so they are now interested in space travel, in addition to their ongoing colonization of less-populated territories on this planet.

As you say, Whites need a positive belief system on behalf of White Survival. Separatism is certainly not enough, for White Flight has been evident since 1965, when our Zionist bankster rulers decreed that our borders be opened to non-White invaders. Hence the need for a positive idea: White Nationalism, which is the Natural extension of the family & the individual.

Blightwingers often fail to grasp the meaning of "collapse," due to their penchant for fantasies & wishful-thinking. Our Zionist Occupation Government did not collapse during the bankster-created Depression of 1929 to 1939, nor from the war that followed, since wars are indeed the jews' harvests. The Goy world may collapse for us, but not for the jew world which plans & institutes such collapses. That's what the New (jew) World Order is all about.

As others have noted, a religion cannot be a mere appeal to reason. I know lots of smokers who admit that smoking is unhealthy, as they light up another cigarette. Their reason says one thing, but their mental habit & body chemistry say the contrary. You will get nowhere with reason alone. As I have long & repeatedly noted: Reason serves emotion & emotion serves instinct. Hence, reason is the servant of the irrational. I do not 'reason' that I'm hungry. In fact, hunger is most unreasonable, but I acknowledge it, unlike the Japanese who deem hunger to be an indulgence, rather than a necessity in human existence. I'm not Japanese. I do not see hunger & the need for sleep as "spiritual weakness" or sin, since I know food & sleep are necessary for my animal existence, without which my spiritual existence is dubious. I am what I have become via my 5 senses & my genetic make up. Without my physical body, I have none of these faculties, so it is most unlikely that my "spirit" would exist without my body. But religions usually tout an "afterlife" to motivate their believers, in which one is rewarded or punished because of his relationship to certain religious leaders. Without this belief, religion loses much of its clout: Fear! The fear of losing some ineffable pleasure or suffering minutely-described pain, forever. This fear motivated the Crusaders, as it did their Moslem opponents: To die in 'holy' combat was one's ticket to paradise, unless one could purchase indulgences. But did such beliefs contribute in any way to White civilization? Hardly. White civilization existed DESPITE its religions. White populations did not thrive because of Christinsanity. They DIED because of it, & incorporated racial aliens as well. Christianity was itself a jew imposition on White civilization that contributed to the fall of Rome. Constantine had the jew-cult reinterpreted so that his Christian slaves would fight, under "the divine right" of kings. This made Christianity a good racket for increasing a king's power over his subjects, backed by his soldiers & the priesthood. That's why Christinsanity flourished in Europe after the fall of Christian Rome. Hence, we must distinguish between causes & effects.

The diminution of the White population is due, not to selfishness & disaffection with transcendental sacrifices, but with the outcomes of such sacrifices. This is what caused the "lost generation" nihilism after World War I, as depicted by many writers. Jews instigated the war & its aftermath, as they've done repeatedly, generation after generation, so our present plight is due, not to an absence of something, but to its presence: Jew power. As long as we remain willing dupes & slaves of our executioners, in their many guises, we will not achieve White Power. That's our task, without which there can be no White community spirit. White communities with Zionist spirit have existed before. That is why White numbers have diminished, as well as our will to survive as Whites.

The survival of a race is both mystical & practical, not merely rational. Love is not rational, but emotional, stemming from instinct. Hitler said that the White man must think with his blood. For me, The Amazon was far more than water & mosquitoes. It was the culmination of my ambition & my spirituality. Your religion must, at least, have such appeal to our Aryan instincts. All the best. ORION!
