Iowa plant saw hundreds of deportations

DES MOINES — A man who managed a once-dominant kosher meat empire heads to trial Tuesday to face allegations involving what U.S. Attorney Matt Dummermuth describes as the largest single-site immigration raid in United States history.

The trial, in which Sholom Rubashkin will challenge 91 fraud-related charges, marks the latest turn in a case that dealt a blow to the northeastern Iowa town of Postville and stoked the national debate over immigration. Publicity surrounding the case has been so intense, the trial was moved from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to Sioux Falls, S.D.

The 22-year-old plant, Agriprocessors, which had grown into the nation's largest kosher meat supplier under the Rubashkin family, had become Postville's largest employer, attracting New York rabbis, immigrant workers and longtime Iowans.

The trial's outcome "will affect our community, especially the Jewish community, quite a lot," said Paul Ouderkirk, pastor of St. Bridget's Catholic Church in Postville.

Prosecutors also have charged Rubashkin with 72 immigration-related counts for his alleged role in a plan to hire illegal workers, according to federal court documents.

A second trial on those charges is expected to begin a week after the first concludes, Assistant U.S. Attorney Peter Deegan said in a memo.

Rubashkin was a top executive at Agriprocessors when agents raided the business in May 2008. Court documents show that 389 illegal immigrants were arrested and that most were deported.

Rubashkin ordered employees to create fake invoices so he could obtain advances on a revolving bank loan, Deegan wrote in court papers.

Rubashkin was supposed to repay the bank, but is alleged to have diverted the payments to keep the money.

"By diverting the payments, the defendant was, in effect, stealing the bank's collateral and then lying to the bank about it," Deegan wrote.

Defense lawyer Guy Cook has said his client denies all of the charges.

Rubashkin: Faces 91 fraud-related charges in case.

31 OCT 09. Hail Jason: Thanks for your note of 27 OCT 09 & the great news item on rabbinical racketeering. "Kosher" need not be clean nor honest, because it's a jew scam for taxing Goyim (Gentiles). One marvels at the multiplicity of criminal activities occurring on one jew 'business site:' Illegal aliens, poor sanitation, fraudulent financing on behalf of bank robbery. I suspect that those were not the only social abuses occurring there, for jews don't do anything for few reasons, in my experience. The New Jersey kosher crooks trafficked in phony goods, murder & bootleg bodyparts, as well as drug money laundering & fraud, all approved by rabbis in terms of their religion. Such a deal! They sell or rent human flesh in the ongoing slave trade of all races. White sex slaves are currently in high demand, & jews always supply such demands, for commerce is 'holy' as is money, no matter how it is obtained. Judaism teaches that The Messiah will come when jews own all the wealth of the world, whereas Christianity teaches that poverty paves the way into heaven. That's why the two cults are complementary, whatever they may say about one another. No priest ever turned down a dollar, if a rabbi didn't grab it first. I appreciate the USA TODAY article, but it lacks the date of publication so others may find it for confirmation.

Every religious racket has nasty things to say about its competitors, & Semitic religions claim sole copyright on admission to "heaven" or "hell." Religious tolerance under such circumstances can exist if no one takes his particular racket seriously, as Persian scholar & poet Omar Khayyam observed in regard to Moslem prophets & clerics. Jesus is ranked as a prophet in Islam, whereas Jesus is alleged to be the bastard son of a Roman soldier & a whore.*But, under Judaism, if that whore was jewish, Jesus would also be jewish, for lineage is traced through one's maternal ancestry. *in Judaism. Zoggies must understand that "diversity" means differences, & serious differences at close quarters cause disharmony. Without diversity, there would be no need for prisons in Judeo-America.

"The Order," like the James Gang, is a subject of folklore. As I understand from reading stories about them, the chief author of their downfall was their leader, Mathews, who recruited the informer, Martinez, & imprisoned the group on Whidby Island, which has only 2 exits, aside from swimming. His decisions resulted in their capture. FEDZOGUSA has a history of establishing "phony combat cells" for just that purpose, as I learned when I was in Latin America. Revolutionaries choose strategic targets, so neither The Order nor "The Turner Diaries" upon which it was based was revolutionary.

The jew Vladimir Illych Ulanov alias Lenin observed that stealing the regime's money was "anti-revolutionary," since the value of the regime's money depended on the strength of the regime in power. Bandits don't want their loot to lose its value, which distinguishes bandits from revolutionaries. The jew, Jerry Rubin, who founded the Yippees, brought Jew York Stock Exchange activity to a halt by dumping a garbage can full of zogbucks onto the trading floor. Like other subversive jews, he was welcomed back into the financial fold. I last heard that he is a stockbroker in Wall Street, similar to other jew terrorists who are members of ZOG's establishment.

Strategic targets are revolutionary in that they target things that people need, rather than the people themselves. 9-11 was ZOG-serving, for example, but destruction of the Buffalo power supply would have been strategic, albeit less mediagenic & propagandistic. The Federal Reserve Racket is truly revolutionary in its destruction of Judeo-American currency, as we are about to see. Banksters & the regime which serves them are waging war upon the Goy sheeple in this land of ZOG. Stay tuned. DOWZ! ORION!
