

THE GENETICS OF THE JEWS: "Jews are not White," says Professor Leonard Fein, who teaches Politics & Social Policy at Brandeis University in the U.S.A. Fein was addressing the 17th biennial congress of the Jewish Board of Deputies in Johannesburg, South Africa in May, 1972. "You are not White, either symbolically or literally, as anyone knows who goes to Israel," he said. Professor Fein, besides being a specialist in Jewish community problems in the U.S.A., is a specialist in Black-White relations in the cities. RAND DAILY MAIL, May 15, 1972.

"Jewish blood is different," says Jew Dr. Michael Kaback of the John F. Kennedy Institute in Baltimore. Jewish blood lacks an enzyme called Hex A and often results in a condition called Tay-Sachs disease. Over 90% of the Tay-Sachs disease is found in Jews. This disease causes convulsions, paralysis, idiocy and death."

A TV documentary featured the story of a Jew who called himself "German". He mated with a Cajun woman. Their child was born with Tay-Sachs disease and died in infancy. Jews of all parts of the world have specific genetic similarities, even common fingerprint characteristics, according to Dr. Leo Sachs, who heads the genetics section of The Weizman Institute of Science in New York, in collaboration with Dr. M. Bat-Miriam.

"The Genetics of the Jews" by A.E. Mourant et al., Oxford University Press, 1978, reports the findings of Jew hematologists, whose work was originally published in The Lancet, the journal of the British Medical Association. They report that "even the blondest Jew has Negro marker genes... which are due to concubinage (prostitution) and slavery." For more information, contact RACIAL LOYALTY.

World Without 'White'

DR. NOEL IGNATIEV, A historian and professor at Massachusetts College of Art, has been called one of the 10 most dangerous minds in America—all because of his theories on race. Ignatiev's book, "How the Irish Became White," is a staple in most "white studies" classes, a relatively new course of studies that explores race and privilege in America. The co-publisher of the academic journal Race Traitor, Ignatiev spoke with NEWSWEEK's Peter Bailey: What is "whiteness studies"? Blacks have been studying whites for years as a matter of survival. We study whiteness and the privileges that come with it. "Whiteness" is an effort to build an identity based on what you're not—"I'm not black, I'm not Mexican, therefore I'm not subject to the social discrimination attached to being one of those ethnicities." The term whiteness studies is misleading because what we're actually trying to do is eliminate racial categories in America, but we have to study the history of racial categories to understand racism.

You've called for the elimination of the white race.

When we say we want to get rid of the white race, we don't want to kill people. That's nonsense. We want to destroy the social meaning applied to race. People may free themselves of the crippling and stifling identity of whiteness. There's better ways of grouping people than putting blacks on one end of the room and whites on the other.

How has whiteness evolved in America?

All whiteness represents is exclusion. It represents a system by which privilege is handed down by means of skin color. Whiteness is a club; skin color is the badge of membership. There are numerous groups of Africans, Europeans and American Indians, but in America we're grouped into red, white and black, which provides a reason for social standing. It's directly tied to racial oppression.

What would whiteness be without racial oppression?

Nothing. If we do away with the privilege attached to white skin, we may end racial oppression.

Unfortunately, White people seem too obtuse to heed what Jews say to themselves, so I relate my firsthand experience in Africa: After the Johannesburg announcement, Jews began referring to Rhodesian Whites, sneeringly, as "You White people." Exclude the Jew or you're through! Ben Franklin was right. E.T.
