

Important information from and for Germany

A treatise in reference to remarks made by statesmen who caused World War II and those who tried to prevent it.

By the Alliance for the Struggle against the Suppression of the Truth in Germany.

Translated from the German by Frank V. Kerney.

After the end of World War II the German people could lament the deaths of over 11 million of their compatriots. They had reached one of their lowest points in their two thousand year history. Through Allied terror bombing of German cities with internationally banned fire spreading, incendiary and phosphor bombs (never used by Germany) millions of German women and children suffered agonizing deaths at the hands of the Allies.

The German population in the Eastern Provinces was driven from their ancient homeland in flagrant violation of international law and the Allies own wide-spread but totally ignored pronouncements of "self-determination." Millions of German soldiers, fathers, spouses, brothers and sisters could not return to their homelands after the war in order to make room for Poles from the East who had no historical claim to this land.

Not only under the Soviets, but also in Allied post-war prison camps there was enforced starvation. In the rubble of the cities many old people saw no future and ended their busy lives by committing suicide. The German people were torn apart through the war, mothers sought their children, fathers sought their spouses and relatives. This all-embracing existential predicament is unimaginable in today's world. The victorious powers and their Jewish masters who directed their vast propaganda machine cloaked their people with the most outrageous lies about Germany ever conceived by mankind - and their people believed it!

Their aim was to totally destroy us. Germany was divided according to their concept of world order to eliminate it from world markets. To finally destroy Germany, the country that had given so much to the world, was the main aim of the Western capitalists.

The Jew Morgenthau who was the finance minister under Roosevelt worked out a plan to totally devastate the Ruhr district of Germany. Another Jew Theodor Nathan Kaufman in his book Germany must perish proposed in great detail how German men and women should be sterilized and turned into slaves for the victors.

Today we know the Cold War between Capitalism and Communism saved us from annihilation. In the political almost "hot" war between them when they realized that they needed the Germans again. However, today the Western Allies prefer to remain silent about their former criminal objectives.

Even today, the people in the former "West Germany" are subjected to the most atrocious lies in order to make them willing objects of plunder for all-time. In the West and also in the so-called German Democratic Republic (actually Middle Germany, but called East Germany in the Western media) traitorous Germans, lackeys of the victors and their accomplices have suppressed the truth about Germany's past, especially the accomplishments of Adolf Hitler, to this very day. If you dare tell the truth about lies circulated in Germany and the world, under section 130 of the Basic Law of Germany, you will be condemned to East Prussia and Silesia which means the resettlement of six million people. That can easily be accomplished because we have killed 6 million Germans so there is room for more millions in Germany."

Churchill in the Olympic Year 1936: "We will force a war on Hitler whether he wants it or not."

Churchill on the 21st. of June 1939 to a reporter of the Paris Soir: "There is a lot of truth in the accusations of our encirclement policy by the Western Powers. It is no longer necessary to hide the truth."

Churchill in his book "The Second World War" wrote: "In war the truth is so precious that it must be surrounded by a bodyguard of lies."

Churchill as supreme commander of British terror bomber fleets was therefore responsible for the bombing of German cities. David Irving in his book The Destruction of Dresden 1963, quotes Churchill's orders to the three RAF bomber fleets. "The air attack on Dresden did actually accomplish what we intended. Over 20 square kilometers of the city center were obliterated during the night." (What he didn't mention was that the RAF also turned over 2,000 of their own people, Allied prisoners-of-war who were being well cared for in the city's 17 hospitals, into ashes, along with the civilians. Added to this was the strafing of survivors by the Americans in the daytime. Trnsl. note.)

Compared to this, during the entire war in all the German retaliatory raids on London not even 2.6 kilometers of the city were destroyed and the Germans before these raids were called off because the planes were needed in Russia. It should be noted that the Germans were too humane to use phosphorous or other hellish bombs on civilians. On the other hand the crews of the three RAF bomber fleets were actually informed on another occasion: "You are flying there (to Chemnitz) tonight to kill all those who had escaped from Dresden." (No German Luftwaffe commander would ever have issued such an order. Trnsl. Note.)

From Churchill's speech in Fulton, U.S.A. March 1946: "The war was fought not only to eliminate fascism in Germany, but to gain German export markets." (Fascism was in Italy, Germany had National Socialism that brought great social benefits to the German people that are unsurpassed in the world to this day. FVK).

Churchill in his book "The Second World War Vol. 1: "For 400 years Britain's foreign policy has been based on the premise to oppose the most dominant power on the continent. That may be Spain, the French monarchy or empire, or the Hitler regime. It does not matter which ruler or nation, but only those we consider to be the greatest potential opponent who may stand in our way."

Churchill in his memoirs: "The unforgivable crime of Germany before the war was the attempt to take its economic power out of the global market, thus depriving the international financiers out of their profit."

Lord Halifax, Foreign Minister and Viceroy of India: after reading the book by Prof. Hoggan, The Enforced War was quoted as saying: "We have decided to pass off all the responsibility and our plotting for the war on Adolf Hitler."

The Jewish declaration of war against Germany in March 1933 resulted in the Jews being excluded from the German body politic. The reaction was the Jewish hate campaign and war against the German people which they pursued relentlessly. In the war duped soldiers of other nations did the actual fighting. .

Steht Demjanjuks Verurteilung bereits fest?

Recht oder Rache? John Demjanjuk wird auf der Bahre in den Gerichtssaal gefahren.

The trial lasted about 7 years and Demjanjuk was found guilty and received the death-sentence. But there was an outstanding Jewish Israeli attorney who appealed the verdict and finally could prove that the Russian evidence was fake and fabricated and the so-called 'eye-witnesses' were lying or at least they were mistaken. Demjanjuk was set free and went back to America, where he lived until the Germans came after him. The German Justice Dept. now wants to show Israel and the rest of the world how to find a man guilty even without real evidence.

But this time around the whole world will be witness, as over 270 journalists from different newspapers around the world have arrived in Munich, Germany. When Demjanjuk was deported from the U.S.A. to Germany last year, he was tied up on a stretcher and then loaded on an airplane. Demjanjuk cannot even walk or sit in a wheel-chair anymore. This is the same way he enters the courtroom in Germany - he is over 90 years old and very sick, actually he is totally helpless. But the Munich court finds the accused able and fit to stand trial, but at the same time the court proceedings are set for only 1-½ hours twice per day. Sometimes the court comes to a halt for days, because Demjanjuk is to sick to be taken there. What they do to Demjanjuk is cruel and inhumane and could be described as torture. It makes one wonder where the European Human Rights Commissions are!

Joram Scheftel, who was Demjanjuk's attorney in Israel, is convinced that the new ID-card is again a fake one and he is pointing out what is wrong with it, supported by the defence attorney in Munich. Scheftel also claims there is nothing in writing and there are no witnesses to place the victim at Treblinka, where he supposedly had committed those crimes. The only thing they have is the ID-card which was found - believe it or not - in Russia! The only thing that is known and proven is that Demjanjuk was a Russian "prisoner of war" from 1944 - 1945 in a camp called "Chelmno". In the meantime the big show-trial will continue and the German court will do everything to please the Zionist-Lobby.

(Information taken from "National Zeitung" No. 52 of December 11, 2009)

Reçu de ReporterNotebook le 22 novembre 2009, 4:27. R. Faurisson

From Demjanjuk's son:

As I read this, I couldn't help but recall sitting in MY Congressional Reps office (Barbara Boxer!!) and my congresswoman (Diane Feinstein) and getting the cold shoulder. I could not believe how my government was targeting my innocent, loving, good citizen father. I also recall how my FOIA lawsuit exposed the OSI and their dirty tricks. I wish I could have found a James Traficant who is indeed a true Patriotic hero. This story is a true American travesty - as Traficant says below: SHAME ON GERMANY, SHAME ON THE USA. Shame on them for letting the blind vengeance of a small minority control our DOJ! --John Demjanjuk Jr. Nov. 21, 2009

Start:

Former Rep. Jim Traficant is again going to bat for an Ohio workman accused of being a Nazi camp guard / <http://www.americanfreepress.net/rss/afp.xml>

Subject: The Demjanjuk case: A deliberate fraud of the Lobby!

DEMJANJUK FIGHTS FOR LIFE

By Jim Traficant

John Demjanjuk is a retired auto worker from Cleveland. He was born in Ukraine, served in World War II as a Russian soldier, was captured and held as a prisoner of war.

Demjanjuk's captors were soldiers of the German army. Today, as you read this column, Demjanjuk is standing trial for his very life once again. He is facing another Nazi war crimes indictment.

Think about the dynamics of this dilemma for John Demjanjuk. He's being tried in Germany, by the very country who captured him. They say he was a Nazi war criminal. I don't know about you, but on its surface it just doesn't add up.

Demjanjuk is not a war criminal and certainly was never a Nazi. I can remember my first acknowledgment of the "Demjanjuk" ordeal. It seems like yesterday. I was in my Washington, D.C. office in the old Cannon Building in the late '80s. One of my staffers came into my office in a sort of cloak-and-dagger mode stating that the "son of convicted Nazi mass murderer 'Ivan the Terrible' is in the reception room, and we told him you are not here." I then inquired of his purpose to meet with me, since I was not his congressman. I was then informed that young John Demjanjuk Jr. told them that he has "been to every office in the House and Senate, and no one would even speak with him because the matter was too sensitive."

John Demjanjuk Jr. further stated that "they did not want to involve Jim Traficant" because they said that they "knew the government hated him, but he's our last resort for any help."

My staffer said, "Do not meet with him; you'll be ostracized, destroyed, ruined. Let him go back to his own congressman and the two senators of Ohio."

My staff further advised that I was probably already targeted by the powerful Israeli lobby, since I was an opponent of foreign aid, and certainly my involvement with John Demjanjuk would guarantee that American Israeli Public Affairs Committee [AIPAC] would not quit till I was removed from Congress.

http://www.americanfreepress.net/html/email_newsletter.html

I went to the door so I could overhear the conversation between John Demjanjuk Jr. and my staff. I could feel the pain in his voice. John Demjanjuk Jr. finally stated: "My dad's not asking to meet with anyone. I'm asking, and I've never even had a parking ticket. What kind of government is this, that I can't even talk to my elected officials about my family's grave concerns?"

I then ordered my staff to bring John Demjanjuk Jr. and his brother-in-law Ed Nishnic into my office. My staff told me this decision would destroy my career in Congress. I met John Demjanjuk Jr. and Ed Nishnic and offered them a seat to discuss their problems.

John Demjanjuk Jr. is a fine young man, a son any father would be proud of. His demeanor was that of a troubled and worried young man. He was accompanied by his brother-in-law Ed Nishnic and basically let Ed Nishnic explain their plight.

Ed Nishnic is also a remarkable man. Like John Demjanjuk Jr. he's very intelligent and was very determined to prove the innocence of his father-in-law. I stated emphatically, that "I've decided to meet with you for one reason and one reason only: No American should ever be turned away when seeking help from our government." I then said, "Your dad has been convicted of mass murder, the extermination of one million Jewish prisoners. He has been sentenced to death. I want you to know up front, that if he is really guilty I could personally pull the switch at his execution."

I then told them I would hear their concerns. (Be advised that the mainstream media wrote that "Jim Traficant supports Nazi mass murderer" as soon as word spread that I had met with the "Demjanjuk" family.)

Nishnic handed me two report summaries of OSI investigators (Office of Special Investigations, the group within the Justice Department created by Congress to apprehend and prosecute Nazi war criminals). They had interrogated one Otto Horn in Berlin, Germany. Horn was a former SS Nazi guard who had assisted "Ivan Grozny" (Ivan the Terrible), at the Treblinka, Poland concentration camps.

These two reports were originals, not copies, and were signed by agents Garand and Daugherty, and were witnessed by prosecutor Moscovitz, who handled the denaturalization trial of John Demjanjuk in Cleveland. The reports were stamped as received by the Justice Department and signed by unit chief Eli Rosenbaum.

I read the documents very carefully without input from John Demjanjuk Jr. or Ed Nishnic. I could not believe my eyes. I could not believe what I was reading. The Justice Department had committed a great crime. Moscovitz, Garand and Daugherty suborned the perjury of Otto Horn in order to convict an American citizen wrongfully-an American now denaturalized, stripped of his citizenship and waiting to be executed. (The authenticity of these two documents cannot be denied.)

At trial, Horn stated that "John Demjanjuk was Ivan Grozny." But in these two early reports, two years before the trial, Horn could not identify Demjanjuk from the photographs displayed before him.

I had a problem. A big problem. I knew without a doubt that John Demjanjuk was not Ivan the Terrible. John Demjanjuk was in fact another victim, soon to be known as one of the most vicious and infamous mass murderers in world history. John Demjanjuk was awaiting execution as the infamous Ivan of Treblinka, Ivan the Terrible.

I would be defamed and ostracized because I would be compelled to prove the innocence of John Demjanjuk on the strength of these two Justice Department documents. John Demjanjuk was innocent-convicted of mass murder, sentenced to death and awaiting execution-and no one seemed to care.

I thought, what has happened to our great country that it could produce this type of brutal crime against this American and his family?

I realized I had a difficult task ahead, but with the help of John Demjanjuk Jr. and Ed Nishnic, I believed we could prove John Demjanjuk's innocence. It was imperative to do so. I had these two powerful documents to start with.

Otto Horn's testimony at the Cleveland denaturalization trial (via videotape) was very direct. Horn had been shown a series of photographs when interrogated in Berlin.

Moscovitz spread eight photos of Caucasian males in uniform, all in their early 20's. Horn testified that he identified John Demjanjuk immediately. Moscovitz then spread eight more photos of Caucasian soldiers in uniform, but now in their 40's. Horn again testified that he identified John Demjanjuk, even as an older man, because he knew him so well. Horn's testimony stripped John Demjanjuk of his citizenship, and he was sent to Israel to stand trial as Ivan the Terrible.

Now, back to the two reports of Horn's interrogation in Berlin two years earlier. Garand and Daugherty wrote in their reports immediately after their interview with Horn: "We spread eight photos of Caucasian men in uniform, all in their early 20's. Horn studied the photos at length and stated that 'one man looks familiar' [not John Demjanjuk] but FAILED to identify anyone."

The report goes on:

"We then gathered the eight photos and put them in a stack with John Demjanjuk's on top. We then spread eight more photos of older men in uniform with John Demjanjuk's photo among them. Horn studied these photos at length, and looking at the John Demjanjuk photo on top of the stack, then back to John Demjanjuk's photo in the older soldiers spread, said that 'this is the same man' but FAILED again to identify John Demjanjuk as Ivan."

Be advised that Horn lied through his teeth, and U.S. prosecutor Moscovitz allowed it. Horn later testified at the Israeli trial that he positively identified John Demjanjuk from the photo spreads. When the defense team cross-examined Horn, they asked if he could see the first photo spread when he was examining the second set. Horn testified:

"They put the first set of photographs in an envelope and removed them from my view." Horn lied again. John Demjanjuk was convicted, and sentenced to death.

I immediately began my own investigation by utilizing a number of FOIA [Freedom of Information Act] requests on John Demjanjuk. The government response was "classified"; thus I got nothing. At this point I conferred with John Demjanjuk Jr. and Nishnic to evaluate what options were available. We came up with a plan.

We decided to research any and all legal activity that involved the Treblinka camp. BINGO. We discovered that a Ukrainian-American from Chicago, by the name of Feodor Federenko, had been tried for war crimes at Treblinka. Federenko was acquitted. He then traveled to his homeland to visit his family, but was arrested by the Soviet KGB, was tried again in Russia, was convicted and executed. [No doubt our government arranged his demise].

I immediately sent out a new FOIA request, this time on Federenko. Most agencies threw my FOIAs in the wastebasket, but the State Department sent me two telegrams:

The first was from one of our OSI agents in Europe seeking information about Treblinka. The second was the response from the State Department listing the names of four men who had made statements about Treblinka. At the bottom of this was the following: "if you need further help, be advised we have another 100 pages in the file."

I acted immediately. I phoned the State Department and reached a Mrs. Poindexter, an honest, competent government worker. I asked her to send me those 100 pages, citing the fact that Federenko was deceased and his case was not "classified." Mrs. Poindexter complied.

Those 100 pages saved the life of John Demjanjuk. They contained the testimony of 17 witnesses about Treblinka.

All 17 identified "Ivan":

1. He was taller than John Demjanjuk;
2. He had dark hair, not blond like John Demjanjuk;
3. He was nine years older than John Demjanjuk;
4. He had a long scar on his neck.

There was also a photo of two SS Nazi guards who had been identified by one of the witnesses, who said: "The short guard with pistol is Tkachuk. The tall guard is the man the Jewish prisoners feared the most, 'Ivan Grozny'-IVAN MARCHENKO."

All 17 witnesses identified a man named Ivan Marchenko as "Ivan the Terrible."

I asked Congress for a hearing. Congress refused, the case was "too sensitive." The federal courts would not accept my evidence. I took my evidence to the floor of Congress. I said John Demjanjuk was not "Ivan the Terrible." A man named Ivan Marchenko was the real "Ivan."

That night, the U.S. Justice Department issued a statement that "there were two Ivans."

The next day I released the photo of Marchenko. The Justice Department was silent.

I then forwarded all my evidence to John Demjanjuk's defense team in Israel, who then submitted it in to the Israeli Supreme Court.

I flew to Israel with John Demjanjuk Jr. and Ed Nishnic, at my own expense. I did a live interview with Bryant Gumbel on the Today show. I stated that if Israel executed John Demjanjuk that Israel will lose $20 billion a year from U.S. taxpayers. Gumbel said that "Israel only gets $3 billion a year." I countered, "That's just the foreign aid bill, Bryant. Israel gets military aid, loans, loans converted to grants, and trade compacts and other money. I say that Israel gets $20,000 for every man, woman and child from America every year."

The interview was over.

I was phoned the following night and was told that John Demjanjuk would be released and delivered to me at the Tel Aviv Airport. We took him home.

I called a press conference for New York. While the press gathered, I ducked out with John Demjanjuk on a small plane. When approaching Cleveland, I directed the pilot to seek a landing pattern at the airport, then directed the flight to a small airstrip near Independence, Ohio, thus eluding the press.

John Demjanjuk went to a safehouse. He was home. I flew to Washington. The next day the Sixth Circuit Court in Cincinnati, Ohio issued the following statement; "A TRAGIC BUT HONEST MISTAKE BY OUR GOVERNMENT."

That was no mistake. Moscovitz, Garand and Daugherty should have been sent to prison. I said then, "Since when did sensitivity waive our Bill of Rights?" When we allow the rights of one American to be violated, we endanger the rights of all Americans.

Germany should send John Demjanjuk home. How, in God's name, can Germany accept any evidence from the U.S. Justice Department who suborned perjury in the first trial, withheld evidence, obstructed justice, and violated John Demjanjuk's civil rights?

SHAME ON GERMANY AND SHAME ON THE U.S.A. What has happened to our great country?