N&INS Analysis: Speculation on the British Commonwealth:

Is Israel to join European Union? During 2004-2005 there was pressure on EU to admit Turkey. US President Bush even spoke in favour of it as quoted in The Australian, also known as the Austral-Alien mouthpiece of the New York clique. The Australian printed many articles in favour mainly by Neo-Cons members of a particular ethno-religious grouping. Why would Bush want an enlarged EU, a political and economic rival to US? Why should US rulers want Turkey inside EU? Excuse 'they're part of NATO' is hollow. NATO was an anti-Soviet organ. Without USSR it has no justification for continued existence. War against Serbia in 1999 was explained by media at the time as "NATO's 50th anniversary present" to itself as otherwise it would have ceased to exist. Why exist now, 16 years after collapse of USSR? NATO is headed by a US general, in effect military ruler of all West Europe. Since 1989 his rule has extended into Central and Eastern, up to the gates of Russia.

US in Europe: As such it allows US to interfere in European-wide affairs. No NATO, no US influence. Good reason for Euro-nationalists to want NATO abolished. But as Geo. Bush said many times during 'End of WWII' celebrations and holocaust anniversaries, it was US intervention that decided the end of both European civil wars in 1918 and 1945. US believes that as long as they rule Europe through NATO they prevent another Europe-wide war which they would again be forced to end. Is reason US gave for lengthy Occupation of West Germany, focus of both World Wars. What has this to do Turkey's entry to EU? Turkey is military ally of Israel. Israel wants to be 'in' Europe. Sound odd? When thinking of Europe neither Malta or Cyprus spring readily to mind yet both joined EU in 2004. Neither is white despite both being majority Christian and claim they 'saved' Europe during 1400-year war with Islam. Now even Egypt says it, too, is 'European'. A status symbol among Third Worlders this boast is main reason so many risk their lives to enter EU illegally. But living in EU does not make one a 'European' or white. Egypt like Turkey is an 'ally' of Israel having signed a peace treaty in 1979. Will Turkey's entry to EU clear the way for Israel to enter? Some precedents.

1. Eurovision Song Contest: Annual event on Australian TV, broadcast by government multilingual channel, SBSTV. Turkey won 2004 Youth section, Ukraine won the 2004 adult section. Neither state belongs to EU but neither does Israel yet it too competes in both sections. EU has 25 member-states. 'Eurovision 2005' had 25 entrants but not all EU compete nor are all entrants in the EU. Most, like Croatia, Serbia were former Soviet-satellite states. Others, like Malta and Cyprus, are new EU members but are not in NATO. Both Turkey and Israel compete in Eurovision Junior and Senior contests. Turkey's in NATO but not in EU. Israel is in neither NATO or EU so on what basis are they 'European'? Suggest both states see themselves already as 'part of Europe'. When you hear of 'Turkey' to join EU see it as 'Israel', with Turkey just a screen.

2. From British Commonwealth to 'The Commonwealth': In 2000 Palestinian Authority Chair Yassir Arafat applied for the PA Zone to join the British Commonwealth of Nations on the basis that Palestine had also once been a British Protectorate (1917-1948). Soon after Israel, too, demanded entry on the same basis. Israel fears 'exclusion' from any body that allows the PA in, just in case someone is tempted to say something 'anti-Semitic'. Was never publicly revealed if either was allowed entry but soon after Mozambique was. Mozambique? Never a British colony, it was a former colony of Portugal. In like manner France began allowing French-speaking former Belgium colonies into its 22-member 'Francophone Union'. Like Turkey's entry to EU, all this defied both logic and tradition. Soon after public entry of Mozambique, and possibly private entry of Israel, the Commonwealth Heads Of Government Meeting (CHOGM) was to take place in Brisbane, Australia. Lead up to this event, slated for September 2001, boasted "all 54 CHOGM heads of State" would attend. But Britain only had 49 colonies. People in Brisbane began making inquiries: "Who are these other five?"

Zimbabwe Opposition: To undermine his Opposition Movement For Democratic Change (MDC) Zimbabwe's Robert Mugabe began persecuting whites. Acted as a diversion, deflecting world media onto 'race issue' and away from his growing dictatorship. Remaining white CHOGM heads - NZ, Australia and Britain - said a lot but did nothing. Was white states' inaction bought at price of Mugabe's silence on Israel's illegal Commonwealth admission as well as Zimbabwe's possession of 90% of world's chromium, essential for aero-space industries in US, EU and Japan.

Israeli Role: In lead-up to 2003 Zimbabwe Parliamentary elections self-proclaimed 'former Mossad agent' and private investigator Ari Ben Menashi set up a 'sting operation' in Canada. Aimed to entrap Zimbabwe Opposition Leader Morgan Tsangarai in alleged 'murder plot' against Mugabe. Reporter Mark David of SBSTV current affairs programme Dateline referred to Ben Menashi as "my old friend from Melbourne" in initial broadcast. SBS ran obviously bogus story, not once but three times in three weeks, an unprecedented decision in highly competitive world of TV current affairs reporting. For second and third broadcasts of same report, David's reference to "my old pal" was dropped as David attempted to put a professional distance between himself and Mossad hoaxter Menashi. Third and last broadcast was shown only days before Zimbabwe's Presidential elections which Tsangarai had been touted to win. SBS report had become an election issue in Zimbabwe. Menashi/David tape later formed basis for subsequent treason trial of Tsangarai following rigged poll win by Mugabe.

Jana Wendt - Then Went: What was role of token media ethnic and temporary Dateline presenter, ubiquitous Czech Jana Wendt? Wendt spent many years at Channel Nine's 60 Minutes, modeled on US namesake by New Yorker and founder-producer Gerald Stone (Jerry Stein). In 2003 Wendt briefly took over from George Negus' (also a 60 Minutes alumnus) at ABC's Foreign Correspondent. Unfortunately her token ethnicity was insufficient to counterbalance her natural dullness so after only six months she left ABC for fellow government network, ethnic broadcaster and home of multiculturalism SBS.

SBS was founded by Liberal government of Malcolm Fraser, co-founder of Australian 'multiculturalism' with ALP's Irish-Sicilian Mafiosi and Federal Minister for Migration, Al Grassby. Not an original idea, they simply copied Pierre Trudeau who had earlier made Canada bilingual - French/English. Wendi's reward for allowing Menashi/David hoax story to run? She was sacked. Her place was taken by Mark David. He held this post till after 2004 Federal election whereupon he was demoted back to 'field reporter', this time in Iraq. His place was taken by George Negus. Byzantine politics of SBS, with its market for 200 language groups within Australia and vast AM/FM radio and TV networks is another story. But what interest has Israel have in keeping Mugabe on his throne?

Why Israel Aid Africa? Is a mystery. Is possible Israel is simply 'influence peddling' as it did in 1960's when it trained Idi Amin's air force and built the doomed Tan-Zam Railway to link Tanzania and Zambia. Israel felt bitter after Amin's open support for his fellow Muslims of the PLO's lead him to allow a hijacked Israeli airliner to land at Entebbe Airport in 1976. Feeling betrayed Israel not only freed her trapped citizens on 4th July 1976 but destroyed all eleven MiG-17's and 21's of the Soviet-equipped Ugandan Air Force in the process (p.229 Max Hastings Yoni: Hero of Entebbe London: Weidenfeld & Nicolson, 1979) Israel felt forced to avenge.

SBSTV Dateline 8.30pm Wednesday 24 August 2005 'Ethiopian elections fraud' (50minutes):

Presenter George Negus: Soon after close of polls in 17 April 2005 General Election it became apparent the Opposition leader Berhans Nega's 'Coalition for Democracy' would win. The Ethiopian People's Revolutionary Democratic Front (EPRDF) government halted the count and declared itself winner. It then banned all protests for one month. University students boycotted classes as an alternative to protesting.

The next day 5,000 students were 'taken away' by police in trucks. The day after taxi drivers and shop keepers went on strike. They took to the streets in sympathy with the students but Military Police opened fire killing 40 and wounding several hundred. One rural election winner Tesfaye was killed a month after the election by six policemen. He had won the election with 39,000 votes to the government candidate's only 5,000 votes. But then Tesfaye and his best friend were ambushed and shot. They went to several hospitals but were turned away from all. They set out by car for the capital. The six police then radioed ahead to have them stopped at a road block. It was claimed they were murderers. Then the six police caught up with them.

They delayed these two wounded men beside the road for six hours as "Tesfaye's stomach was slit open and his guts kicked out" according to his father. "He was killed for winning an election". Tesfaye died. His friend still has a bullet lodged in his pelvis and is now a cripple. He sought treatment at several hospital but all turned him away. At 18 years old his life is effectively over". An African Union investigation into the alleged electoral fraud has so far dismissed most Opposition witnesses as 'lacking credibility' and their complaints as 'unsubstantiated'. When the inquiry Chair was asked by Dateline about alleged bias by the Ethiopian Electoral Commission he was blunt. "You ask about bias and independence? Most people in electoral commissions are lawyers who went to school with those in power. How can you talk of 'independence'? Where does this occur?"

['Democracy' persists in West only because we trust in myths: 'unbiased' civil servants and 'free/fair' elections. Are we wiser than this cynical African or foolishly self-deceived? RE].

Deutsche Welle Radio Newslink c/- SBS Radio 93.3 FM 'Places That Changed History' 5.30am 28 August 2005 (30 minutes): Presenter Elen Tomas, panel discussion with Gregor Dallas and Zbigniew Brezinszki, US Secretary Of State under Jimmy Carter. GD: "One reason for division of Europe after WWII was decision by Roosevelt to divide Central Europe with Stalin. This was based on advice from Alger Hiss at State and Morgenthau his financial adviser. Hiss was later revealed to be a Soviet agent". (ZB becomes incensed): "to suggest Hiss ran State is McCarthyite!"

GD: "Senator McCarthy was completely sane. To suggest I'm McCarthyite is a bit low for the type of discussion we're trying to hold" ET in wrap-up: "We can see that history is not past, that even today such issues can stir people".

[No. People of ZB's sect were the sole winners in the Second Europe-wide Civil War. They fight now to preserve that victory upon which rests the jewel in the crown of their world empire, a tiny terror-staat in the Mittle-Ost, ruled by so called 'survivors'. The past can never be 'history' as long as it is used to prosecute heroes like Eric Priebke. RE].

Deutsche Welle Radio Newslink c/- SBS Radio 93.3 FM 6am Sunday 28 August 2005: From Portugal to Rumania Europe is suffering fire, flood and drought. Portugal has forest fires in 16 of its 18 provinces, Spain its worst drought since 1947 and Rumania flood.

Reporter Ian Johnson, Bagdad: US Military officials today announced plans to release up to 1,000 prisoners from the infamous Abu Graib prison. They are mainly Sunnis and most were held without charge.

DW Radio 'Newslink' c/- SBS Radio 93.3 FM 'Inside Europe' 6.20am Sunday 28 August 2005: Professor John Oxford Queen Mary's School of Medicine, London: "Germans and Dutch are attempting to prevent to spread of avian flu H5N1 into Northern Europe from Russia by keeping their domestic poultry indoors so they are not in contact with migrating wild birds. Experts suggest any avian flu pandemic in Europe could mirror the 1918 event with 50 million deaths. Minimum number of deaths would be one million".

Reporter Bill Gasparini, Moscow Air Show: Among most poplar exhibits at show this year was 'The Clipper', a miniature version of US space shuttle. 'Clipper' is designed to orbit Moon and return. Its designers speak of 'space tourism'. Russian President Vladimir Putin visited briefly before leaving for the East to observe Russian and Chinese troops conduct joint manoeuvres. These culminated in massive amphibious assault on China's Shandong Peninsula. Russian officials said this was not aimed at "intimidating" Anyone such as Taiwan but merely reflected Russia's shift in military priorities "since the collapse of Warsaw Pact."

Reporter Jerome Sokolovski, Stockholm: Sweden has 45% female members of Parliament, highest in Europe. Yet a new party, the Feminist Party, plans to push female issues back to forefront of politics. "No politician could be elected without saying he was a feminist, but it doesn't mean he's a feminist" said one commentator. Said another: "Swedish women are quitting work because they want it all: they want to socialise, be fit, to work out, to look good - they find they just don't have time to go to 'work' ". FP is running a campaign 'Men are Animals'. "For many years women have worked on women to turn them into good feminists. But now some women see men as the problem and see women as 'held back' by men's refusal to play the role assigned them by feminism. Hence the rise of the FP" [Whiners are not winners. As for 'the role assigned men by feminism' how about the role assigned women by Almighty GOD - as breeder/nurturer? Gets no mention among the unnatural Swedes. RE].

BBC World Service c/- SBS Radio 93.3 FM 'World Briefing' 4.40am Monday 29 August 2005: Bagdad: Iraq's Parliament is to vote on a new Constitution 15 October 2005. Kurds in North and Shiites in South agree with its content but Sunnis of Central Iraq are rejecting its ban on participation in government by former Baath Party members and autonomy for the South under a Federal system. US President George Bush praised new Constitution as "the most enlightened in the Arab world".

UCB News/Vision FM 87.1FM 8am Monday 29 August 2005: Presenter Tracey Were: Are calls for NSW Opposition Leader to resign after racist comments allegedly made in a speech. Liberal Mr Brogden referred to Malaysian-born wife of NSW ALP Premier Bob Carr as a "mail-order bride" and "acted inappropriately towards two female journalists". Has apologised. [Why? Bob Carr never 'apologised' for being a race-mixer. Why be 'offended' when people point it out? Original 'offence' is Carr's not Brogden's. Amazing how the Godless are 'offended' when it is occasionally pointed out to them how truly offensive they are to white, Christian society. The alien/sinner! Incredible. 'Two female journalists' are obviously Left scum who think wearing a dress gives them some special privileges. Like Carr and his monkey-whore these need a lesson in reality. RE].

Federal Liberal MP Bronwyn Bishop called for ban on the wearing of Muslim head-scarves in Australian public schools. She joins fellow Federal Liberal MP Sofi Papanopoulos who last week called the wearing of scarves "an iconic act of defiance".

SBS Radio Worldwatch 93.3FM Tuesday 30 August 2005: New Orleans has been hit by Hurricane Katrina traveling at 180 kph. 80% of the city's population had been evacuated to higher ground. Damage bill is estimated at US$35 billion.

BBC World Service c/- SBS Radio 93.3 FM 5.30am Wednesday 31 August 2005: New Iraqi Health Ministry has produced revised figures for number of children who died in country as a result of 11 years of sanctions. Claim Saddam Hussein exaggerated figures for political gain. New figures reduce number of deaths from three million to 870,000. [The 870,000 little souls will feel better knowing they are no longer part of a fraud - just a HOLOCAUST. RE]

BBC World Service c/- SBS Radio 93.3 FM 5.30am Wednesday 31 August 2005:

Harare: Zimbabwe Parliament approved sweeping changes to country's Constitution abolishing white farmers right to appeal land confiscations through the courts. Also authorises seizure of passport of anyone deemed a "threat to national security". [Which is more evil, an obvious tyrant like Mugabe or his mindless minions in Parliament? The minions. Stalin ordered millions executed but if no one had obeyed those orders those deaths would have been prevented. The minions, however, reason: "if I don't do it someone less will. And besides I'll never be held accountable - I'm only small-fry". WRONG. 87,000 white women in Australia kill their children every year. Those 87,000 murderers WILL be held accountable as a deterrent on future evil-doers. Is one thing for evil rulers to pass bad laws but those who enforce such laws and those who avail themselves of such laws will bear greater guilt. RE].

Channel Ten News 5pm Thursday 1 September 2005: Morris Inquiry into activities of 'Dr Death' Patel has been placed in limbo after Supreme Court justice Martin Moynihan agreed two senior public servants had been ridiculed by Inquiry Chief Tony Morris and Mr Morris QC had shown 'bias' in his aggressive questioning of them. Inquiry has cost six millions dollars over its 54 days of public hearings into failings of Queensland Health system.

[Result is as expected. Beattie opened a can of worms and has now closed it. Crooks remain in power. Morris will be punished now, not Patel. 87 white deaths will go un-avenged. Beattie acts surprised anyone cares he 'axed' this inquiry, bleating that he must do what the law, represented by one of his own crooked ALP appointees, demands. Ha! Next election is two years away. Dozey voters will be asleep again but several thousand more aged will be dead at hands of Beattie's Indian 'doctors'. RE].

SBSTV World News Australia 9.30pm Thursday 1 September 2005: Presenter Eamon Innes: People of Beslan, Russia today marked first anniversary of massacre one year ago of many of town's children in local school. Over 1000 men, women and children were held hostage in school's gymnasium and up to 300 died as the siege ended.

[SBS is our 'multicultural' flagship. Refuse to identify Beslan killers as MUSLIM and their victims as CHRISTIANS. Media censor what they don't like. Are distorters, not reporters. RE].

Bangkok: Three people were killed and ten injured in series of bombings across South Thailand. In one town a karaoke bar and two hotels were bombed.

Bagdad: 1,000 Shiites died in religious procession after stampede on city bridge. Followed rumours a suicide bomber was amongst them. [Since fall of Saddam Hussein many have died from 'suicide bombs' but never 1,000. Sounds like, on anniversary of massacre of Beslan's innocents, Christian GOD got Himself some revenge on Shiites who make up majority of bombers worldwide. RE].

BBC World Service c/- SBS Radio 93.3 FM 6.23am Saturday 3 September 2005: US President George Bush toured devastated city of New Orleans. Says it looked like it had been hit with "the worst weapon imaginable".

[This President issued 'Shock & Awe' opening attacks on Bagdad 20 March 2005. This 'lord of the earth' is now suffering from true 'S & A'. "God is not mocked" (Gal. 6.7). 'Worst weapon imaginable'? "Wrath of GOD" (Ex.22.24). Why destroy world's leading power and leading 'Christian' nation? 1.3 million children murdered per year in sink-hole of vilest media, film, TV and music. Obliterate hell-hole and Satan loses chief foothold in this world. Pray for more WRATH of GOD. RE].

Washington DC: Have been sharp calls from black members of Congress criticising poor preparation for, and lack of response to, Hurricane Katrina as due to 'inherent racism' of Bush Administration. Victims of disaster are overwhelmingly poor and black. Revd Jesse Jackson, speaking from Baton Rouge, capital of Louisiana, said: "the racial make-up of Louisiana Gulf Coast is poor and black. Those wealthy and able-bodied had time and means to flee. [100,000] left behind were poor and black. Lack of governmental response has been a national disgrace. How is it we had air-drops of food and water to Indonesia within two days when the Tsunami struck but we have not been able to do that in Louisiana [five days later]".

[Typical African whining. Whether in Africa or US, Caribbean or UK blacks are 'poor' because they are STUPID. Why would GOD send a Hurricane to hit a US city full of blacks? Why NOT! New Orleans has boasted for many years of its revival of Haitian voodoo, Palero and Santeria. All forms of Stan worship. US Supreme Court even defended 'right' of Santeria priests to sacrifice chickens after animal rights advocates sought to halt the practice. GOD is patient but He's no patsy. Time comes when He says: "enough is enough".

BBC World Service c/- SBS Radio 93.3 FM 5.45am Tuesday 6 September 2005: Professor Lei Shangsun on China's possible reaction to EU trade tariffs on textiles: "we have planned for this conflict. We have stand-by provisions. We already have factories in Africa and SE Asia, even in Italy, within the EU itself".

[China sees trade as 'conflict'. China in Africa? One reason against 'forgiving' debts. Will only aid Chinese banks. RE].
