

Epic: The Story of the Waffen SS

Leon Degrelle

NEW!

An ardent, unapologetic review of the dramatic history and motivating ideals of the great pan-European volunteer fighting force of World War II, of which Degrelle was one of the most illustrious figures. The gifted Belgian leader and SS combat hero describes the heroism, high standards and fervent comradeship that made Waffen SS the most storied and the most calumniated fighting force of World War II. Packed with little-known facts and striking insights. Degrelle's video presentation, first shown at the Fourth IHR Conference, has voice-over English narration.

Race and Reason

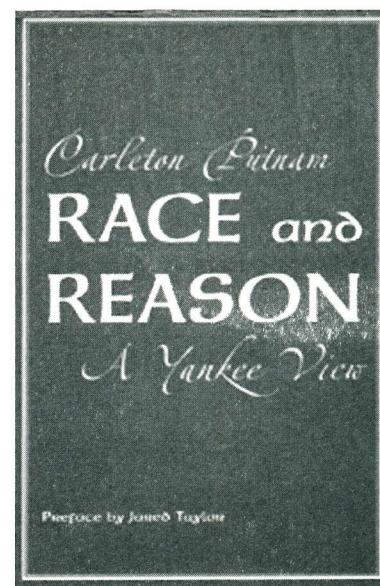

Carlton Putnam

One of the clearest, most persuasive accounts ever written of the importance of race differences for American society. Putnam's Race and Reason was tremendously influential when it first appeared in 1961, and its insights are as fresh and penetrating as ever. Reasoned, authoritative, and compellingly argued, this attractive new edition includes a preface by Jared Taylor.

Putnam explores the dangerous misguided ideology behind the Supreme Court's fateful 1954 "Brown v. Board of Education" desegregation decision. Race and Reason was made part of the high school curricula in Mississippi and Virginia, and Governor Ross Barnett of Mississippi declared October 26, 1961, "Race and Reason Day."

"No one did more to combat the racial folly of the 1960s than Carlton Putnam. Although he has been written out of the history books, history has nevertheless proven him right on all counts." -- Jared Taylor

My Life: Experiences That Shaped My Worldview

Ingrid Rimland

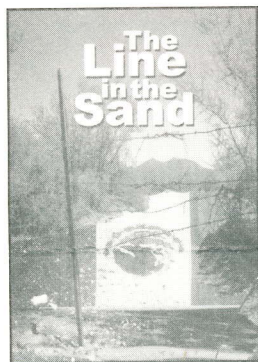

In this moving, first-person address, the wife of activist Ernst Zundel speaks about her childhood in an ethnic German community in the Soviet Union, including the arrest of her father, her liberation by German forces in 1941, her westward trek along with the retreating German soldiers, her terrible ordeal in the final months of the war and the postwar period, and her new life in South America and the USA.

The Line in the Sand

A shocking look at the illegal immigration problem. This video -- the single best one available on this hottest of hot issues -- should be viewed by everyone who cares about America. Highlights the catastrophic consequences of massive illegal immigration. Graphically depicts some of the massive environmental damage caused by illegal aliens along the dissolving border with Mexico.

The Immigration Invasion

Wayne Lutton and John Tanton

Uncontrolled immigration is drastically distorting American political, economic and cultural life. This readable, fact-packed book persuasively shows the failure of US immigration policy. It shows how illegal immigrants are a growing burden to taxpayers, how they make up more than 25 percent of the US federal prison population, and how US refugee and asylum laws are being abused.

Changing Views of Race and Society

Glayde Whitney

In a brilliant lecture, a renowned scholar relates how psychology was hijacked from its rightful place among the natural sciences to serve a specious ideology-driven agenda of egalitarianism. Whitney, a professor at Florida State University who teaches psychology and neuroscience, is also former president of the Behavior Genetics Association.

Hitler's Place in History

David Irving and Mark Weber

Two memorable talks by specialists of the Third Reich and World War II. British historian Irving reviews fraudulent historical documents that have been cited for years by "conformist" historians. Weber explains that even supposedly authoritative history books give a grotesquely unbalanced view of Hitler and his regime, and that lies about Hitler are widespread and unchallenged.

Into the Darkness: An Uncensored Report from Inside the Third Reich at War

Lothrop Stoddard

A handsome edition of an American journalist's stimulating and remarkably fair look at Third Reich Germany. Shortly after the outbreak of World War II, Stoddard went to Europe to report first-hand from the war-beleaguered Third Reich. His travels in late 1939 and early 1940 took him across Germany. Includes frank interviews with such key figures as Hitler, Himmler and Goebbels.

Year of the Rat: How Bill Clinton Compromised US Security for Chinese Cash

Edward Timperlake and William C. Triplett II

Two congressional insiders and national security specialists cast a glaring light on the most damaging scandal of the Clinton presidency: compromising American security in exchange for millions of dollars in illegal campaign contributions from foreign businessmen linked to organized crime and military and intelligence agencies of Communist China. With dust jacket, source notes and index.

Holocaust Remembrance: What's Behind the Campaign?

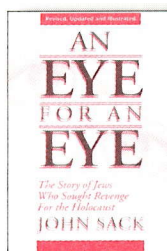

Mark Weber

This persuasive and well-referenced leaflet unmasks the real agenda, and dangerous impact, of the influential Holocaust remembrance campaign. Nails the campaign as "a one-sided effort that serves narrow Jewish and Israeli interests and bolsters Jewish-Zionist power." Designed for mass distribution, this flyer is especially suited for schools, colleges and universities.
