

ANA anti-wee water campaign:

On 28/1/07 Beattie's Qld ALP government arbitrarily decided NOT to stage a 'referendum' to test popular opinion on their plan to combat a perceived drought-induced water shortage by pumping sewerage into all dams in SE Qld.

Beattie's action came after a month-long media campaign by monopoly newspapers owned by billionaire American citizen & New York resident since 1983 Rupert Murdoch. Murdoch's Courier-Mail, Sunday Mail and his 'Quest' chain of weekly throw-away 'papers all ran the same story: 'save $10 million by not having a referendum'.

On 29/1/2007, immediately following Beattie's announcement, Howard's Federal Liberal government declared their support for Beattie's decision. This is how 'democracy' works in today's Australia: foreign-dominated media propose it, ALP dispose it and 'conservatives' simply agree. This public display of tyranny has forced ANA to state our position and the position of a growing number of people in this country.

'Is the water crisis real?' Yes & No. Defrocked priest & Brisbane Mayor Father Jim Soorley first suggested use of recycled water five years ago. He was howled down because there was no need & the recycling technology was unable to destroy the artificial oestrogen used in female contraceptive 'pill' widely taken to prevent pregnancy and facilitate immorality among our white population. This chemical could not be destroyed. When drunk as 'recycled water' it would sterilise the entire population, both male and female.

- a. Wee Of 'Others': ALP tell us 'wee-drinking is safe'. Many believe them. Are you thinking: 'my wee is OK for me'. Maybe, but you won't BE drinking only your own - all wee will be combined. Do you want wee from Darra's Vietnamese, AIDS carriers in West End and Highgate Hill, heroin addicts of the Valley and Annerley's Sudanese? You wouldn't choose to LIVE near most of these 'people' let alone allow them into your house. Yet now you welcome them into your BODY? ALP's Beattie assures us this is safe: then why don't the ALP State governments do it in Sydney or Melbourne? Because the high number of kosher in those cities find it anathema.

LIES You've been told:

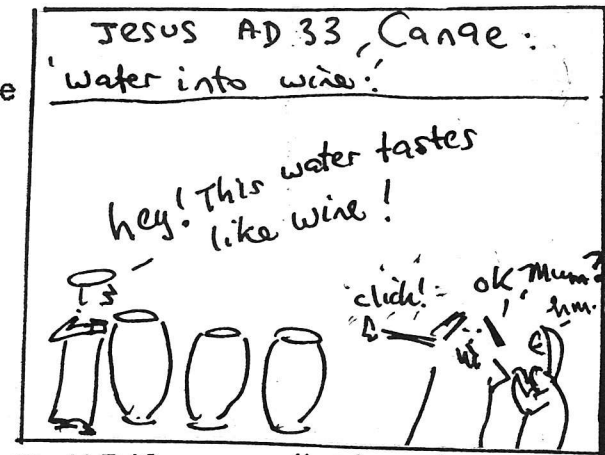

'We have a water crisis': WRONG. The ALP have declared a three year moratorium on new dams due to pressure from the Greens. Then they invite an extra 80,000 foreigners to move here per year.

The 'crisis' is one of policy and lack of planning. Is a socialist dilemma. Old joke from Soviet Union: 'if there was a Soviet Socialist Republic in the middle of the Sahara Desert within three years they'd have a sand shortage'.

(38% OF VOTERS ARE ALP SYCOPHANTS)

'Australia is the driest continent'. WRONG. Australia is the wettest but only 1.5% of our annual monsoonrun-off is harnessed by dams. The other 98.5% is allowed to run uselessly out to sea. Why no dams? ALP rule every State and Territory but ALP is an intellectually & morally bankrupt party. It has abdicated all planning to radical Greens on record as saying 'humans are a cancer that earth suffers from'. That certainly explains ALP/Green policy on population, abortion, etc.

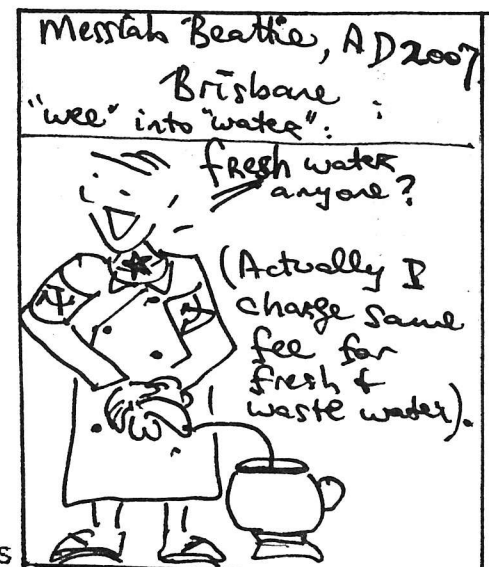

You hadn't heard this? A sterile population fits perfectly with ALP/Greens policy to reduce Australia's population to a 'sustainable' level from current 20 million to six million. This meshes with plans of PETA, an extremist anti-human Green lobby in the US which want s the world population taken from current seven billion to 1.7 billion.

In 2002 there was 'no need' so Soorley & Beattie's ALP created a 'need' by banning all dam building. Inducing a shortage is an old Kapitalist trick reinvented by the Soviets. During the 1830's potato famine in Ireland two million peasants were allowed to starve to death while British landlords continued to export potaotes from the country.

Richard Pratt: Now we are told 'water must double in price' by Richard Pratt third richest billionaire in Australia. Why must it double? 'Due to the short ages. People will then use it 'more wisely' says Pratt. 'More wisely'? What, we'll drink less or wash less? Strangely the Level Four water restrictions on SE Qld imposed on domestic house holds have NOT been applied to businesses.

'BHP': In fact Billiton (a Canadian Co. running under fake name of 'BHP') recently demanded SEVEN BILLION litres of water from Beattie's ALP government for FREE to use in their Olympic Dam (pun unintended) uranium mine. Beattie, slave of foreign Kapital, agreed.

Lead By Example? And what example has Beattie's government set? There has been no attempt to harness the rain-water run-off from ANY State-owned buildings, not from State schools roofs hospitals or courthouses, police stations, etc. NOTHING. Drinking wee is Beattie's only option and he choose it for its morally & hygienically disgusting affect. This is after his ALP-appointed Qld Electoral Commission granted him the 2006 election. He did not win. The media said he did and the crooked Conservatives agreed.

'Richy Rich' Pratt: And what of Pratt? How did he become so rich? In 2005 it was revealed he crookedly obtained the monopoly on ALL 'recycled' cardboard in Australia. An ASIC investigation was planned by ut squashed by the Howard Liberal government.

Bi-Partisan Support: On 29.1.2007, only one day after Beattie made his announcement about compulsory 'wee water' for homes, Howard's Liberals spoke out 'in support' of Beattie. The message was clear: don't expect the conservative Coalition to oppose or reverse this vile & tasteless decision. Also made clear we live in a One Party State where Lib & Lab simply take turns swapping places. When we tire of one the other takes over. Two hands on the same corrupt body politick. For a New Beginning let's dump them ALL then asset strip corrupt polities and their foreign media/industry Masters. Ban them ALL from ever holding public office in Australia again. We need Independence TODAY: Australia for Australians. One odd fact: Malcom Turnbull MP, whom Howard made responsible for 'National Water Policy' and who 'approved' Beattie decision, is member of same obscure religious sect as Pratt and Courier-Mail editor Fagan. Sect is grouped in Melbourne. Why want the rest of us to drink wee?

ACTION to Take if you oppose the foreign-media campaign to drink 'wee of Others':

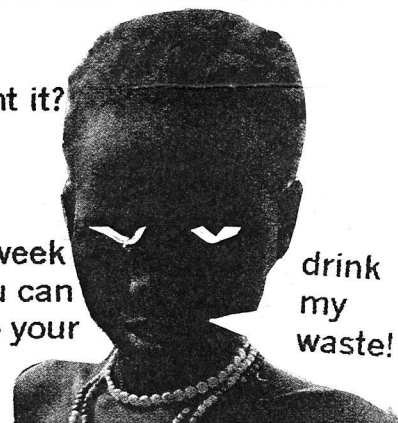

Organise a 'wee-in' at Qld Parliament House, bottom of George Street Brisbane where you all urine on the front gates while chanting slogans. If you live too far from Brisbane arrange the 'wee-in' to be outside your local MP's electorate Office if he is ALP or Liberal. Need to arrange lots of 'water' bottles for bladder filling. Also bring bottles of 'wee' from 'women who couldn't come and squat but are here in fluid'. If you're worried about hygiene re. handling other people's urine just bring along a clear bottle of Creaming Soda to pour out. It will have the same effect on your MP and the media.

Possible slogans: 'what do we want? 'Clean water'! When do we want it? Now!'

OR 'What do we want?' 'Beattie OUT!' 'When do we want it?' 'NOW!'

OR 'Out Out, Pee-WEE Beattie!'

Publicise to ALL local media, print, radio & television at least one week beforehand. Take your own cameras/mobile phone cameras so you can run your own publicity if controlled media censor or ignore you. Do your own flyers using these photos.

A Mail-in of turds to ALP HQ: 'Beattie's ALP wants our wee? Send them your turds as well. Be careful to seal your envelope/padded bag so the smell does not escape or the PO may not deliver it. For this reason dried turds may be best. Our rural friends might try cow pats and our urban friends dog droppings. For the serious supporters only human waste will do but these take longer to dry out. Contact a friend who has a baby still on formula: these produce nice 'pellet poos'. Send your 'package': Secretary Qld ALP c/- TLC Building 16 Peel St South Brisbane Q 4101. Ph. 07 3844 8101. Also to your local ALP/Liberal MP's.

Film Review: Mel Gibson co-wrote, co-produced and directed Apocalypto a 200 minute epic. Having read the reviews from the controlled media before going to see it I was biased against it but was determined to donate to this anti-Hollywood icon. The reviewers said: "is like Predator (sic) " "an endless chase pic" and of course "Mel is an anti-Semite". This last was the only positive endorsement any gave it. They were all wrong. Like blind men staring at a strong light these fools saw nothing.

Mel is a traditional Catholic. All the 'flak' he has received from the Hollywood mafia since directing Passion of the Christ has apparently only hardened his beliefs. This film is an agit-prop for self confident, resurgent Christianity, much like old 1930's Soviet-era agit-prop pieces denouncing Tsarism. The formula is: 'old System is corrupt & carries seeds of its own demise; a few wise individuals foresee a better life; ends with 'Red flag/Red Star' waving in the breeze & massed choir singing of 'Revolution' while 'the few' move forward under the Soviet banner. They alone embrace the future. Mel follows the old Soviet model exactly. Why did none of the controlled media admit this?

Mel's hero lives in a type of Eden, a Central American paradise: 'America before the Americans arrived'. Just as in the original Eden there is a 'fly in the ointment'. 15 minutes into the film our hero has a visions telling him to 'flee!' He does, so rescuing his wife and child from raiding Aztecs. These slaughter and enslave all, taking them to the Aztec capital for human sacrifice. As we pass from this 'Eden', now covered in flames and draped in corpses, we almost hear Mel intone: 'paradise without GOD is doomed'. All attempts at earthly 'heaven', whether Socialist utopia or a Capitalist shopping mall, are destined to fail, leaving the heart and soul empty, and also the wallet.

Mel's hero is captured and we journey across a wasteland of burned villages. None can defeat the all-conquering Aztecs. This is where some reviewers wrongly saw Mel making an anti-George Bush message. No, is the Biblical story: all empires collapse, no matter how dominant they seem to those oppressed by them. Only one Kingdom is eternal. As the captives approach the capital the freakish nature of their new rulers is revealed: mutants, deformed priests and priestesses, dwarves. The net effect of 15 minutes of this is akin to 'Cantina' scene in Star Wars but these are human aliens, making them even more repulsive. Beyond redemption, they must be destroyed. The hero, Jaguar Paw, manages to escape but after a 30 minute chase, he is about to be killed when he arrives on the beach just as the first Conquistadors appear and begin landing.

The final scene reminds us of the ending to 1955 horror pic Lord of the Flies. His pursuers are overcome by their curiosity and JP slips away to rejoin wife and child. Arrival of the Spanish, slipping silently towards shore, is beautiful. Their self-confidence & cleanliness, contrasted with the depraved savages only minutes before killing & maiming each other, is truly shocking. We are left in no doubt that 'the future' has arrived and it will be so much better than the living hell that has gone before it. Is another triumph for Mel. When history of Western cinema is written the Ben Afflecks, Adam Sandler's, Dustin Hoffmans and all their Kazar drivel will be deleted. From this new 'dark age' that envelops us Mel's great body of work alone will shine.

Dispensing the cure for a sick society

■ by Gary Bates

A recent newspaper article reported on the 25th anniversary of the well-known US Christian ministry, Focus on the Family. It said that: 'even after Focus has spent [US$] 1.5 billion to promote his [Dr James Dobson's] version of biblically based parenting practices other forces have prevailed. "Wherever you choose to stick the thermometer, you can see that we are a nation in a great deal of trouble," Dr Dobson said.' Further on, the article states: 'But Dr Dobson says the ministry has little to show for its long-running opposition to abortion, pornography and gay rights. There are signs too that the family values movement is losing steam.'

ANA recommend anti-System outfits like AiG.
