TO THE MAJORITY OF AUSTRALIAN VOTERS

So you voted ALP on 24th Decembis 2007? You were annoyed at the Howard government's misconceived Industrial Relations 'reforms' which, like all 'reforms' these past 30 years, punished Australian workers and rewarded foreign/parasite Kapital. But before you 'sent Howard a message' thru the ballot box by electing K.RUDD & his gang maybe you should have thought twice... What were Rudd's OTHER policies - apart from his pledge to 'scrap the IR laws'?

FOREIGN POLICY - TIMOR LESTE: ALP opposed Howard government's 1999 move into East Timor when it saved the pro-democracy movement from murderous pro-Indonesian militia's. In contrast, for 25 years the ALP supported Indonesia's Occupation beginning with Whitlam's 1975 'green light' dictator general Suharto to invade. Everything thereafter, including death of five Australian reporters, may be laid at the ALP's door. If ALP had been in power Federally in 1999 there would have been NO Australian intervention: Timor would still be under Occupation.

INDONESIA: Before 1995 election of Howard's government Australia's foreign policy was at the mercy of two powerful lobbies within our Foreign Affairs Department. One faction worshipped Chinese Communism. The other was a lapdog to Indonesian militarism. Neither sought to represent Australia's interests. John Howard wrestled control of foreign policy from these 'agents of foreign influence', but only for a time. Any return of ALP power would release these enemies to again sell out Australia's national interests.

FISCAL POLICY: ALP is a social democratic party. As such is committed to an irrational financial policy which places 'wants' of 'human capital' before 'needs' of the nation. ALP will lavish money on 'social programmes' despite US example where its 40-year 'war on poverty' (1964-2004) cost US$4 trillion but made no appreciable reduction in poverty. Is a maxim that the more money Western governments devote to 'poverty alleviation' the more poor appear.

REPUBLIC: Before 1999 ALP stridently supported moves for an Australian Republic. Since 1999 defeat of Referendum ALP has gone silent. Have they have changed? NO! They want to imitate their US allies, the Democratic Party, and impose a Presidential-style ruler. Then why do neither ALP nor their lapdog media mention it? Rudd is on a 'dream run' from Australia's pro-Left media, many of them ex-hippies who still fondly regard the drug & sex befuddled 1960's as some sort of Utopia. Some, like 35 year-veteran reporter Maxine McKew, could not wait for Rudd to be elected but openly joined the ALP as candidates to better ensure Rudd's victory. Prompts one to assume how many of the remaining media were simply ALP stooges posing as 'journalists'.

AUSTRALIA'S MEDIA: are notorious for 'cover-ups' for those they favour in return for 'perks' once their pets are elected. Corruption is a word no reporter uses of their own industry but 'influence peddling' is the sole reason most Australian newspapers exist. During ALP rule 1983-95 Rupert Murdoch's 'The Australian' cost him AUD$1 million per year to run. Was happy to run at a lose so he could claim to have sole 'national newspaper' with his paper alone read by every politician in Australia each day. Was worth a million dollars a year to have their exclusive attention.

UNIONS: Despite John Howard's scare campaign few believed ALP would 'unleash' union 'wildmen' into Australia's economy. No one has forgotten it was ALP Prime Minister, and former ACTU

President Bob Hawke, who in 1987 emasculated the unions. Following a joint ALP-ACTU study mission to Sweden he commissioned 'Australia Reconstructed', a blue-print for reducing our 300 unions down the 20.

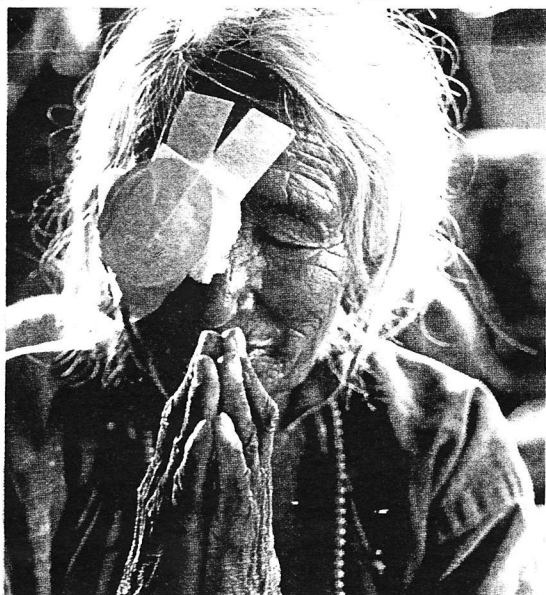

Was part of ALP policy to rule through elite or 'peak bodies'. Also ushered in rule by Hawke's 'kitchen cabinet' of billionaires, another 'peak body': Alan Bond, Robert Holmes A'Court, Christopher Skase, Arvi Parbo. We went from being a Parliamentary Democracy to a fiefdom of plutocrats. This is what a return to ALP rule promises. Big Media, Big Business and Big Unions at the top table. For the other 20 million of us - the doghouse.

PIEBALD POSSIBILITIES-A LITTLE AUSTRALIAN CHRISTMAS FAMILY PARTY OF THE FUTURE

The Bulletin (magazine) (1885)

Perth, like every Australian capital city, has been plagued by 'unexplained murders' for years. In 1970's Adelaide ALP's Don Dunstan allowed 400 men and boys to be raped, 14 of them to death, by 'The Family' cult. Only one was gaoled and he refuses to talk. Qlder Daniel Morcombe disappeared in 2003 under Beattie's ALP. ALP's former NT Chief Minister 'suicided' in Februa 2008 to avoid facing charges of paedophilia. In Februa 2008 NSW ALP's former Minister Orkopoulos faces charges of child molestation. Former Qld ALP Opposition Leader Keith Wright went to gaol for nine years for same thing. Former Qld ALP Cabinet Minister Bill D'Arcy was released from 15 years gaol by 'Red Anna' Bligh in December 2007, after only nine years. The charges? Paedophilia. Wherever ALP rules child rapes sky-rockets. ALP support for Abo land rights suggests their name stands for: Abos Lesbians & Paedophiles.

Please Buddha,
Let me into Australia!

Immigration: The African flood only began in earnest under the Howard Liberal government (1995-2007). Was an old trick. Was also Howard who outlawed private ownership of four million Australia firearms. ALP had wanted to ban these for years but was too afraid of the 'electoral backlash' so System Masters got allegedly 'Right-wing' Howard to do it. Rightists were gob-smacked but had no options - they couldn't vote for the Left. In the same way the controlled media have fed us since 1983 endless images of US black rap 'singers' cavorting with nubile white girls, e.g. Britney Spears, Kylie Minogue, etc. so our youth see black-white couplings as 'normal'. After 20 years of this 'rock n roll' brainwashing we've had five years of 'the tragedy of Darfur' in the Sudan. While media ignore crisis in East Timor, 150 miles off our coast, they devoted vast amounts of air-time to Darfur. Why?

Were no 'refugees' coming from Timor. Coincidentally the first influx of African 'refugees' arrived here. All claim to be from 'Darfur'. Cute. In 2001 Australia was plagued with illegal 'boat people'. 8,000 young men of military age arrived on our Northern Coast. All claimed to be 'Afghans'. None had means of identification as all had destroyed these to prevent immediate deportation. Lengthy ID searches revealed NONE were Afghans. Instead were either Iraqi Kurds or Pakistanis. All chose the most emotive label to aid them in gaining a foothold. Now Africans use the 'Darfur' tag to the same end. Would anyone even know of Darfur if the controlled, pro-immigration, anti-white media had not given it endless airplay, mentally conditioning out foolish people to 'feel' for the 'helpless blacks'?

Now these black vagabonds prey on white youths in our towns and cities. They steal their jobs and after dark their lives. Many are chronically ill and step straight from the airplane and into a hospital bed, which many never leave. Imagine you want a future population. Would you willingly choose from amongst a group who has the lowest mental power, no education, no health, a history of violence and come from a land which has been without a government or any laws for 40 years? NOT! Yet this is what Liberal, and now ALP, governments do. Think of all the deserving whites trapped in South Africa who cannot migrate to Australia because they do not have the AUD$10,000 cash demanded by our alien-staffed Immigration Department? What an asset these would be compared to the alien refuse now being imported. Has this country a death wish?

'Death of a Thousand Cuts': When your poor foolish Liberal or ALP voter rolls up to their local hospital and finds all beds full of Abos and Africans suffering Third World diseases and he/she cannot gain admission maybe, just before they expire in the back of the ambulance, they'll give a thought to the nonsense we call 'equity' and 'immigration'. Maybe, but don't count on it. They will not draw the obvious conclusions. Their minds, trained by what Keith Windshuttle calls "the guilt industry", will reject the obvious. In fact their entire mental conditioning will doom them.

A Role For White Nationalists: Our job as white nationalists is to use simple examples the dumbed-down public have seen and experienced for themselves, such as water shortages and hospital queues, to introduce them to the wider idea: 'you are doomed: your own 'government' wants you dead'. Because this is so hard to accept they instead reject us, the truth-tellers. Is better to start with the immediate, smaller problems they can easily grasp than leap straight to the 'big picture'. DO NOT say 'its all part of the Jewish Conspiracy! Read the Protocols of Zion, Kamerad!' Instead say: 'gee, lots of sick Africans are coming here. I wonder if that has something to do with the shortage of hospital beds?' Let the listener do the rest of the thinking, putting two-and-two together. In this way they feel they 'own' the idea. It will be gratifying a few days later when you hear them say 'gee, what're all these Africans doin' taking our hospital beds!' Remember the saying: 'a journey of a thousand miles (to political consciousness) begins with one step'.

As of this issue of STORM we are sending out additional 'ANA Membership Applications' with each issue. Please feel free to dispose of these amongst friends & associates, at public places, etc. Since K.RUDD's 24th Novembis '07 election victory many on the 'Right' are in despair. We at ANA are not. The ALP's 'clean sweep' of all State, Territory and now Federal governments leaves no middle ground for Conservatives to hide in. Both Liberals and Nationals have failed. Is now only one choice: ANA, AFP and other Ultra-Right parties OR the de facto alliance of ALP/Greens/Democrats. This hollow 'victory' of the Left means they will have no one to blame when the economy goes bad after the China-driven resources boom goes bust, etc. We are therefore going 'on the offensive' by expanding: help us 'spread the word' to those unfamiliar with ANA. The middle ground is vanishing. Is an ideal situation for groups like ours.

New Flyers & Stickers: ANA will be sending supporters samples of different flyers. Each will deal with a different 'topic' the general public have raised with us. We urge members to consider each flyer and decide for themselves which best suits the needs of their local area. E.g. do you live in the 'mortgage belt'? Phone us for more 'mortgage' flyers. Are there Africans moving into your local area, at your kids school or even in your workplace? Send for our 'Africans' flyer. In this way we will reach 'niche' or segment markets. We realise what concerns one segment of the population does not necessarily interest others. This new strategy allows ANA to spread our 'net' much wider than before thus enlarging our pool of potential recruits. We also have a new range of stickers.

Such campaigns achieve two things: 1. Gets 'attention' from the public as not just being 'on about race' all the time. 2. It frightens the System into thinking we are broadening our base away from purely 'race/migration' into other issues that encourage 'feedback' from the general public. THAT frightens them. They love to keep us trapped in our 'ghetto'. Let's copy the tactics of the Left. No area of conflict should be denied us as a venue to gain recruits.

The symbol representing White Australian Resistance is the combination of the Sunwheel and the Southern Cross.

The Sunwheel - an ancient Norse and Celtic symbol - represents law, order and the forces of nature.

The Southern Cross, famous from the Eureka Stockade, symbolizes deep nationalism, social justice and the struggle for our people's rights.

In the unification of these symbols, we represent both our European roots and our continued determination for the survival of White people and civilization on the Australian continent.

Oh, Shrek

When the law gets in the way of a good story.

Let us proceed without disclaimers to the facts, as presented by Northern Territory police media:

"A 63-year-old man has been found safe and well after he failed to return from a walk on Monday evening.

"At about 6pm on Monday, November 21, the man went walking with his donkey and dog in a northerly direction from Daguragu, approximately 12km north of Kalkaringi which is situated 470km west of Katherine.

"When the two animals returned to the community but the man failed to, members of the community notified Kalkaringi police."

Some, when seeing the word "donkey", transpose it with "vermin". Others, at this time of year, soften and remember a man who journeyed with his pregnant wife, to a stable in Nazareth, on donkey-back. Or was that ass-back?

Whatever, The Bulletin rang Kalkaringi police seeking to find more of this man and his donkey (and, if we had to, dog). We wanted to know whether the donkey had done a heroic Lassie, bolting home to raise the alarm. We wanted to know many more things besides.

Sergeant Shayne Warden failed to return two calls. On the third, he came to the phone not realising a journalist was on the line. Warden was brief: "Direct any questions to the police media unit. Goodbye."

A scandal, perchance? Alas, no. Just another example of the way governments and their sidekick organisations like to know exactly what journalists are up to. And to "assist" in any way they can.

It got really rotten when states and territories went Labor, which rate good media coverage more highly than good policy. Journalists are now not allowed to ring any government employee and ask them anything. If a public servant - policeman, fireman, doctor, nurse, soldier - did speak, they could be sacked.

So it is over to the hordes of junior spin-doctors, who very kindly offer to lessen your burden by undertaking to fully investigate any story, on your behalf.

You, the reader, won't need to be told who they're really trying to make donkeys of.

The press release said the nameless man was expected to make a full recovery.

The donkey is to be shot. Or given a medal.
