24.12.05

Dear Wayne,

Many thanks for your two letters received a while ago. The end of the year is a very busy time for me and I have little time for writing. On top of it your letter raised interesting points to which I had to reply in depth.

Cosmotheism is a race based religion....Where does it say that? Every race on earth can use it, unless it is tied up to the White race but then it will be attacked as a racist religion. And it can only be tied up to the White race if it is part of our history, in the same way that the old testament is part of Jewish history, which White idiots have swallowed hook, line and sinker.

The Church of a Cosmotheist society would be the university... An elitist church is no church at all, just a little clique of not even like minded people paid by multinationals to peddle their wares. Universities have been our downfall, not our strength and most university lecturers should be put against a wall and shot. Same goes with religious leaders who poisoned our people with universalist ideas. The problem as the historian Paul Johnson put is so well, is that intellectuals are the destroyers of nations. Soldiers build empires and intellectuals destroy them. The intellectual will find a thousand reason why things cannot be done, while the soldier will just do them. Any movement started by university intellectuals is bound to be doomed, as it will cause endless debates and disagreement. Academia is the worst thing for innovation. University lecturers write books which they sell to students. They will fight like vultures to prevent any new idea to hit the market as their books would suddenly become obsolete. Why do you think ancient history, except for the orthodoxy, does not appear in history books? You will learn more by reading the Barnes Review, than by studying history at University. That is the tragedy.

We can imagine a graduation ceremony, ringing with the sounds of Beethoven...I personally love Beethoven and the classics, however a religion must have a universal appeal or it is doomed to fail. YOUNG PEOPLE DO NOT CARE ONE IOTA ABOUT BEETHOVEN.(In fact the Beethoven most people know is the St.Bernard dog in the film.) They want beat. The majority of our young people do not make it to university. They are the soldiers in the field, the ones facing the invasions, the T-Lymphocytes of the race. These are the people you want as followers. Ever heard of a University professor fighting in the trenches? They would be too scared, same as the clergymen who are forever telling others how to go to heaven, but who are themselves shit-scared to die. The most important thing in a pyramid is the base. That is what you have to care for. The intellectuals are the tip of the pyramid, but if the base is weak, the tip will soon keel over. Do me a great favour: select any charismatic church and go to an evening service. You will see what religion really is. And that is the enthusiasm you need for a church, not a bunch of fuzzy duddies at university. Christianity started among the slaves of Rome, the down trodden, those in need. You have got to offer hope to those, for they are the base of your pyramid. Without the masses, no religion is possible.

Yes indeed, civilisations decline after a period of irreligion. As Spengler said, the 17th century was the climax of our culture. Great paintings, great music. God was in the soul of the artists. But as he said, when those artists started painting railway stations.....The Renaissance in fact signified the end of the culture and the beginning of civilisation. Religion stopped being monolithic and shattered into pieces. The Protestant reformation was in fact sounding the death knell of Christianity. People could oppose the orthodoxy and could break the taboos. The genie was out of the bottle. From then on, religion adapted to just about any aberrations in the decadence of the civilisation. Queer weddings is just the latest. Man was condemned to hell fire, for something which 50 years down the line was quite permissible. Everything became relative. Today we have the religion of non-religion as explained in the article I sent you. In fact the greatest fear of any religion is of being found out, and the most complicated the religion, the easiest it is to demolish it. The strength of Islam is due to its simplicity. No multi-headed God, just Allah, Mohammed the prophet and his book the Koran. Compare that to Catholicism...That is why there is a lot less sects in Islam than in Christianity. The Koran is fairly simple to understand for the average man, while the Bible is Jewish through and through, leading to schisms and controversy.

Indeed, the whole natural order is BALANCE. Any amount of chaos will ultimately end up in balance. The forces at work will spend themselves and peace will be re-established, but, the problem for us is, what type of peace? And what happens in between? Chaos is opportunity, but then again, chaos is destruction and nobody can predict the outcome of chaos. As you state, at present, chaos reigns supreme, leading to greater chaos. We have reached the last stage of our civilisation and it is just a question of time before the collapse, which cannot be avoided. The problem is managing the collapse in such a way that we can survive the crisis.

I agree with you entirely that sexual mores are largely responsible for the collapse of the birth rate. Of course today the pill and abortion are the greatest obstacle to our race increasing. Behind that is democracy the religion of our time, run by Jews. Any nation banning the pill or abortion would be under attack by the forces of the NWO. It would be declared an act against the democratic religion. The government of that country would be overthrown forthwith. As you say, Catholicism has ceased to be a force to be reckoned with while Islam is on the march. We do not breed, they breed! It is the truth, though a bit simplistic. Islam can be used against our Jewish enemies. No Western government would declare the holocaust a farce. The president of Iran, just did it on television in front of 60 million Iranians and plenty other Muslims. Islam is a tool like many others and we can use that tool, providing we learn how.

Indeed, there is no guarantee that we can climb the mountain again, however, it is no use running around like chickens without heads. It is said that the brave man dies only once, but that the coward dies a thousand times. We must worry about tomorrow if we have children, that is. If we haven't, there is no tomorrow in any case, so why worry. What I see at present, is a situation, where there will be a natural selection. The duds, as I call childless couples and queers, and aliens, in the cities and our people outside. At present the duds are running the show. But reduction is a natural reaction to over-population, either in the cities or in places like Europe where people live on top of one another. What we see is a flight to the suburbs by the White populations, leaving the wogs and the misfits in urban ghettos which will explode in due course. The healthy elements which have moved to suburbia are breeding, maybe not as well as we would like, but they are. The White man needs space to breed and our over-populated countries do not have any. There must therefore be a balance between over-population and livable condition. Chaos is coming and chaos is opportunity.

My objection to the word "REMNANT" is its negativity. Whether true or false, remnants are losers. They are the end of the road and just waiting to be mopped up. If you start a church, you must want to conquer, to expand, not wait to be liquidated. If you cannot think like a WINNER, you will never become a winner. If I had to start a church, I would call it the EURO COSMOTHEIST CHURCH. Not White, as it would bring down the house over your head, but EURO would be an indication of origin, not race. There are Afro Americans, for example, why not Euro Americans? It will attract Euro people. And you will not be discriminating against other breeds. They are not Euros. It can also be pointed out that the Black Muslims do not welcome other breeds into their ranks.

As to be disappointed with the racist movement, what did you expect? Most of them have already a religion; ARSEHOLE-ISM. Indeed most of them are complete idiots and would not understand the concept even if you shuffled it down their throats. In any case, one does not preach to the converted. You want to make new converts, so you must go to other people with a religious streak. And find somebody with the gift of the gab, to sell the concept. But then, you must have something to give them. At the moment, you only have a vague concept. As to nobody wanting to take up the cause, very simple...YOU ARE NOT YOURSELF PREPARED TO TAKE UP THE CAUSE, so how can you expect others to do it? On top of that you are a pessimist. You do not believe in your story. How can anyone succeed in any endeavour, if he is not optimistic about its success. Even the criminal is an optimist. If he was a pessimist, he would not be a criminal.

Your letter 29/11/05

What is an American? A good question. What is a South African? A geographic location without content. An American can be anybody from the tip of Alaska to Tierra del Fuego. A European, on the other hand is accepted as a "White person of European origin". That does not include the new version Europeans forced on White Europe. But that includes White people wherever they are in the world. That is why we must use the term Euro, rather than White. As to an American future necessarily being white, that is revolution not quite understandable. If Whites are not prepared to stand by what they are, there is nothing you can do. As Eric explained in one of his letters, the Poseidon adventure is a good example of behaviour. A large proportion of passengers chose to stay where they were and wait for deliverance, while others headed upward toward the bottom of the ship where possible deliverance ^{was}. Not all of them made it, but those who did survived. The greatest danger for us is maintenance of the status quo. That is why chaos must be created, it does not matter by whom. A response must be triggered in our brethren which will activate the self-defence mechanism. In the human body some bacteriological or viral invasions do not trigger the immune system. So doctors inject the patient with a virus which will trigger the immune system and in that way destroy both the virus and the invader. To look at America only through the eyes of New York and Las Vegas is not the full picture. There are a lot of good people who can be activated and who would be prepared to fight if necessary. The problem is that at present they do not understand what is at stake. IT IS SIMPLY A FAILURE OF PROPAGANDA. Those who should be using their talents in that direction, prefer running around the woods with a swastika on their arm and a rifle, shouting Hail to all and sundry. They could just as well wear Roman uniform and shout AVE to all who meet them. The Blight Wing movement is just carnival for the fools. ONE CANNOT REFIGHT YESTERDAY'S WAR.

A religion, like a trade union or a political movement, MUST FULFILL A NEED. Without a need there cannot be any of them. The rich have little needs for them but the poor a lot. To base a religion on rich people is like expecting the bosses to join the trade unions. Your market is among the masses and that is where you must go. Fill the needs of the poor OPPRESSED Whites and the rest will follow eventually. Help the downtrodden Whites to regain their dignity and they will be grateful. Adolf Hitler built the National Socialist religion on the workers, not the elite of Germany who in fact were quite hostile, until it eventually benefited them. All the same they could never be trusted and in fact, quickly turned coat when power shifted. Christianity was built on the slaves of Rome. There again, the elites joined up when it suited them and used the religion to advance their interests. When Christianity became a thorn in the flesh for Constantine, he just joined it and blended it with all the pagan religions at the time to make it a state religion and a mean of oppression of the masses. The biblical texts were changed accordingly. From "our enemies are the rulers of this world" (meaning Rome) we now find that "governments are ordered by God". While before Rome was the enemy, now God tells you to obey its rule.

A scientifically factual religion would divide myth believer from the rational... That in itself is an oxymoron since religion is MYTH. Rational people have no need for religion in the first place. Faith is not rational, faith is belief in myths. The problem is that people CANNOT HANDLE TRUTH. They must believe that there is something else to their dreary lives. Religion offers the proverbial carrot to the human donkey. Salvation from Christianity, magic bullets from science, it is all part of a mythological make-up which is essential to man's life. We must believe in myths. What is left without them? A dreary 8 to 5 working life full of unhappiness which ends up in death. In this world there are no frontiers anymore, no discoveries. All that is left is sex, drugs and alcohol and no hope. I was reading the other day in a newspaper article that today's generation is a lost generation and I must agree with the content. Every young person today is cracked psychologically. These young people ARE YOUR MARKET, if you can offer them something different. Yes indeed they want excitement in their dull life, and they want "war", for war straightens the individual. They want heroes, people they can look up to, not the Michael Jackson of this world. These are the people you want on your side. Hitler said: "Wie ein Volk retten will, kan nur heroisch denken" (Who want to save a people must think heroically). And that is the crux. But for the religion to succeed among the young, it must talk the language of the young, not of the fuzzy daddies' at University.

I have received your booklets which I passed around. Reaction nil. Same as with your 227 "leaders". Wrong people. You need religion-inclined people to follow a religion. And as I explained to you, you do not have a religion, you have the basis for a religion, not the same thing at all. And you cannot expect other people to do it for you. YOU MUST DO IT YOURSELF. How many of these groups you want me to start, have you ever created in Vancouver? I would guess A BIG ZERO. If you have faith in your own philosophy, go out and make converts. From those converts, you will make missionaries.

I have absolutely no doubt that if the niggers could cut our throats, they would do it with great enjoyment. Remember, I live in South Africa, where in the last 10 years, 35 000 Euros have been murdered. But then another 300 000 Blacks were killed as well, which shows that is not all a racial business, it is plain African business. BUT I WOULD NOT LIKE TO LIVE ANYWHERE ELSE. It is chaos, but chaos is freedom.

I will mention here a few steps in the creation of a proper religion.

a) it must have a God . A godless religion will not last very long as it will not fulfil the needs of its adherents. GOD IS SIMPLY THE POWER OF THE UNIVERSE, and can be all things to all man. Nobody is going to contradict you on that

b) a religion, especially a racial one, must have a GENESIS. Where do we come from? I do not know if you can see the constellation of ORION in Vancouver . This is one of the most beautiful in the Southern sky. I could see it in Switzerland as well. Our forefathers came from a solar system near to Mintaka, a star in the belt of Orion. With the degradation of this solar system, they were forced to leave their planet and find a new home somewhere in the Universe. They came to our solar system , first landing on Mars, where they stayed for a while until the planet got bombarded with huge meteorite which destroyed its atmosphere . they were able to leave before the impact and move to earth. The only remnants on Mars are a giant man's face , a White man's face, surrounded by pyramids in geometric positions. This came on one NASA photo only before the probe is supposed to have gone on the blink. The Orion connection is the basis of the Osirian religion. After many peregrinations , they were able to built a civilisation which we call today Atlantis probably on the big island of Antarctica when that island was positioned at the same latitude as Cape Town. From that position they moved to various locations: South and Central America , India , China, the Islands of the Pacific .Everywhere there are traces and legends about the White men and their machines.

You can write about the battle between the Sons of Light and the Sons of Darkness and the ancient Indian writing, the defeated Sons of Darkness became the famous fallen angels in various religions. You can talk of Tihuanaco with its bas-reliefs showing men with beard in long robes. Obviously Whites, as Amerindians do not have beards. And then the GREAT CATASTROPHE, what the Bible calls the flood, where the Earth surface shifted on its axle 11500 years ago and wiped out most humanity. The remnants of Atlantis ended in various places , like Egypt, China, India. All the above have been mentioned by serious researcher and mystic. Churchward, Edgar Cayce, lately Hancock and others. The Mars settlement was the subject of a book by a Cape Town author with an Italian name. I cannot remember the title or the author's name. The sequence of events can be changed somehow, however the story, true or false, it is immaterial, can be the subject of a genesis.

c) an astral religion must have rites where suns and stars are included. I was reading a book a while ago about the French Waffen SS in Pomerania. In it , was mentioned the Winter Solstice ceremony where the entire battalion, each soldier carrying a torch walked toward the top of a hill to throw their burning bundle on the pyre symbolizing the new Sun. A moving experience for men most of which were going to die in the next weeks. National Socialism offered the masses spectacles and rituals in which everybody participated. The whole German nation was on the stage. Each German was part of the acting team, somewhere at some time or other. It created a fantastic feeling of belonging between all Germans. BELONGING...that is the basis of all religions. We are family, we are one...as the song says. And that sense of belonging can only be created with rituals, with singing, with helping each other ✓

d) when you have your genesis, you can teach the philosophy. It is not your invention , it is the philosophy of the Ancient people, the CHILDREN OF ORION , this is the philosophy of the universe, which every White person should follow, Cosmotheism, which came down in the ancient writing of India and Egypt. Cosmotheism is not against other religions. On the contrary it accepts the sacred books of other religions, each one, at one time or the other, confirmed the truth of Cosmotheism.

e) as rules of life, the 10 commandments are fine, since they are copies of the Codex Hammurabi. Added to that we have the laws of nature which cannot be changed since they are immutable . The law against mixed breeding must be very strong as this is the obvious danger to our breed. Old Testament sayings on the subject must be used.

WHAT I HAVE STRESSED ABOVE FORM THE BASIS OF ANY RELIGION. YOU HAVE A GENESIS, YOU HAVE RITUALS, YOU HAVE LAWS, YOU HAVE TABOOS, AND MOST IMPORTANT, YOU HAVE A BOOK.

Now you go in the field. You need a building. Converts must be able to convene somewhere for services. You will need music and musicians. You will have to print prayer books. You will have to offer a service to the community, in order to have people attending your services. Always remember that you are a
